W. G. CLARK

While His Worship Mayor Clark may not like the personal reference to himself, The Daily Mail feels that a few words about the candidate supporting the Liberal party may not be amiss.

Mayor Clark is an example of a poor boy who was brought up on the farm and who came to the city and made good. He made good, because he worked hard and was square and honest. Today he is at the head of a business which has branches all over the province and due to Mr. Clark's great business and financial ability that business has become a successful one.

The same financial ability which guided Mr. Clark's personal business was brought into the service of the City of Fredericton. During the last nine years Mr. Clark has been Mayor of Fredericton. He has guided the financial affairs of this city through the most troublesome times in its history and has done so most successfully. The citizens of Fredericton have shown their appreciation of Mayor Clark's honesty and ability, by returning him year after year by acclamation, as they have felt that he was a safe man to have at the head of civic affairs during the present time. The same thing should apply to the same man in connection with the larger affairs of state. Mr. Clark is a man who will be listened to at Ottawa with respect and confidence. Up there he is recognized as a man of judgment and tact. He is not the kind of a man who will slap you on the back, ask you out to have a drink and then forget all about you. Mr. Clark's friendships are sincere and honest. He will do what he can for a man without blowing about it. The Daily Mail could mention many deeds of a charitable nature quietly performed by His Worship Mayor Clark about which the world does not know. Those who know Mayor Clark best appreciate his worth best. He is no hot-air merchant but he is straightforward, honest and sincere.

The Liberals of York-Sunbury County have selected W. G. Clark as their standard bearer. He has consented to give up his time to the interests of his native riding and to the interests of its people. It is up to the workers in this field to rally—as they are doing—to the support of Mr. Clark and to work hard and side by side until the evening of October fourteenth. There is less than three weeks to go. Work hard for the three weeks and put Mr. Clark at the head of the poll.

Canada at the present time needs the brains of the best business men to conduct her affairs. It needs men like Mr. Clark.

FALSE FIRE
Said Mr. Bennett, "The Liberal party was in office from 1921 to 1930. What agreements did it make? What was the business you got from them? None, but you lost the United States' markets. And remember, that was in the days when freer trade was easily possible." Last night he said, "Canada had suffered the greatest loss of markets in her history under the Liberal government of Mackenzie King when U. S. tariffs were applied against imports from the Dominion."

The London Advertiser has gone to the trouble to get the exact figures of Canadian exports to the American market while the King government was in power. They show an increasing volume of business year by year to the United States. The figures are: 1922, $304,104,171; 1923, $330,347,721; 1924, $441,642,909; 1925, $427,184,643; 1926, $488,925,235; 1927, $479,335,230; 1928, $496,785,256; 1929, $521,688,181; 1930, $536,688,181.

Mr. Bennett is saying what is not true. But Canadian exports to the United States for the year ending March 31, 1935 were $239,838,107 after five years of the Bennett "blasting" policy. The business was lost under his own government.

ernment. Mr. Bennett would be well advised to stick a little more closely to the facts.

MR. BENNETT'S PIPE DREAM
"The pipe dream of a zealous snooper," is one Ottawa characterization of the Prime Minister's revelation of an alleged plot by Communists to kidnap him and hold him as hostage. Mr. Bennett believes in the plot but nobody else does. Throughout the time when the Toronto trekkers were in Ottawa two burly plain clothes men of the criminal investigation branch of the R.C.M.P. were dodging about the corridors of the east block. They followed Mr. Bennett down the Chateau for lunch (for his lunch) and were always unobtrusively in the offing every time he moved. Enquiry at R.C.M.P. headquarters met with a blank wall of no information. Enquiry elsewhere failed to reveal anyone official or unofficial who had ever heard of the plot. The Communists, pink or red, never moved in Ottawa without an R.C.M.P. officer keeping tab. Every delegation to the Prime Minister's office had an R.C.M.P. officer in the background. The Communists knew the officers and the belief is held that some of them pulled the leg of one of the sleuths who took it seriously.

Is it so that some respectable citizens are haled into court by police officers and a fine and costs recorded against them while others are allowed to go Scott free for similar cases—What about the signs?

A local reporter hearing that an ancient sword had been stolen hunted up the historical society members, the local police and the R. C. M. P. but found out that the sword had been stolen from the Tower of London and was not of a local nature.

There is a certain funny private citizen in the city, who since the last of June imagines that he is in the Cabinet or the next thing to it. It is amusing to see him high hatting citizens who have been more or less prominent for years while he was unknown. Put a beggar on horseback, and he will ride to the devil.

"We want war", say the Ethiopians. "We shall march on", say the Italians. So it is easily seen that the peacemakers have a hard job.

The C. C. F. seems to be on the way out. That is what happens all the new parties with quick-acting plans for promoting the national weal.

Canadian electors will do well to study the disturbed political conditions in France and Spain because of too many parties of almost equal strength in their Legislative Chambers. Then they should make sure that the Liberals have a substantial majority over all, with a definite mandate to proceed with the business of the country.

BRITISH FLIERS SAFE; PLANE LOST

KHARTUM, Anglo-Egyptian Sudan, Sept. 24—For the second time, fate balked the British aviator T. Campbell Black and his companion on an attempt to set a record for the flight from England to the Cape and return. The couple bailed out of their airplane Sunday, it was learned last night, and the machine crashed and burned. Campbell Black and his copilot, J. H. G. McArthur, jumped safely on the west bank of the Nile Sunday as their machine got out of control.

The plane crashed west of the Kabushia railway station, 130 miles from here and was burned.

The fliers had been unreported since leaving Cairo Saturday, and some anxiety for their fate was felt. They turned up at Kabushia yesterday however, after a camel ride from the scene of the accident, and then boarded a train for Atabara. Details of the accident were not learned.

A. J. DOUCET KENT COUNTY CANDIDATE

Chosen Reconstruction Candidate — Has Not Resigned Post on Compensation Board.

(Special to The Daily Mail)
REXTON, Kent Co., Sept. 24—A. J. Doucet, Notre Dame, was today chosen as Reconstruction party candidate to contest this county in the coming Dominion election. At a convention held here, he defeated Dr. Alyre LeBlanc, Buctouche, by a vote of 59 to 10.

The candidate makes the third in the field in this county, Telephone Arsenault being the Conservative nominee and L. P. A. Robichaud the Liberal standard bearer.

No word has been received in Fredericton regarding the resignation of A. J. Doucet from the New Brunswick Compensation Board of which he is a member. In order to contest the election his resignation from the board would be imperative.

A. C. Taylor, minister of agriculture, who spoke particularly of junior agricultural clubs and the important part they are playing in the future of the agricultural industry, reminding the people that co-operation between farmer, business-man and the government was necessary in his official capacity. Mr. Taylor then declared the fair formally opened.

F. M. Tweedie, M.L.A.-elect, Chatham, was also on the platform, and enjoyable selections were rendered by the North Shore (N. B.) Regiment Band.

Municipalities Union Meets At Moncton

opening session of the 29th annual convention of the Union of New Brunswick Municipalities here last night, E. Claude Seeley called upon delegates to bend their efforts toward finding some solution for the unemployment problem.

Mr. Seeley, a member of the Saint John Municipal Council, declared that municipalities cannot carry on under the present relief system and that some way must be found of providing "work, with pay, for those who are unemployed".

He pictured the present economic problems as the result of faulty distribution and their solution as the creation of purchasing power, the placing of money back in circulation. The president of the union urged that all government, municipal, provincial and federal, unite and work to this end.

Welcomes Delegates
At the outset of his address Mr. Seeley welcomed the delegates and outside speakers and expressed the hope that the sessions would be profitable.

"Your presence here", he said, "from practically all the cities, towns and municipalities, is strong evidence of a desire to promote measures for the betterment of the province as a whole".

He spoke in appreciation of the welcome tendered the convention by Moncton and also of the work of Hon. J. B. McNair, K. C., attorney-general, the secretary-treasurer of the union.

Mr. Seeley extended congratulations to the new provincial government and assurance that the union would assist Premier Dugas in any way it could, and also thanks to the late government headed by Hon. L. P. D. Tilley from which, he said, full co-operation had always been received.

"Let us forget, our politics for the next five years", he urged, "and give the present government our loyal support in order that they may be able to break the yoke of depression, which has and is bringing so much suffering to the people of this province".

Big Liberal Meeting At Burt's Corner

"That no Canadian government at the present time could cause a world-wide depression", was the statement made by Bert Sutherland at a public meeting held in the interests of the Liberal party last night at Burt's Corner, by the Twentieth Century Liberal Association. Other speakers included Frank Osborne, Donald Richards, Robert Rush, Dr. Percy Thompson and Byron Fisher. Murray Brewer acted as chairman. Selections were rendered by the Marysville quartet. The personal of the quartet is J. Cain, Marven Mitchell, Douglas Cochrane and Harold Tait.

Mr. Sutherland said that he would not go so far as to say that the Conservative policies have not accentuated the depression. With regard to the Stevens party, he said that Mr. Stevens tells us all that is wrong, which anybody can do at the present time, and yet he offers us no solutions. He knows all the strings of prejudices and feelings to pull, such as hitting at the big interests, the unemployment camps and taking up Maritime Rights but he holds forth no lasting remedies. He has Woodsworth thunder without even so much as a solution. Woodsworth is at least man enough to bring forth a solution. But with regard to Woodsworth solutions, the present psychology of the people as a whole will not tolerate such policies. They are a little too far ahead of our time.

Mr. Sutherland said that under the capitalistic system it is only practical to try one solution and that is to get trade. If we really wish to tackle the big interests of Ontario, and Quebec, we can put them in competition with firms of other countries by lowering our tariff. There are two major solutions held forth by the political parties. They are protection versus free trade. Bennett and Stevens hold to the former while King holds to the latter. But we have already tried protection.

Other meetings which were held last night in the interest of the Liberal party were at Estey Creek, where the speakers were W. G. Clark and P. J. Hughes, and at Nashwaak Bridge, where the speakers were Ernest Stairs, M. P. P., Ralph Gunter, M. P.
