Stresa Conference Move For European Peace

Britain, France and Italy Draw Up Seven - Point Program To Act To- gether.

Britain, France and Italy have arrived at a seven point program towards an agreement of peace. The object of the policy is the collective and maintenance of peace within the framework of the League of Nations find themselves in complete agreement in opposing by all practicable means any unilateral repudiation of treaties which may endanger the peace of Europe, and they will act in close and cordial collaboration for this purpose.

Berlin and Italy made a further joint declaration with reference to the Treaty of Locarno. They said:

"The representatives of Italy and the United Kingdom, powers which participate in the Treaty of Locarno only in the capacity of guarantors, formally reaffirm all their obligations under that treaty and declare their intention, should need arise, faithfully to fulfill them.

"Inasmuch as the two powers have entered into these obligations in relation to all other parties to the Treaty of Locarno, this joint declaration, which has been made at the Stresa conference in which France was participating, will also be formally communicated to the governments of Germany and Belgium."

Seven-Point Program

The summarized seven-point program provides:

1. Britain, France and Italy agree on a common line of conduct to be pursued in the course of discussion of the French request to the Council of the League on German rearmament.
2. Negotiations should be pursued for the desired development in security of Eastern Europe.
3. That all the powers enumerated in the Rome protocol on Austria independence should meet at a early date with a view to concluding a Central European agreement.
4. Britain, France and Italy agree to continue actively to study the proposed air pact for Western Europe, with a view to drafting such a pact between Britain, France, Italy, Germany and Belgium, and of any bilateral agreements which might accompany it.
5. Britain France and Italy regretfully recognize that Germany's unilateral repudiation of the armament clauses of the Treaty of Versailles, "at a moment when steps were being taken to promote a freely-negotiated settlement of the questions of armaments, and undermined the public confidence in the security of a peaceful order. Moreover, the mandate of the declared program of German rearmament, already well in the process of execution, had invalidated the quantitative assumptions upon which efforts for disarmament hitherto had been based and had shaken the hope, by which those efforts were inspired".
6. Britain, France and Italy nevertheless declare themselves anxious to join every practicable effort for promoting international agreement on the limitation of armaments.
7. Britain, France and Italy considered the desire of Austria, Hungary and Bulgaria for revision of their military status as determined by the peace treaties and agreed to recommend the other states concerned should examine the question with a view to its settlement by mutual agreement within the framework of general and regional guarantees of security.

New Brunswick Products

You can make New Brunswick prosperous by buying New Brunswick products. Why not buy our farm products, our fruit, meat for a part of your needs, lamb, pork sausages, poultry, eggs, butter, our fish, fresh and cured. Our coal and other fuel products, Our biscuits, ginger ale, confectionery, underwear, hats, clothing and our boots and shoes and other footwear. All these things are manufactured in this province. If your home merchant does not stock New Brunswick goods insist on his getting them. All merchants who wish to do business will carry the goods his customer asks for.

In Nova Scotia there is a "League of Loyal Nova Scotians" who have signed a pledge to buy Nova Scotia products, price and quality, of course, being satisfactory. This League has now a membership in that province of thirty thousand members.

We all love New Brunswick as our home and are interested in her advancement and in the progress and prosperity of her institutions. This being so, would it not be advisable to buy and to use all the home-grown and home-manufactured products possible? In addition to being a good sentiment this is good business.

ARCHBISHOP CONFIRMED TWO CLASSES SUNDAY

His Grace Archbishop Richardson, of Fredericton, conducted confirmation in St. John's (Stone) Church, Sunday morning and in All Saints' Church, East Saint John, in the evening. At the morning service he also dedicated two altar vases of brass, presented in memory of Miss Lily Price, for many years a faithful member of the chancel guild and church guild of Stone Church.

The vases bore the inscription, "To the Glory of God and in loving memory of Lily Price, given by her family." They were the gift of Miss Price's sister, Mrs. William H. Holder and other relatives. They were used for the first time at the service of dedication when they contained lilies also the gift of relatives of Miss Price.

This morning at 10 o'clock, the archbishop conducted confirmation for seven candidates in the Saint John Tuberculosis Hospital. The candidates were presented by the hospital chaplain, Rev. George Readman, and by Rev. W. C. V. Martin. All Anglican patients were assembled for the service.

saillies Treaty violation will meet today. The procedure will be in three steps:

1. The original complaint of France, requesting a special meeting of the Council.
2. A French memorandum stating the motive for the French complaint. This is understood to be a 40-page document outlining the German treaty violations. The French submitted it at the Stresa meeting, but both Premier Ramsay MacDonald, of Great Britain and Premier Mussolini of Italy took the view that it was entirely a French document and that it would be improper on their part to attempt to edit or modify it.
3. An ultimate resolution to be drafted by the Council reporter.

Care was taken to avoid anything which would give the appearance of presenting the Council with an accomplished fact. Any such action it was felt, would be resented by the other members of the Council. At the same time, yesterday's conclusions express the view held by the three Governments represented at Stresa as to what they consider ought to be done.

M. P.'S STATEMENT DRAWS COMMENT

TORONTO, April 13—The suggestion of Oscar Boulanger, (Lib., Bellechasse) that Canadian universities should be represented in the House of Commons, is good in theory but doubtful in practice, Dr. H. J. Cody, president of the University of Toronto said today.

"If you weigh the points on both sides, I suppose the result would be in favor of representation," Dr. Cody said, "but I believe that university men are serving the country and using their influence in the stations in which they have found themselves throughout the country."

Because of the great distances in the Dominion and the complex nature of Canadian university, elections would cost more and be more involved than in Great Britain, where universities have representation. Dr. Cody said. In addition, the move might inject political disturbances into university life.

Over Two Thousand Boy Scouts, Girl Guides and Brownies Reviewed By Lord and Lady Baden- Powell—Coming East.

VICTORIA, B.C., April 15—Chief Scout Lord Robert Baden-Powell and Chief Guide Lady Baden-Powell were given their final glimpse of Canadian scouting and guiding craft on the large scale at Willows Park here Saturday afternoon when they reviewed a grand rally of 2,500 scouts, guides, cubs and brownies from all parts of Vancouver Island. A crowd of 3,000 watched the scouts and guides in an efficient, impressive and colorful display.

In jolly mood the beloved "B P" and his popular consort addressed the youngsters in congratulatory terms, expressing pleasure at the efficiency of the drills and urging their youthful followers to make the most of themselves for Canada and the Empire. Lady Baden Powell read a message from H. R. H. the Princess Royal to the Guides while Lord Baden Powell read a similar greeting to Canadian Scouts from a very famous Scout in England, H. R. H. The Prince of Wales.

Translating into action the air motto "be prepared" the Scouts ably demonstrated their training in bridge building, pitching tents, building log cabins, rope spinning, fire drill, and rope splicing while the guides displayed fire drill and staged a camp pitching race.

Cheers for the Chief Scout reached their zenith when the 78 year old hero of Mafeking walked across a one pole pontoon bridge thrown up by the youth across a hypothetical river and merriment was at its height when joined in the dance of the brownies, junior chapter of the guides.
