Mrs. W. J. West was recently hostess at a charmingly arranged tea and shower at her home in honor of Miss Marjorie Gatcombe, whose marriage to Dalton Mix takes place on Saturday in Ottawa. The idea carried out was a "mixed" shower, the gifts being placed in a "mixing" bowl brought in by Master Ronald and Douglas Baird, dressed as chefs, and which contained many variegated and pretty gifts for future Mrs. Mix. The tea table was prettily centred with snapdragon and Queen Anne's lace on a reflector. About thirty guests were present. Mrs. A. F. Baird presided over the tea-cups, assisted in serving by Miss Myrtle Moffatt, Miss Mary McMurray and Miss Edith Edgecombe. Mrs. A. T. McMurray replenished. The house was attractive with a profusion of garden flowers.

CYCLONE STORIES
FROM P. E. ISLAND
ARE UNFOLDED

BORDEN, P. E. I., June 18—Some near tragic and some amusing incidents were described here today as the story of the Albany cyclone was further unfolded.

As barns fell like decks of cards and machinery and trees were hurled in the air in the week-end's disastrous storm, Jimmy McGaughey, 16-year-old boy, heard the storm coming and ran to save him chickens.

"I picked two of them up near the apple trees opposite the front of the house," he said. "The first thing I knew, I was carried up into the air."

"I landed there," the lad continued, pointing to a spot to the northwest about 100 feet away.

"I was carried up among the apple trees, and clutched the blossoms as I was coming down."

"I saved the chickens, however," he remarked with pride.

Horse Rolled 200 Yards

A horse was found 200 yards away from where it had been standing. It was lying on its side in a stunned condition.

Charles McGaughey, a former employee by Rev. Father W. E. Monaghan, was carried off the ground but escaped injury.

John Monaghan, a brother of the priest was in a wagon when the cyclone struck. He also was carried a considerable distance.

Fred Hooper, working with a tractor in the field, crawled under the tractor. He was pelted by the flying sods and pounded against the machine.

"I have seen damage done by the waterspouts in Connecticut and New York State, declared Mr. McGaughey, "but nothing like the damage done at Albany."

Hailstones For Freezer

Freezing ice cream with hailstones was the novel experience of E. E. Joy, who during the storm at Peakes, P. E. I., on Friday secured a sufficient quantity for the purpose with bushels to spare.

During the storm here, which lasted for more than an hour, hailstones as large as robins' eggs fell. The hail was as hard as flint and perfectly clear, Mr. Jay said.

Several grain fields in the vicinity were ruined when the plants were driven into the ground by the storm's onslaught.

LATE FLASHES

WASHINGTON, June 18—A bill to provide Government construction and operation subsidies for United States shipping instead of subsidy through ocean mail contracts was approved today by the House Merchant Marine Committee.

HAVANA, June 18—Police revealed today that extortionists had threatened Mrs. Ted Seeley, wife of the vice-president of the Frederick Share Corporation, unless she paid $10,000.

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras, June 18—Two men and one woman were killed by lightning during a heavy thunderstorm in the town of Corquin. Houses were damaged and livestock destroyed.

JACKSON, Miss., June 18—Authorities disclosed today that Leslie Day, 30 year old highway worker, shot his three children to death and then turned the gun on himself.

YORK COUNTY CASES

At an adjourned sitting of the York County Court this morning, His Honor Judge A. R. Slipp passed judgment in two cases. The first was that of Leo Raridon, who had been convicted by Magistrate Limerick. Judge Slipp confirmed the judgment and dismissed the appeal. Albert Murray, acting counsel for Raridon, gave notice that the case would be taken to the N. B. Appeal Court. In the case of Alexander Fraser, local taxi driver, who had appealed from a conviction of Magistrate Limerick on a conviction for being in control of an automobile while under the influence of liquor, Judge Slipp upheld the conviction but reduced the trial judge's sentence from thirty days to seven days. C. L. Dougherty represented the Crown in both cases.

Tariff Board Hears Plea For Uniform Policy

points completely nullified our every geographical advantage.

"Central Canada has certainly left us nothing that could be taken from us; nor can we see that they have done anything to help our industrial development. We do know that they have discouraged it, more than once. We are certainly not conscious of the investment of Central Canada in our enterprises nor in the development of our natural potentialities.

But, we continue to be the dumping ground for their surplus production—their foreign market; and we have to contribute to protect their automobile and other manufacturers, which is another way of saying that we pay so that they may charge us a higher price for autos and every other industrial commodity. There is an almost Alice in Wonderland absurdity in the whole situation, were it not so tragic for us.

F. McClure Sclander criticizes the fiscal policy of Canada as follows:

"We do not hesitate to contend it thoroughly wrong that 80 percent of the entire benefit of Canada's fiscal policy should be concentrated in Ontario and Quebec; and we are confident that our fellow-countrymen of Ontario and Quebec would endorse this contention; and, in the case of the automobile industry, (and seeing that Ontario derives all the benefit of employment, pay roll, and other advantages), there should be—and we believe there would be—a ready disposition to yield some share of such benefits to the people of other provinces who are required to pay such truly heavy tribute to enable the profitable existence of the automobile industry and of all the other industries essential thereto.

"We respectfully contend that the time has come for a thoughtful scrutiny of the whole problem of Canada's fiscal policy and of the economic significance of same to the non-central sections of our country. Obviously, a continuance of the present order of things must, inevitably, go on increasing centralization of all economic development factors to the very serious detriment of the non-central provinces. Of course, we willingly admit that, through time and tribulation, the evil might evolve its own cure; but, to rely upon time to induce the remedy would certainly invite national calamity which a broad and patriotic statesmanship will, doubtless, foresee and take steps to elude.

BUSY WRITING EXAMS.

York county pupils of the graded schools were busy again today writing the high school entrance examinations being carried on in the Provincial Normal School. The exams commenced yesterday morning and will last until Friday afternoon. Two papers are being written each day. R. D. Hanson, secretary of the Fredericton Board of School Trustees, is supervising.

Suggest British Experts

"In discussing this matter, we have not ventured any constructive suggestion involving a practical solution. However, we might remark that, in the Motherland, there are many able men who have devoted their lives to problems of state, and who are competent to study our problem and indicate a solution fair to all—a solution that would not permit the building up of two central provinces at the expense of all the others—and, especially, of the Maritimes. We believe that the Imperial government would gladly suggest to us the men who, of all others, are best qualified for such a task. May we hope sincerely that this suggestion will be favorably received and acted upon.
