

FATHER COUGHLIN BREAKS WITH PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT

Radio Priest Takes Issue with the President Over the World Court Question and Cuts Loose.

Royal Oak, Michigan, Jan. 31.—Open disagreement with President Roosevelt on the World Court issue, and a hint that he may face the opposition of 10,000,000 members of the National Union for Social Justice as a result, was voiced by the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin, founder of the Union, in a national-wide broadcast opposing America's entry into the World Court.

Expressing amazement that United States senators and the President himself should stand ready to enter the World Court at a time when the nation is beset with so many grave problems, Fr. Coughlin said:

"The National Union for Social Justice disagrees fundamentally with the administration on the World Court issue. The National Union for Social Justice will support Pres. Roosevelt only insofar as he advocates the principles of social justice."

Our entrance into the World Court, Fr. Coughlin explained, is opposed to the principles of social justice, in as much, he claims, as the League of Nations, of which the court is an integral part, is really designed to perpetuate the injustices due to the control of nations by the international bankers.

Fr. Coughlin asserting that he had been informed by persons who sat in a secret council of the League, declared the League was preparing an international army to protect the plutocrat of the world against Communism.

Fr. Coughlin warned American labor that our entrance into the World Court would mean eventually that American workmen would be reduced to the low standards prevailing in European countries.

As Communism thrives where poverty exists, Fr. Coughlin said, and as the League of Nations is really designed to perpetuate conditions which make for poverty, a clash between the classes is inevitable.

"Instead of bending its efforts to remedy conditions here," Fr. Coughlin said, "America is ready to join Paris they still comprise the toot on the Rothschilds, the Warburgs, the semble.

Mussolini has removed auto horns from the picture in Rome. But in Paris they still comprise the toot on the Rothschilds, the Warburgs, the semble.

NEW BRUNSWICK PROTESTANT ORPHAN HOME

TO THE PROTESTANT PEOPLE OF NEW BRUNSWICK, Ladies, Gentlemen and Children:

On January 1, 1934, 233 Children and on January 1, 1935, 235 Children were in Residence. One Hundred and Fifteen of these 235 were wards and available for placement out, and these were entirely dependent upon your generosity. The other 120 we call nominal boarders; that means that for each a guardian paid on an average about one-quarter part of their maintenance cost. For the rest, the Children LOOK TO YOU.

In the past calendar year 81 new children have been admitted. During the same time 79 children have been removed. Of those removed 38 are today under agreements of adoption loved and loving sons and daughters. In all 314 different children were helped on the road to good citizenship. In the year the Bank Overdraft for Maintenance increased from $35,000 to $40,000.

We wish that you could have seen some of the terrible conditions under which some of these children were existing, not living; but better still, we wish you could now see the transformations that have taken place in many of them. Let us tell you four case stories; they are actually taken from four different Counties — but almost every County could supply four somewhat similar stories.

Mary Smith was born in July, 1919. Her father died a few years later. Her mother died in July, 1929. For the next year her place of residence was with a maternal uncle and his wife—both of whom had to work whenever they could get a day's work to do. The girl was really running wild. The Orphanage was appealed to, to save her. The Home took her in, in September, 1930. After nearly a year of good training in the Home she was placed in August, 1931, with an excellent couple, where she has been ever since a loved and loving daughter.

Can you believe that two boys of eight and eleven years of age could live all their lives in this province and never see or never learn to use a pair of stairs? In the summer of 1932 two such boys, brothers, came to us. They had also never seen a bed or school house; they had lived on an old scow that had grounded and been abandoned on the shore of one of our deeply inland shallow lakes. They had walked up a plank into the scow, and had slept on the floor. They, of course, had not been properly nourished. As miraculously as they have improved since they came to us, one of them will never have perfectly straight shoulders because of his lack of proper food as a little child. Cod liver oil and regularly properly planned, prepared and served meals, together with regular hours for play, school, work and sleep, have accomplished wonders. The Parish Poor Commissioners concerned give us a small amount to help maintain each boy. The first meal they sat down to at the Home, they saw on the table before them three articles of food—bread, molasses and milk. The older boy exclaimed, "Surely we are not going to have all three of these at once." He was still more surprised when the meal was served. Their father is dead; their mother is not an asset and also she has poor health. Have not these two boys been wonderfully saved for future good citizenship?

The Treasurer at P.O. Box 796, Saint John, N. B., awaits the privilege of sending you a receipt of thanks for your 1935 Contribution.

We remain, on behalf of the children,

Yours very truly,

JAMES W. BRITTAIN, President.
H. USHER MILLER, Secretary.

The Geneva Label Killed It

Henry Cabot Lodge, is long in the grave, "but his soul goes marching on." Yesterday the United States Senate failed to ratify American entry into the World Court. A two-thirds majority was required, but only 52 senators voted for ratification, while 35 voted against. We can imagine the tall well-groomed ghost of Cabot Lodge stalking through the chamber and chuckling to himself, "Article X, Article X," as in the days just after the World War when Lodge and Woodrow Wilson, the rival "scholars in politics," were engaged in deadly battle, and the Senator routed the President on his League of Nations and international co-operation policy.

Today, two men are principally responsible for the defeat of the pro-Court forces. They are William Randolph Hearst and the eloquent Father Coughlin of Detroit. They were helped in their appeals by the undoubted circumstance that, in the American public mind, the World Court is pretty closely bound up with the League of Nations and the League of Nations means foreign entanglements. It must be repeated again and again that "true North" in American foreign policy points towards isolation.

The fight against the World Court hinged upon the issue of sovereignty. How much did it involve surrender of sovereignty upon the part of the United States? Senator Norris, the Republican from Nebraska, offered an amendment making the United States Senate the judge of whether the United States should submit any given dispute to the Court. This was but another attempt to ensure complete retention of sovereignty in the event of American adherence. The Norris amendment was voted down, but had a most important effect upon the outcome, for Senator Norris, still dissatisfied, led an important section with him in a final vote against ratification.

Obviously the United States is willing to submit certain disputes to arbitration or adjudication. Only the other day the United States apologized to Canada as a result of the I'm Alone award, and paid over good hard money to Canadians. But submitting to arbitration when one feels like it is a different matter from undertaking to do so before disputes arise. Even so, every President since Wilson had been for American entry to the court. Harding, Coolidge and Hoover paid it lip service, and Roosevelt is sincerely for it. But even the mere smell of the League is still too strong for that extreme active section which is ever on guard to prevent American entanglements abroad.—Montreal Star.

The fried chicken of commerce of the future will have two bosoms instead of six wings.

That, is abuse of the pardoning power, is shameful until you have some friend or relative in the pen.

THE PARASITE

Many men, women and children sufferers are being treated for other diseases without results, when their real trouble is the tape-worm. Sure signs of it is the passage of small particles of the parasite. Suggestive signs: loss of appetite with occasional greediness, coated tongue, heartburn, pain in stomach and intestines, pain in back and limbs, dizziness, headaches, exhaustion, feeling faint with stomach empty, emaciated, dark rings under the eyes. The process of digestion are usually interfered with. The patient becomes irritable and restless at night. There is much dizziness, raising of constant obstruction in throat, "rawing" sensation in stomach with voracious appetite—and at times loathing of sight of food. The breath becomes offensive, the face flushed—at other times very pale; heaving as if something were moving in the bowels; heartburn with palpitation; obscure pains in the limbs; delusions of the senses; defecation of the speech; sudden colic, insomnia; Melancholia, hysteria and some authors claim epileptic fits and even insanity.

These monster parasites, the size of which it is claimed, sometimes reach 15-20 feet, must be eliminated from the system—at all costs. Only with the greatest possible precaution should they be removed from the system. But to allow a parasite to live untampered in the human body is almost akin to taking small doses of poison, increasing same daily, until the patient actually commits suicide — figuratively speaking. The formula of Tanex is used for the elimination of this terrible monster—and most successfully in obstinate cases Tanex is prepared to such manner that it cannot harm any of the sensitive internal parts of the human system and may be safely given in proportional parts to children. Tanex is not a poison.

poison the individual harboring a tapeworm—nor is its effects harmful on those who take it where there is no worm. Tanex does not kill the monster tapeworm, as killing it necessarily means the taking of poisons in sufficient quantities to poison the patient. Tanex renders the worm insensible only, so that it loses its power to grasp on and hold to the intestines. The purgative ingredients in tanex then quickly eliminate it. Great care must be exercised however, to permit its passage in accordance with the directions (sent from Tanex), otherwise he head may re-enter the alimentary canal—which means, that another dosage will be necessary.

Tanex may be taken any morning and as it leaves no effects at all, will not necessitate the staying away from work. One hour is required for it to attain full effect.

Tanex is not sold in drug stores—to insure absolute freshness to the patient. Nor is it sent C.O.D. The treatment costs $5.00, with full instructions. If you want to be rid of this monster parasite—send for Tanex today. Sold only by the Royal Laboratory, 768 Royal Bldg., Box 104 Windsor, Ont.
