IF YOU HAVE ELECTRIC REFRIGERATOR
HERE IS GOOD WAY TO USE EGG WHITES

Frozen Cream Whip
1 cup whipping cream
¼ cup confectioner's sugar
Dash of salt
Vanilla
1 egg white
Whip cream until it begins to hold its shape. Beat in sugar and salt gradually and flavor with vanilla. Beat egg white until stiff, but not dry, and fold into cream. Pour into freezing tray of an automatic refrigerator and freeze with temperature control set at highest point. This recipe makes 1½ cups cream.

Snow Cap Deep Apple Pies
4 apples, pared, cored and sliced thin
¾ cup brown sugar
1 tablespoon lemon rind, grated
½ teaspoon allspice
2 tablespoons butter
1 recipe plain pastry
Frozen Cream Whip
Arrange apple slices in individual baking dishes, heaping fruit slightly in centre. Mix brown sugar, lemon rind and allspice and sprinkle over apples. Dot with butter. Roll pastry to ½ inch thickness and cut in pieces ½ inch larger than dishes. Cut small slits in centre of dough and place pastry on fruit. Wet edges of dishes with cold water. Turn pastry under to fit rim, and press down with fork. Bake in a hot oven, 450 degrees F., 10 minutes, then reduce heat to moderate 350 degrees F. and bake about 20 minutes longer, or until apples are tender. Serve hot with a spoonful of Frozen Cream Whip on top. This recipe makes four portions.

Butter-Scotch Shortcake
3 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
2½ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon granulated sugar
1 cup Jewel shortening
2½ cup (about) milk
1 tablespoon butter
1 cup brown sugar
Measure sifted flour and sift with baking powder, salt, granulated sugar. Cut in Jewel shortening finely. Mix in enough milk to make a light, soft dough. Roll lightly to 1-8 inch thickness. Spread with brown sugar, creamed with butter. Roll like jelly roll. Cut in one inch slices. Place in greased pan and bake at 350 degrees F., until golden brown. Serve hot with sugared fruit (sliced or crushed) and whipped cream.

Cranberry Delights
2 cups flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons sugar
5 tablespoons Jewel shortening
1 beaten egg
2-3 cup (about) milk
2 cups cranberry jam or drained stewed cranberries.
Sift dry ingredients and cut in the shortening. Combine egg and milk and add slowly to flour mixture to make a soft dough. Roll lightly to 1-4 inch thickness. Cut into large rounds. Put 2 tablespoons cranberry jam on each round. Moisten edges, fold, seal and crimp edges together with a fork. Prick on top. Bake in hot oven, about 15 minutes. Serve hot with

Cranberry Sauce
Mix 2 tablespoons cornstarch with 1-4 cup sugar and a pinch of salt. Dissolve ½ cup cranberry jam in one cup hot water. Slowly add mixed ingredients, stirring to keep smooth. Stir and cook thick. Add one tablespoon lemon juice. Serve hot.

WOMEN'S VOTES

Those who confidently predicted the defeat of Mr. Aberhart and his Social Crediters in the Alberta election, have been busy analyzing their forecasts to see where they went wrong. And almost universally they have learned that they overlooked two big factors, the influence of the vote of young men with no party connection, casting their ballots for the first time, and the influence of the women's votes.

Many Social Credit electoral workers visited every home in their constituency, ignored the men folk almost entirely and walked into the kitchen to promise the woman of the house her $25 a month.

A man might ask where the $25 a month was coming from; any informed, intelligent woman would. But unfortunately our schools and churches have not yet learned to train women for their new responsibilities of citizenship and the Social Credit promises may be regarded as a 100 per cent appeal to the woman who has not had a new hat or a new dress in three years.

The young men, who were ready for a new deal anyway, helped to win the election in Alberta. But the victory was clinched by the women.

There are some candidates in the Dominion election who know the significance of the women's vote—not many.

Budget Balanced, Trade Registers £3,000,000 Rise Over 1933 — Buying Power Gains — Commission Government Gets Credit for Unraveling Island's Problems.

LONDON, England, Sept. 28.—After years of unprecedented hardship, which caused a complete government system to collapse and a financial order to tumble, Newfoundland is able to report progress to the capital of the British Empire.

The budget has been balanced again. Newfoundland's total trade shows an increase of £3,000,000 over 1933. The purchasing power of the fishermen, most numerous workers on the island, has been increased, owing to better prices for their catches, by £1,000,000.

These signs of improvement in the island are revealed in the report on its economic conditions, issued here by the Board of Overseas Trade.

Fisheries Show Gain
These advances in Newfoundland's economy have been won against great odds, for prosperity on the island depends largely upon markets for the fish caught on the banks, and newsprint manufactured from the forests.

The report declares that until there is a considerable change in general world conditions, particularly in countries importing codfish, the future must be difficult for Newfoundland.

During past years Newfoundland has found it virtually impossible to find a market abroad for codfish, on account of the lower purchasing power in the world in general and of new currency and exchange restrictions, as well as trade barriers.

The year 1934 showed an improvement in the fishery for the first time in several years. The total catch was 22,000,000 pounds heavier than the previous season, and the prices ten per cent higher.

Mining Revival
The seal fishery in 1934 proved one of the most financially successful in recent years, and resulted in one of the best catches. One of the high spots of the season for the fishing villages was the day when Capt. Abram Kean completed his forty-sixth voyage to the seal fisheries and celebrated it by capturing his millionth seal. He was subsequently honored by King George for this feat and made an officer of the Order of the British Empire.

There has been an awakening of interest in mining, the report declares. The number of claims staked in 1934 was three times as great as the number staked during the three previous years put together.

The iron ore mines at Wabana, Bell Island, are said to contain the largest known iron deposits within the British Empire. In 40 years 40,000,000 tons of ore have been extracted from them. The record year was 1923 when 1,547,895 tons were shipped. Only four years later, the smallest output on record was taken out. The mines were almost at a standstill in 1923, when just 148,000 tons came out of the mine. During 1934 production rose to 500,000 tons.

Commission Government
Much of the credit for the progress made in Newfoundland must, it is said, be given to the new government body. At present Newfoundland is governed by a Commission of Government, three members drawn from Britain and three from Newfoundland. Newfoundland has had a Legislature since 1832. The final form of constitutional government was drafted in 1855. But during recent years financial difficulties had loomed close and catastrophe threatened. A royal commission was appointed which suggested the extreme measure of suspension of the parliamentary government and setting up a Commission of Government.

The Government of Newfoundland voted itself away. King George was asked to suspend the "letters patent" of the island. Britain agreed to give Newfoundland a helping hand and a loan. Newfoundland had come back under the wing of the Mother Country, and appears, as a result, to be regaining financial equilibrium.

ELECTORATE
WILL SELECT
245 MEMBERS

Canada will elect 245 members for the federal House of Commons at the general voting on October 14. These are divided among the provinces as follows:

Ontario	82
Quebec	65
Nova Scotia	12
New Brunswick	10
Manitoba	17
British Columbia	16
Prince Edward Island	4
Saskatchewan	21
Alberta	17
The Yukon	1

According to the British North America Act the Province of Quebec shall always have a fixed representation in the Dominion House, that is, 65 members. It provides that there shall be assigned to each of the other provinces such a number of representatives as will bear the same proportion to the number of its population (ascertained by the census) as the number 65 bears to the population of Quebec. However, by an amendment to the British North America Act passed by Imperial Parliament in 1915 it was enacted that "notwithstanding anything in the said Act, a province shall always be entitled to a number of members in the House of Commons not less than the number of senators representing such province". As a consequence of this amendment the representation of Prince Edward Island has remained at four members.

At dissolution on August 14th, 1935, the standing of the political parties in the federal House of Commons was as follows:

Conservatives	113
Liberals	88
Lib-Progressives	3
Progressives	2
U. F. A.	9
Labor	3
Independent-Labor	1
Independents	2
Vacancies	24

The Senate consists of 96 members, appointed by the governor-General on recommendation of the political party in power. The numerical representation of the Senate by provinces is as follows:

Prince Edward Island	4
Nova Scotia	10
New Brunswick	10
Quebec	24
Ontario	24
Manitoba	6
Saskatchewan	6
Alberta	6
British Columbia	6

The Conservative representation on the Senate is at present filled, the Tory vacancies recently being brought up to 64 by Premier R. B. Bennett's appointments. The Liberal representation is 32.

THE LAW OF THE CAMP

When Scouts arrive in camp they are reminded that the Scout law is camp law, and a few points as to the local application of the law while in camp are stressed. It might be well if all campers, whether members of the Boy Scouts or not, committed these points to memory and then acted on them:

1. Find time to help the other man first even if you did not meet him until you came here.
2. Farmers and local residents are our friends. We can help them, by leaving all gates as we find them, not touching any crops, especially avoiding standing hay, never taking anything from fences or hedges, keeping quiet near buildings.
3. Animals on farms and elsewhere like peace; our best way to show kindness is to let them alone.
4. Orders should be obeyed cheerfully and quickly.
5. Save all the time and food we can; this means that more boys can come to camp if we are not wasteful. Save water, too.
6. The tenth law, "A Scout is clean", applies to you and your site.
