OUR HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Dr. J. C. Webster of the Historic Sites and Monuments Board yesterday paid a compliment to the York and Sunbury Historical Society. He said that it was one of the most live societies in the Maritime provinces.

Our local historical society was organized over three years ago by a band of earnest workers who believe in gathering in and in preserving articles and documents of historic value to the community. Its promoters worked hard to make the society a success, and success crowned their efforts. During the first year over one hundred members joined the Society. Papers on various historic subjects were read monthly and the members took an interest in gathering in specimens from all over the country. This good work still continues.

Through the efforts of Hon. R. B. Hanson, M.P., the Society secured the use of two rooms in the Post Office building. These are practically free of rent. Within the last year, however, the Society has been compelled to give up one of the rooms to the Dominion Forest Service. This has cramped the Society's space and makes room at a premium. Efforts are being made to secure some fireproof structure where the Society will have more space for its rapidly growing museum, which today has considerably over one thousand exhibits. In the meantime there is, in this museum—like there is in every other museum—a quantity of trash which is absolutely of no historic value and is loaned to the Society. The Society is really acting as a storehouse for peoples' stuff which should not be allowed there. If the Society executive would have this useless stuff removed there would be room for real good exhibits. This condition and the untidiness of the place was remarked upon yesterday by leading historical authorities who visited the museum.

It would pay the Society to have its museum put in good shape for visitors and to let visitors know how and under what conditions this museum could be seen. If the officers would get together and think of the Society rather than who are and who are not going to be on its executive, they can do as much this year as did the founders of the Society at the start. The Society has done well so far. Let them continue the good work which they so well started. Put a new spurt on now with the coming of Fall. Clean up the rooms, and keep them clean, even if it does cost a dollar or two. Throw out the junk that is not historical and let those who own it store it somewhere else. This will have to be done if you want room.

Any man who cares more for his personal advancement than for the Society, and any man who is trying to doublecross the Society by serving as a director and then advocating the taking of the exhibits elsewhere should be put in a back seat. These things have existed in the Society recently despite the efforts of its founders to have all work for the Society and forget themselves and the small childish stuff of whether they were all executives or not.

The Historical Society has got away to a good start. It has done a wonderful work. Long may it continue. But let it take our friendly advice.

BROUGHT DOWN HOUSE

Liberal orators may have to hold their meetings in the open air if their eloquence "brings down the house," as it did in St. Joseph d'Alma, Quebec, when a forty-foot slab of plaster fell from the ceiling during a Liberal rally last week. Hon. Ernest Lapointe, although stunned by the shock and otherwise severely injured, nevertheless delivered such an inspiring address that the applause threatened to raise (or raze) the roof completely. While it is gratifying to realize that the truths of Liberalism have such mighty power to burst all barriers and sweep through all restraining opposition, it might be wise to have archiitects design special channels "whence the imprison ed splendor may escape" before exposing valuable auditoriums to the explosive energy of an enthusiastic people.

Were the rifles that were seized by the game authorities the property of the men from whom they were taken or were their just "borrowed".

There is no truth in the report that there is boxing lessons being given at the City Hall market.

The speeches yesterday were all good and to the point.

The historical society which has been doing good work should take a fall sport and clean up its rooms. Throw out the junk and make room for the real exhibits of which it has a large number. It should live up to its reputation. When a person takes the trouble of getting a valuable collection of exhibits for this society the museum committee should have interest enough in the things to keep them together and in a proper condition.

Foolish people are still raving over the pensions which are being worked out by Mr. Dysart and the school books which will be taken up by Mr. Dysart. Mr. Baxter's government killed the school books. Mr. Dysart will restore them next session as has been stated twice already in The Daily Mail. There is no use in publishing letters from foolish people regarding pensions and school books when every one knows that these are going through as fast as Dysart can put them through.

The people who go out in the country or in the city, and say that Dysart is not going to have pensions and school books put through when these are already being put in operation are talking like fools and those who believe them are also as foolish as they are.

What the devil has Dysart's school books got to do with MacKenzie King's Government at Ottawa anyway.

Jones is now organizing the pension scheme. The school books on an improved plan will come on within the next couple of months.

The only trouble we see about being the man behind the gun is that they never put you far enough back.

What a plight Canada will be in if the Conservatives win the election and Mr. Bennett is kidnapped by the Reds!

A New York preacher declares that there have been no new sins since Adam left the Garden, but, for all that there always seem to be enough to go around.

Presence of the British Fleet in the Mediterranean is explained as due to the virulence of Italian editors in their reference to Britain. Ha! At last the power of the editorial pencil and typewriter is recognized—and in a big way.

Well, the poet might have been right about those melancholy days, after all. Just when a fellow gets through cutting grass for the season, some one comes along and tells him he ought to put in new seed now, so that he'll have a lot more to cut in the spring.

The Conservative Leader stated at Vancouver that Mr. King's tariff policies would put 60 per cent. of Canada's factory workers out of employment. Did they do so before? Were there ever so many factory workers out of employment as under Mr. Bennett?

Who was the young grocery clerk who, when asked by the young lady whether he had anything in the shape of bananas said, "Well, we have cucumbers."

Change Time Tables—
Now Standard Time

MONCTON, N. B., Sept. 27.—With the general change in Canadian National train services which goes into effect Sunday, September 29th next, patrons of the railway are cautioned to obtain information on the new train times from agents, stated M. F. Tompkins, traffic manager of the railway here.

Suburban train services affecting Halifax and Saint John will be altered to take care of change-over from Daylight to Standard time. Attention is also drawn with this change in time tables to the discontinuance of the through double daily except Sunday train services between the main land and Prince Edward Island. Thereafter the morning connection only will be operated, leaving Moncton at 10:50 A. M. for Prince Edward Island and Charlottetown for the main land at 7:30 A. M., daily except Sunday.

LIBERALS MEET AT DUMFRIES,
WATERVILLE

The Liberals continued their campaign with meetings held last night at Dumfries and South Waterville. At Dumfries. The speakers were Frank Osborne, Byron Fischer, Brigadier-General F. W. Hill and P. J. Hughes. At South Waterville, the speakers were A. W. Coombes, Philip Desautels and Elwood Burr.

Speaking at Dumfries in support of W. G. Clark, the Liberal candidate for York-Sunbury, Frank Osborne maintained, that in the Maritime Provinces we have nothing to gain by high tariffs because we have not the big industrial interests of Central Canada. We are dependent upon our four basic industries, farming, lumbering, mining and fishing. We must go further afield for markets. Ontario and Quebec have their own agricultural interests.

"Look at how our potato dealers lost the Cuban market", continued Mr. Osborne. "The marketing board has been unable to find market for our potatoes in Upper Canada. Thousands of our potatoes have been dumped in the marshes to rot", said the speaker.

Mr. Osborne asked why it was that we should have discrimination between the eastern and western provinces. "East is east and west is west, when viewed from Ottawa", said the speaker. Meanwhile he said that Dysart gets nothing for his 800 destitute settlers in Gloucester, while Aberhart gets his millions just for the asking.

P. J. Hughes, in speaking, maintained that Canada is drifting towards dictatorship under Bennett. He said that we don't want Europe over here. In speaking of the Reconstruction party, he said that Mr. Stevens was Minister of Trade and Commerce. Mr. Stevens supported Mr. Bennett. He was responsible for high tariff policies which have been detrimental to us, and now he cannot hope to escape that responsibility by bringing forth a new party. When Mr. Bennett went to England, Mr. Stevens stood ready to fill Mr. Bennett's shoes. We would never have heard of the Reconstruction party, if Mr. Bennett had not come back. But Mr. Bennett came back.

Cheap Ry. Rates

MONTEAL, Sept. 27.—Gartifying patronage by the general public of the cent a mile excursion of Western Canada offered by the C. P. R. Canadian National Railways in force since Sept. 21 and continuing until October fourth inclusive, is reported by C. B. Foster and C. W. Johnston, respectively, passenger traffic manager and general passenger traffic manager of the two companies. The return limit is 44 days from the date of issue of the ticket.

This concession is wider than those previously offered by the railways since tickets may now be routed via United States railroads and stop-overs within the limit of the ticket, both going and returning, are granted at Port Arthur, Armstrong and other points west thereof, also at Chicago or Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., and points west in accordance with the local stop over regulations of the United States lines over which the tickets read.

The excursions are from all stations, Windsor, Sault Ste. Marie, Sudbury, Capreol, Cochrane, Ont., and east to all stations, Port Arthur, Armstrong and points west thereof.

The special bargain fares are as follows: In coaches approximately one cent per mile; in tourist sleeping cars approximately 14c. per mile plus regular berth fare; and in sleeping cars and parlor cars at approximately 14c. per mile, plus regular berth or seat fare.

Tickets are good going and returning via the same railway line in both directions. There are generous optional routings.

FRUIT ARRIVES

Hawkins Fruit and Produce Co., Devon, have a fine shipment of Gravenstein apples due today and some nice juicy grapes for jelly will arrive here by car Monday.

OUR MAIL BAG

ARE WE UNPATRIOTIC?

Editor Daily Mail,
Fredericton.

Dear Sir:

Why are we so unpatriotic? This applies to the citizens of Fredericton more than to any other citizens of any other town I know of. Here we have one of the most beautiful cities of Canada, but what an eyesore our front street is becoming. There was a time when our Queen street was something to be proud of, but you hear, "Well, what can you expect when we are going through a depression like this." No doubt this has a lot to do with it, but are you going to make the depression last forever, it's up to you, not up to the merchants of the town. The merchants of this city are at their wit's end to know what to do, notes falling due, taxes to be paid and winter fuel to get in. There is only one solution and that is: make the citizens of Fredericton buy at home. Surely every citizen is going to help!

Over our local broadcasting station Wednesday morning we heard a little talk that took only five minutes to say, it was worth listening to. I hope to hear that repeated very often. Would like to hear it said on the evening program. I am glad that our merchants are going to make a brave attempt to make the citizens of this city buy at home.

The next time you go to send your money outside of Fredericton for something, be thoughtful enough to go down town and try and get what you want from our local merchants. If you can't get it, ask him to see if he could get it for you. You will find within a short time that our stores will be just as good as those of big cities as Toronto, Montreal and Vancouver. It's up to you to make our stores, not entirely up to the merchant. You do the buying and our merchant will make his store so Fredericton will be proud of it.

I am not a local merchant but just a citizen who would like to see our City spruce up and this is one way that will be a big help.

Buy at home, watch our Queen Street grow. You will be proud of it. And not only will you help our merchants but you will be helping yourself. Surely everybody can see through that.

I wish to take this opportunity to thank the local newspaper for printing this and no doubt you will agree with my version as to how to help the depression in Fredericton.

My Motto—Buy at home at all costs.

Against Getting Into
Traps in Africa

"Our vital interest in peace compels us to take our share and do our part in the workings of government of the international instrument which seeks to establish the reign of law among nations.

"We also all support the government", Mr. Churchill added, "in making it quite clear that there is no question of isolated action by Great Britain.

"The day may come when Italy may well be grateful to an old friend like Great Britain for the desire to keep her out of what might be a deadly trap.

"There are some powers in Europe which would be quite glad to see Italy get into a thoroughly compromised and dependent position. We are not one of them."

Discussing the German situation, the former cabinet member said:

"We are living in times of a deep and growing anxiety. Germany is arming on a gigantic scale and at an unexampled speed. The whole force of power of Nazidom is being concentrated night and day, week after week, upon warlike preparation on land and sea and in the air.

"The rearmament of Nazi Germany must appear to anyone with a sense of proportion as the greatest and grimmest fact in the world today."
