Report Suggests Community Settlement Plan Be Studied

Say Also That Fifteen Per Cent Ex Service Men Should Be Employed On All Public Works.

OTTAWA, June 4—Appointment for a period of 18 months of a commission whose functions would embrace a study of ways and means of establishing Canadian ex-service men in jobs was recommended in an exhaustive report by Mr. Justice J. D. Hyndman, tabled in the House of Commons yesterday. Such a commission would consist of three men representing the government, commerce and war veterans' organizations, with the government's nominee as chairman.

Its duties would include the examination of the feasibility of establishing unemployed veterans in communities, giving them small holdings to work, after a fashion of the various ex-service men's villages in the United Kingdom. The commission would also set in motion the machinery to this end.

Other tasks assigned the commission would be placing men in jobs through the operation of voluntary sub-commissions established throughout Canada and encouraging men to undertake individual employment along lines indicated in the recommendations.

If gold-mining operations were carried on extensively veterans might be employed in clearing land and in surface work. The work of authorized reforestation by the provincial governments and pulp and paper companies, says the report, might be suitable for many ex-service men. It was also suggested that radio license collectors might be appointed from the lists of partially disabled veterans, since this was part-time work they could perform suitably.

Establishment of a corps of commissioners in the principal cities of Canada, along lines of similar organizations in the United Kingdom, should be considered by the proposed commission "if such corps were organized through Canada, most unformed positions might well be filled by ex-service men," says the report.

15 Percent Quota

More immediately the report recommends it be specifically laid down in provincial and Dominion government contracts for public works that, whenever available, not less than 15 percent of those employed be ex-service men. This proposition should be maintained on all canals, harbor works supported by public funds.

The Hyndman Report asks investigation by the Canadian National Railways management into the question of seniority of those employees who received leave of absence to enlist, but who, on their return, found their posts filled with men junior to them. At the same time the postmaster-general is asked to inquire into complaints that the veterans preference is not being fully observed in some post offices. Complaint was also made that some employees, in addition to their part-time post office positions, were engaged in private occupations, and also that during rush periods the permanent part-time employees were not given the temporary full-time jobs which developed.

Unemployment Aid

In the matter of unemployment assistance to small pensioners, the report makes 16 recommendations. It discussed the Imperial veterans.

"The department at present grants relief to an Imperial pensioner who is in need of same, provided he was domiciled in Canada prior to Dec. 1, 1924. We are recommending this date be extended to Jan. 1, 1935. With regard to the Imperial non-pensioners it was strongly urged upon us that having

Senator Foster Bobs Up

Senator Walter Foster whom his Liberal Colleagues had hoped was safely stored away on the Senate benches at Ottawa has bobbed up again. This time the Ex-Premier of New Brunswick showed up at a Liberal Convention in Kings, where his son is a candidate. He cannot be blamed for trying to help his boy who is really a very decent chap, out of a hole, but when the Liberals up here had it put up to them that the Honorable Walter might come up here and give them a spiel they decided that they had better keep him as far away from Fredericton as possible.

During the time that he was accidentally Premier of the Province Premier Foster succeeded in turning away from the party in this vicinity many of its best supporters. Men who had for years fought the Liberal Party's battles at the polls and elsewhere and who had contributed of their time and money to keep the party pot boiling were treated with the grossest ingratitude and worse by the then over bearing Premier of New Brunswick. It was a happy relief to everybody when he was given the seat in the Senate even though it should have gone to James Burgess of Grand Falls.

In 1917 Premier Foster could not be elected in his own home town at Saint John. James Burgess had been returned to the Legislature in Victoria County. Premier Foster was desperate for a seat and finding a comparatively safe place to land in Victoria County a deal was fixed whereby James Burgess was to resign his seat and give Mr. Foster a chance to get in the House. Mr. Burgess who was hard up and needed the money was promised the first vacancy in the Senate. The two vacancies following this deal were given by his grateful Liberal Friends to Messrs. Robinson and Copp. Then came another vacancy.

Did Hon. Walter Foster remember Mr. Burgess who had given him a seat when he was turned out in his home City of St. John, NO! THE HONORABLE WALTER FOSTER TOOK THE SEAT IN THE SENATE HIMSELF and let poor Burgess hold the bag. This is political gratitude a la Foster and Mr. Foster knows that this is a true statement of facts and so do many more of his supporters. He dealt the same brand of gratitude out to friends and supporters and thus helped to kill the once popular Liberal party. So he had better not come here. Speaking politically, he would be about as popular here as a skunk at a garden party. It is amusing to hear Senator Foster attack Premier Tilley. Premier Tilley has tried his best to do things and he has some splendid accomplishments to his credit. It is probable that Hon. Walter Foster was the poorest specimen—or one of the poorest specimens of premiers ever produced in New Brunswick. He would be doing his party a service if he would go away back and sit down. He is a "has been" in New Brunswick as far as active politics go and the Liberals would do well to forget him.

BAR OF N. B. PAYS TRIBUTE TO C. R. HAWKINS

P. J. Hughes, K. C. Of This City, And Chief Justice Baxter Refer to the Passing of a Young Lawyer of Great Promise—Appeal Court Docket Taken Up.

At the opening of June session of the New Brunswick Appeal Court today, P. J. Hughes, K. C., of this city, in announcing the death of C. Robert Hawkins, one of the members of the bar, referred to the great shock to the profession in Fredericton. Mr. Hawkins had been ill only one day, he said. He was a young man, who gave great promise and one whom the profession would greatly miss, Mr. Hughes declared in expressing sorrow and sympathy of the Bar to the family.

Chief Justice J. B. M. Baxter expressed the regret of the court, remarking that "we are tragically reminded that in the midst of life we are in death". Not only was the bar of the province deprived of a promising advocate among the younger members but each one who knew Mr. Hawkins was deprived of "a warm-hearted, genial, companionable personal friend", he said.

W. A. I. Anglin of Saint John made a common motion in the nature of an application moving for an order that an information be exhibited ex parte H. Vaughan Dewar, St. George. It was placed on the motion paper. This information is in the nature of a quo warrant against the mayor and aldermen of St. George to answer and show by what authority they claim to hold and exercise the offices of mayor and aldermen.

The appeal court commenced its June docket this morning hearing argument on the first case, that of the King vs. Leo LeBlanc and passing judgment. Court decided there was no reasonable ground to interfere and the appeal was dismissed with costs. J. A. Creaghan for the accused appeared to support the appeal from the judgment of the Northumberland county court setting aside the conviction before Police Magistrate for the town of Newcastle. P. J. Hughes, K. C., and Dr. Frances L. Fish, of Newcastle argued the case.

Chief Justice Baxter, Mr. Justice Grimmer and Mr. Justice LeBlanc comprised the court this morning. Hearing resumed at two o'clock.

ONE NEW FIRE REPORTED ON HOLIDAY

One new fire was reported to the New Brunswick Forest Service over the past week-end and the June 3rd holiday. G. L. Miller, chief forester, anticipated today that the current spell of heat and dry weather would increase the hazard of fire throughout the province this week. So far the fire-fighters have kept the one slight fire which broke out yesterday well under control.

The blaze yesterday occurred about four and a half miles southwest of Marcelline, Kent County, at the head of the east branch of the Sabbies River, 12 miles directly east of the mouth of the Cain's River on the Kent-Northumberland county line. It was indicated, according to report of the investigators, that the fire had been set in a few different places along the road. About 15 acres have been burned. The fire broke out near a last year's lumber camp. A crew of 25 men were sent to the fire yesterday, and twenty-five more were despatched to the scene of the blaze this morning.

Opposition Party meeting at Barker's Point community hall. Public cordially invited. Good speakers.

ST. ANDREWS SOCIETY PUT ON GRAND PICNIC

The Fredericton Society of Saint Andrew held its annual picnic yesterday at the "Cold Spring", Stanley, and it was largely attended. The "Cold Spring" is situated, on the beautiful grounds of James Thornburn, a member of the Society.

Scotch games were played during the afternoon with Piper James Campbell of the Experimental Station winning both the Pitching of the Cabre and throwing the Disc and was the best athlete at the picnic, thereby winning the beautiful silver cup donated for the sports.

The playlet, "Roderick Dhu", also was put on during the day with K. C. Bishop taking the part of "Roderick Dhu" and A. A. Aikenhead that of Fitz James with the pipe band acting as Roderick Dhus soldiers. Both parts were well played, Messrs. Bishop and Aikenhead being dressed for the occasion. Moving pictures were taken of the playlet.

About six o'clock supper was served after which the Society led by the pipe band marched to the home of James Thornburn, where speeches held sway for the balance of the evening. President of the society, Ald. F. S. Mundie appointed Maj. James Pringle as chairman who in turn called on a number of the members to address the gathering, including Dr. A. P. Crockett who made special mention of the Society selecting the King's Birthday on which to celebrate. Dr. Crockett spoke of the Scotch pioneers who made Stanley and the Nashwaak.

J. H. Malcolm spoke of his recent trip to his native Scotland where depression was unknown. He mentioned that the Scot was the backbone of loyalty throughout the British Empire. Mr. Malcolm rendered several Scotch poems. Edward Elliot, past president of the Society, gave a delightful talk on the chivalry of the Scot.

Andrew Aikenhead, chairman of the Picnic Committee, made special mention of the great work done by Major James Pringle in the Society which is fast developing into one of the largest in the Dominion of Canada. Mr. Aikenhead praised the members of the Pipe Band which is one of the best of its kind to be found in the Maritimes.

K. C. Bishop, who took the role of "Roderick Dhu" was released from Sterling Castle by Fitz James. Mr. Bishop made special mention of the generosity of the Scot on his visit through Scotland.

George Ross delighted the gathering with his "Get up and bar the door" and 89 tonight and 90 in the morning.

John Taylor gave several renditions of "She's the Girl for Me", and "Glasgow belongs to me".

Major James Pringle spoke of the older members of the Society at the picnic including Angus Campbell and John Douglass also George Ross and David McDonald—all over the four score mark in age.

President Mundie again made mention of the great Scotch names at the picnic including the Douglasses, the McDonalds, the Loves, the Elliots, the Thornburns, the Campbells, the MacLeods, the Pringles, and others. Mr. Mundie was loud in his praise of the great Scotch songs, "Annie Laurie", "Bonnie Bank of Loch Lomond", "Auld Lang Syne" and last but not least "Wee Dore an Doris". The singing of Auld Lang Syne brought to a close one of the most enjoyable outings ever held at the "Cold Spring".
