"BIG TRAIN" IS FACING CRISIS IN MANAGER'S ROLE

Gets 'Rap' From All Sides at Cleveland—A Sports Scribe Says He's a "Sports Martyr."

DETROIT, June 11—Walter Johnson arrived in town submerged in the great crisis of his managerial career. Petitions are flooding the home office in Cleveland demanding his dismissal. No manager in years has been the object of an attack either as vicious or insistent as the one launched against Johnson. It is a holiday for the second guessers, a carnival for the grandstand.

We do not believe that Johnson is a great manager. He has his faults, but all managers have. He may have, and we believe, more than the majority. But whatever his faults are, Johnson is still better equipped in baseball knowledge, technique and general equipment than the fellows who are now installing themselves as his severest critics.

'A Bum Rap!'

Johnson, in the lexicon of sport, is taking a bum rap. He is being accused of anything and everything that can contribute to the loss of a game. He is being pilloried and castigated, by clergy of the Deanery of Shediac.

During the services on Sunday, June 23rd, at which His Grace, Most Rev. J. A. Richardson Archbishop of Fredericton, will be present memorials will be dedicated, including an oak communion rail, given to the church in memory of Harry Swetnam, son of the late Conductor and Mrs. James Swetnam who was killed in the Great War (this memorial is replacing the Swetnam memorial in the old church which was a rood screen), an altar cross in memory of William Murphy, liberal benefactor of the church who died a few years ago; two memorial windows in memory of W. E. Hunter and his daughter, Mary Grace Hunter; and an oak Litany Desk, the gift of Harry W. Wynn in memory of empty handed. In closing the speaker appealed to the people to consider the issues carefully when they cast their votes and made a special appeal to the women voters to get behind the party and work for it.

H. A. Smith

H. A. Smith, Fredericton, also attacked the inconsistency of the Opposition's criticism of the Tilley government and dealt quite fully with the tourist of the province. He declared that the hard surfaced roads in New Brunswick would be a stimulant to this industry. He condemned the opposition for criticising the Tourist Bureau saying that it is one of the most important departments of the government. 'The hard-surfaced roads will not cost the people of the province a cent. The tourists will pay for them with the revenue they bring the government while in this country', said Mr. Smith. He referred to the opposition's remarks concerning the policy of the Government in restoring the ten per cent cuts to the civil servants saying he did not notice Mr. Dysart offering to refuse the restoration of his cut. For this reason the opposition did not show consistency with their views declared the speaker. He accused the opposition of not telling the truth and talking in half truths. They started off quite fast two weeks ago but now that the people are finding they do not tell the truth, they are not going so fast. The sooner the people realize they are not telling the truth the better it will be for the province, he stated.

W. J. West

W. J. West, Fredericton, spoke briefly on the coming election pointing out the philosophies of the two parties. He declared that the Tilley Government philosophy is to "work together for the good of the people as a whole" whereas the Liberal philosophy is "Forget the other fellow and look out for yourself". He advised them to weigh both parties carefully and told them that if they did there would be no doubt about a victory for the Tilley government. 'We will be returned with a greater majority than we have today, and it will be a good thing for the province', concluded Mr. West.

DRUMHELLER, Alta. June 11—"I'll never ride in that car with Bill Jones" 18 year old Mabel Nelson told her mother, after dreaming she had been killed in Jones' automobile. That night two minutes after accepting an invitation to ride with Jones, she was thrown from the car and killed.

denounced and defamed, pictured as a nincapoop and fraud and the general result of the aggressive persecution is that Johnson today is possessed of a new popularity outside of Cleveland.

Those who have worked most energetically to kick him out have made Johnson a sports martyr and cast themselves in the roles of provincial persecutors. Johnson may or may not remain as manager of the Cleveland team but if he goes he will carry with him a moral and popular victory.

The basis of the entire trouble is the ballyhoo that preceded the Cleveland season. The Cleveland team was glamorously pictured as a super baseball machine, powerful, impregnable and invincible. Reading the effusions one wondered why the remaining games on the schedule were not cancelled and Cleveland awarded the pennant to save time and trouble.

Doing Pretty Well

Cleveland got away to a good start, so good in fact that the boys began to wonder whether the race would not be over by Aug. 1. Then the ills that beset all ball clubs at some time or other hit Cleveland. The team's leading batter continued in a very serious slump and a few of the most dependable pitchers began to miss. With all these woes Cleveland is today only a short distance out of first place, an enviable position for any team at this time of the season, but that is hardly satisfying for a clientele that expected its team to go undefeated. Someone has to be blamed for Cleveland not leading the league by half a dozen games and the blame, naturally, falls on the manager. Of course, it could never be a temporary reversal of baseball luck! So the storm broke on Johnson and it enveloped him and has all but submerged him.

PIG'S STOMACH PATCHES MAN'S

GENEVA, O., June 10—In the midst of news about upside-down stomachs and disarranged organs, H. P. Williamson, 68, of Cork, near here, has come forth to proclaim that for 23 years he has been digesting his food with a stomach part of which was once a pig's.

Williamson, more than two decades ago underwent two operations in Cleveland for ulcers of the stomach. The second time, surgeons found it necessary to do some patching.

A part of a stomach removed from a pig was used as the "patch," Williamson said.

Williamson's health has been good during the 23 years, though he has been unable to stand much exertion. He said his appetite had been normal except during two illnesses.

WHAT IS READ?

WASHINGTON, June 11—All interesting sidelight on the reading matter attracting the attention of high state department officials during the height of the European crisis over Germany's plan to re-arm was revealed last week.

Following a series of conferences among state department officials, attended by Norman H. Davis, America's chief delegate to disarmament conferences, newspaper men were granted a conference with the official in whose office the departmental conference had taken place.

They found lying upon his desk, as if serving as a text book for reference matter, a volume entitled:
"The pipedream of peace."

LIVE WHITE FOX IS CAPTURED

Possibilities of developing a strain of white foxes loom up from the capture alive of one of the species on Port Hood Island, Cape Breton, N. S., by two boys recently. It is thought the fox is one of the Arctic species which came in with the ice from the Gulf of St. Lawrence. The fox was in a rather weakened condition when captured, according to information reaching the Fish and Game Department of the Canadian National Railways, due, apparently, to lack of food.

BANKING IDEALS THAT LIVE ON

"The value of that enterprise (the Bank of Montreal) ought not to be measured by its success as a joint-stock undertaking, by the amount of its capital or the size of its dividends, but by the security it has given to those who have trusted it, the facilities it has furnished for the exchange and the increase of commodities, and the assistance it has contributed to the development of the country."

The Bank, now well on in the second century of its life, still wishes to be measured by the considerations mentioned in the foregoing quotation from "The Centenary of the Bank of Montreal," published in 1917.

Security, facilities, assistance—those have been the objectives of the Bank since its foundation in 1817. They are the objectives today and will be in the tomorrows of Canadian life.
