Federal Government Will Oppose Stevens Candidates

No Matter Where New Leader May Put Men They Will Have To Fight Conservatives. Other Party Leaders Say New Party "Will Not Accomplish Much."

(Special to the Daily Mail)
Two questions are being asked around the Parliament Buildings today. One is Who Are to Get the Vacant Senatorships and Judgeships? The other is the new party created by Hon. H. H. Stevens, going to appeal to the people especially the tired in the wool Tories and Grits.

OTTAWA, Ont., July 10 — Cabinet Ministers are endeavoring to clear up this week an accumulation of routine matters and hoping to get the relief camp situation squared away, prior to taking a vacation. That over, the election campaign will be on.

The secession of Hon. H. H. Stevens has created no apparent commotion in the Cabinet. What has happened was expected for the past few weeks. The subject has not been discussed in the Cabinet. The Prime Minister has declined to make any comment.

A report in a local newspaper yesterday that Glengarry County Conservatives may switch to the support of Mr. Stevens and nominate Angus McGillis, M. P., as a candidate of the new party elicited the authoritative observation today that, if that happens in Glengarry, or anywhere else, which is not anticipated, a new convention would be called at once to nominate a supporter of the Government.

It could not, of course, think of abdicating, anywhere in favor of the new party. To do so would immediately be construed as evidence of collusion. The general attitude displayed by both of the old parties is that the new one will not get far.

SUPPORT FOR STEVENS

Heads of three Liberal and three Conservative organizations have to date wired Hon. H. H. Stevens pledging support of his new political movement and claiming that they speak for the organizations they represent. Mr. Stevens declared today at his second conference with Parliamentary correspondents.

The first message was received from a Conservative organization yesterday while yesterday morning brought similar messages from two more Conservatives and three from Liberals. Mr. Stevens announced that the response has been tremendous and communications and contacts have been established from one end of the Dominion to the other.

During the course of the conference, Mr. Stevens was interrupted with long distance telephone calls. One of these was from Hon. George Hoadley, Minister of Public Works in Alberta's U. F. A. Provincial Gov.

KEEPS AWARD A SECRET

Decorated By King of Italy Didn't Tell.

QUINCY, Mass., July 10—Patrick Gilrain is a modest soul. So modest that it was not until this year that his family discovered he had been decorated by the King of Italy in 1911 for heroism during the Messina earthquake which killed 76,000 persons in 1908. A chance remark led to the discovery of the honor by the family. But Gilrain is still modest. He refused to tell the history of several other medals found in his trunk.

A Narrow Idea

....The Daily Mail is in receipt of a letter from a valued subscriber of the Conservative faith in which he says that he is going to "Stop The Daily Mail" because this paper published J. B. McNairs speech in one of our issues and also because we carried a certain amount of Liberal Advertising during the Campaign. This puts us in mind of a local Conservative lawyer who called us up on the phone and gave us the devil for the same reason. Both our friends are narrow. Well! Our valued subscriber cannot "Stop The Daily Mail." He can only stop his copy of The Daily Mail. We expect some Liberal to call us up and raise Cain because we published Conservative advertising. A function of a modern daily paper is to publish the news, and to take legitimate advertising from every person. In the Campaign which recently closed all live papers accepted advertising from both Parties. The cartoon depicting Hon. Mr. Tilley and his played out automobile appeared in many cases on one page while that showing Hon. Mr. Dysart catching suckers appeared on an adjoining one — and each were paid for at advertising rates. All New Brunswick papers with any life did the same thing even the Madawaska Journal whose Editor was recently elected as the Liberal Member for the up river County, carried advertisements during his Campaign, giving his Party "Hail Columbia."

The same man who kicked about our Publishing Liberal advertising happens to be a School Trustee and in his capacity as Secretary of the board rented the school to both Conservative speakers and to Liberals as he had the right to do.

The local radio whose management in this City cannot be accused of being too sympathetic with the Liberal Party also "hired out the air" to both parties as was perfectly proper. Messrs. Tilley, Harrison Dysart, McNair and other leaders had exactly the same show over the radio.

The Daily Mail makes no apology to our correspondent and former subscriber, but this explanation is given to people who do not understand such things. In the old days of our grandfathers the policy of a paper was to roast the fellow who was opposed to you and all his meetings, and his works and poms — (or pumps). Those old days are gone by so far as Modern Journalists go. Fight the other fellow like the devil but do it in the right way.

GOING TO ORIENT ON A TRADE HUNT

VANCOUVER, July 10—With a huge potential market awaiting Canadian business in the Orient, the largest Canadian trade mission ever to cross the Pacific will leave Vancouver on Oct. 5. It will return Dec. 18.

It is called the "Official Canadian Chamber of Commerce Trade Mission to China," and sections of the party will visit Japan, Hong Kong, Manila and Manchoukuo. Already 50 leading business men have made reservations for the trip.

Informal conferences will be held with businessmen in the Orient and many receptions, excursions and social functions will round out the itinerary.

LAST THOUGHTS OF POOR

VICTORIA, B. C., July 10—Fred Landsberg, awarded Victoria's "best citizen" medal in 1930, died here, leaving a request that no flowers be sent to his funeral. He urged friends to donate the cost of the tribute to the Old Men's Home Fund, providing aged inmates with pocket money.

SPOKE OVER RADIO

Rev. Dr. J. H. Milligan, assistant pastor at St. Dunstan's church, was the speaker over radio station CFNB last evening. Rev. Dr. Milligan made an appeal on behalf of the Adopt-a-Baby Week campaign and urged his listeners of the importance of the movement and that they lend every participation in the good work.

OTTAWA MAKES GUESS AS TO THE ELECTION DATE

OTTAWA, July 10—September 23 has been picked by political observers in Ottawa as the most likely date for the general elections. No more definite indication has come from the government than Prime Minister R. B. Bennett's statement in the House last week that it would be as soon as necessary preliminaries were completed.

Since 1925 the Dominion Elections Act has provided that general elections must be held on Mondays. It is generally understood that printing of the election lists will not be completed until some time in August. This is one of the chief 'preliminaries' referred to by the prime minister. There are some millions of names and all the printing is being done in Ottawa. The revised lists have not yet all reached the printing bureau here.

Barring possibility of voting on or before Aug. 26, the last Monday in that month, it is not considered possible or likely that the elections could be held until Sept. 23. The first Monday in September is Labor Day and while general elections could not be held on a statutory holiday it is equally considered unlikely that nominations would be held on such a day.

Nominations precede voting by one week in most constituencies and in some of the more isolated ridings they take place on the second Monday preceding election day. That would remove Sept. 9 and Sept. 16, leaving Sept. 23 the first logical date if balloting is to take place in September.

VISITS HER SISTER

Miss Jessie Edwards, of Benton, N. B., a former P.N.S. student, is in the city visiting her sister, Mrs. Toft.

BATHURST MAN SPOKEN OF FOR NEW SHERIFF

Well Known Merchant Who Has Been For Years Leading Liberal Is Mentioned.

(Special to The Daily Mail)
BATHURST, N. B., July 10—It is said here today in circles close to the Liberal party that Sheriff Hector Poirier is to resign his office and go to his beautiful summer home on the beach. The name of Harry A. Melanson of Bathurst is prominently mentioned for the position.

Mr. Melanson could not be reached today as he was in another part of the country on business, but it is understood that he is an applicant for the position.

If party services, personal popularity and general qualifications count for anything, Mr. Melanson's appointment should be a satisfactory one to all concerned.

Mr. Melanson personally fought the battles of the party for 35 years and also contributed generously to the party funds. His people have been liberals since Confederation. During the past election Mr. Melanson closed his store and worked for days in the support of the Liberal party in Bathurst and vicinity.

Mr. Melanson's appointment for Sheriff, whenever it may take place will be a most popular one to all classes in the community.

GREEK WAR CHIEF VISITS MUSSOLINI

ROME, July 10—General George Kondylis, Greek Minister of War, arrived yesterday on an "unofficial visit", during which he will be received by Premier Benito Mussolini.

His visit follows closely upon that of General Marie Gustave Gamelin, French Chief of Staff, with whom it was understood Italian military commanders reached conclusions affecting Italy's military security in the Ethiopia conflict.

ONTARIO TO PROBE MILTON JAIL - BREAK

TORONTO, July 10—Provincial Secretary Harry C. Nixon has ordered a departmental inquiry into the escape of Fred Myatt, 28, from the Halton county jail at Milton, 20 miles northeast of Hamilton, Saturday.

Mr. Nixon announced that T. M. Gourlay, Inspector of Prisons, would investigate the jail-break. There would be no official comment on the case until Mr. Gourlay had completed his report.

Myatt was reported to have gained access to the prison yard by feigning sickness, and then climbed up windows and swung hand over hand on an eavestrough to the prison wall.

He was arrested on a charge of attempted robbery. He was slightly wounded in the leg when police fired upon him before his capture. He was still at liberty today.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 10 — The Women's International League for Peace and Freedom yesterday addressed a protest to Secretary of State Cordell Hull against the United States Government "giving aid and comfort to Italy in its announced plans for aggressive action against Ethiopia."

HAMILTON, Ont., July 10—Following discovery of a case of smallpox in the home of a Mount Hope farmer who delivers milk to a dairy in Hamilton, shipments have been ordered discontinued.

Cancer, Its Cause And Treatment Was Debated By Doctors

BREWSTER CALLS CORCORAN LIAR IN LOBBY PROBE

Main Representative Says Threat to Halt Passamaquoddy Work Made.

WASHINGTON, July 10—Conflicting statements rising tempers and an angry shout of "You're a liar" electrified the United States House of Representatives investigation of lobbying for and against the administration utility bill.

The House rules committee first heard Representative Ralph Brewster (R., Me.) charge that Thomas Corcoran, Reconstruction Finance Corporation attorney, threatened to stop work on the Passamaquoddy tidewater dam, in Brewster's district unless he voted for the mandatory abolition of "unnecessary" holding companies.

Then, it saw Brewster and Corcoran exchange chairs. From Corcoran came a sweeping denial and an added assertion that while he, Brewster, and Ernest Gruening, interior department aide, stood outside the House chamber just before the abolition vote, Brewster expressed an intention of "ducking" the ballot completely.

"You're a liar!" shouted Brewster, without moving. "We'll see who's a liar," replied Corcoran, as the chairman's gavel cut short the exchange.

Opinions at Variance As To Susceptibility of Smokers to Cancer — Medical Convention Closes Here Today.

OTTAWA, Ontario, July 10 — Are smokers liable to cancer? Are they more susceptible to this dreaded disease than non-smokers? Or has smoking anything to do with it?

The above questions were debated pro and con here yesterday by the assembled members of the New Brunswick Medical Society. Some believed that the smoking man was more liable to cancer. Others held the opinion that smoking played no definite part in the spread of cancer.

Dr. Cecil E. Kinley, of Halifax, N. S., whose address, "Some Observations on Oral Cancer", started the discussion declared that statistics showed a high percentage of lip cancer among smokers.

Dr. A. T. Bazin, of Montreal didn't believe that smoking influenced the occurrence of cancer. He noted most of those present were smoking. Many of the physicians present, puffed silent assent on his judgment. But there was dissent too, in many of the smoke rings.

The subject of oral cancer was considered to be of general interest to the ordinary practitioner, the dentist, the surgeon and the public. Dr. Kinley reported of a series of mouth cancers treated in the Victoria General Hospital at Halifax by surgery, x-ray and radium. He stated that the best results were obtained when a combination of surgery and radiation was used. Discussion on the subject was led by Dr. A. E. Macaulay and others participating were Dr. James M. Magee, of Saint John, and Dr. R. A. H. MacKeen, of Saint John.

Along the coast of Nova Scotia, fishermen appeared especially susceptible to cancer, said Dr. MacKeen. He attributed this to the type of tar used on the nets.

Dr. D. C. Malcolm of Saint John, president, occupied the chair at yesterday's opening sessions of the Medical society.

The afternoon session featured the reading of several scientific papers on pertinent medical subjects. Dr. R. E. Powell of Montreal read a paper, "The Present Status of Obstructions of the Bladder Neck," and discussion on the subject was introduced by Dr. J. R. Nugent of Saint John. Dr. Cecil E. Kinley of Halifax, N. S., spoke on "Some Observations on Oral Cancer" with discussion led by Dr. A. E. Macaulay, of Saint John. Another paper delivered was that of Dr. E. K. McLellan of Halifax, whose subject was "The Proper Place of Forceps in Obstetrical Practices." Discussion was (Continued on Page Four)

POLICE CAN'T MAKE HUBBY OBEY WIFEY

Sick But Refuses To Take His Medicine.

SOMERVILLE Mass., July 10—Not even the combined efforts of the police department and his wife could make a local man take his medicine. The police received a telephone call from a woman saying: "My husband is sick. He won't take his medicine. Please send an officer, maybe he'll take it from him".

Patrolman Alfred McFadden was sent in a squad car. He reported: "He wouldn't take his medicine for me either. He took a drink of whiskey and went to bed".
