POSTMASTER CAMERON

Postmaster Cameron called at The Daily Mail yesterday and had an interview regarding the Post Office. Mr. Cameron contends that on public holidays all outgoing first-class mails are sorted up to noon and often afterwards and that all street letter boxes and post office letter boxes are served at 10 o'clock a.m. on holidays. He also says that two clerks are on duty on mornings of holidays and that one clerk is on duty all day. The clerk in the afternoon keeps the holiday mail moving and looks after outgoing mails. Mr. Cameron does not visit the Post Office himself on holidays, but he has every faith, he says, that all members of the staff are doing their duty. His statement is not quite along the same line as that of several citizens who have had experience with holiday mails, but he should know what he is talking about.

Mr. Cameron has been in the postal service over thirty years and this week received from the King a medal for long and faithful service. Mr. Cameron received his appointment by way of advancement in the service.

GOOD NEWS

Recent despatches from London, it true, are very reassuring. If Britain, and France can prevail upon Italy to submit her dispute with Ethiopia to a mixed commission as Ethiopia already is willing to do, before The League meets on the 20th instant to consider Ethiopia's complaints, something more like permanent peace than has obtained for a long time may be in the offing. The League, which recently censured Germany for the latter's unilateral repudiation of the Treaty of Versailles and decreed economic, and, if need be, military sanctions against future repudiators, will be up against its most serious crises on the 20th. Logically, Italy is bound to accept from The League reEthiopia the same medicine she recently helped to administer Germany and, several years ago, to Japan re Manchukuo. And, next time, sanctions are to follow. So if Italy is ready to obey The League, The League's prestige, is restored and its authority settled. In that case, neither Germany nor any power will dare lightly to cause serious trouble. Weaker members of The League, like China, will be encouraged and all The League members will draw closer together. But, if Italy should defy The League in face of The League's recent decision, she would probably think it necessary to line up with Germany as she long seemed to be doing. A continuation of Germany, Poland, Japan and Italy could make it extremely interesting for even the rest of the world. Let us hope that the Ethiopian affair can be settled amicably so as to preserve the Franco-British-Italian united front.

THE JUBILEE MEDALS

(St. Croix Courier)

In the highly creditable celebration of the Royal Silver Jubilee which took place in St. Stephen and Milltown Monday, in which every participating group did its full share to make the day one long to be remembered, the one disturbing feature was the incompleteness of the list of civilians who were honored by the presentation of jubilee medals. The men and women to whom tribute was paid were deserving of recognition, either by virtue of work they have performed or by reason of the various positions they occupy during this jubilee year; the point is that the list was incomplete; other men and women whose record of public service is outstanding were overlooked both in St. Stephen and at other points in Charlotte county.

However it came about, this portion of the jubilee program was somewhat bungled. The commemorative medals which would have been invaluable mementos to men and women who have served their communities well, Keith.

and who are now in many cases in their declining years, did not come their way. The choice of names for that list should have received the most careful consideration; it should have been made a matter of consultation among various persons in the communities concerned. Instead, it was quite evidently made up either in great haste or by individuals with a very hazy knowledge of local conditions.

In any event a study of the list reveals that names were omitted from it which would never have been overlooked if men familiar with the civic, provincial or federal affairs of this section of the Province had been consulted.

Today's Market

Today's market at Phoenix Square was a large one, many farmers being present and prices were about the same as usual. The prevailing prices were as follows:

Eggs, per dozen, 25 cents.
 Butter, per pound, 25 cents.
 Potatoes, per barrel, 80 cents.
 Chicken, per pound, 24 cents.
 Veal, per pound, 10 to 14 cents.
 Beef, per pound, 4 to 6 cents.
 Wood, per load, $4 to $8.

NEW DEVELOPMENTS

The alleged murder of George Madore, Minto miner, who was stabbed on a darkened mine shaft on September 8 last has new developments. It had been alleged that Madore met death during a scuffle in which Alex. Nicholas another Minto miner, was severely cut also. R.C.M.P. who investigated the case said the knife had been in the hands of Patsi Rocco, Italian mine worker. Rocco was subsequently tried and sentenced to a term in the Gagetown jail for causing grievous bodily harm. Tony Daniels, a companion of Rocco, is now in the Queens county jail awaiting trial on a charge of having murdered Madore. The latest development is that both Rocco and Daniels will be charged with the murder. They will be individually indicted in the Queens circuit court at Gagetown on May 21, with Mr. Justice LeBlanc presiding. R. P. Hartley, K.C., deputy attorney general will be in charge of the case, and C. L. Dougherty, of this city will prosecute.

To Stand Trial

TORONTO, May 11—Charged with the murder of his wife whose body was found under a lilac bush in a residential district here last July 17, Alwynne E. Thompson was committed for trial yesterday by Magistrate Wm. Keith.

OUR MAIL BAG

THE INDIANS

Editor Daily Mail.

Dear Sir: I am interested in your Old Times Recalled papers from the Fredericton Historical Society and I keep them in a scrap book. Mrs. Squires writes a very interesting account of the Indians at what is now Devon but I am afraid she painted all the Indians in very dark colours. There were some quite bad Indians and some fairly good Indians, just as there are good and bad white people. None of us as a class would like to be all painted as bad. Considering the chances which the Indians had and the fact that they were near to town and were supplied with rum by the white people, both from town and from Devon, they were not too bad, and there were really some very decent people amongst them. History is supposed to give an unbiased account of things that have passed. Perhaps Mrs. Squires did not intend to be biased. She may have only come in contact with the worst class of Indians of her day. Some of the descendants of the people whom she writes about are living in Devon today and they are comparatively decent people.

Yours truly,

Mussolini Urged to Adapt Arbitration

 asserted today in a biting editorial criticizing the "cannon merchants". "Germany has furnished Abyssinia with abundant chemical materials", he said. "It is believed they will be used to manufacture explosives, and air and gas bombs."

"It is learned that from a reliable source that Germany is now preparing new shipments to Ethiopia of rifles, machine guns, tanks, and Junker airplanes".

Gayda said mobilization was well under way throughout Abyssinia, especially in two vast zones facing the confines of Italian Somaliland and Eritrea.

Unemployed Riots In Newfoundland

Wilkinson, an alleged spokesman for the jobless, was knocked unconscious and taken to hospital. Several policemen were hurt by stones.

The camera of a second press photographer was smashed to bits.

Three arrests were made.

The government, in its refusal to meet with the unemployed, said control of public works must remain with the department of public works.

IN NORTH SYDNEY

NORTH SYDNEY, May 11—Unemployment demonstrators swept a policeman aside here today and surged into Town Hall to demand an increased scale of direct relief.

Royal Canadian Mounted Police and town officers broke up the crowd as it milled about the building in search of Mayor F. L. Kelly, and three alleged ringleaders were arrested and jailed.

The throng of 100 men and women had descended on the civic headquarters to press for the return of the former relief scale, which they claimed had been cut, although municipal officials denied any reduction had gone into effect.

Chief of Police Louis Clarke gathered his few men and followed them in, to be joined soon by the Mounties. There was little violence as they arrested William Ross, Richard Brown and Isaac Fillier, and dispersed the mob.

SEIZED CARS SOLD

Seven cars, confiscated under the Intoxicating Liquor Act of the province, were sold at public auction this morning on the premises of the New Brunswick Liquor Control Board. A large number gathered and there was some spirited bidding. The biggest price was $475, and the lowest $5, the last named being an old Ford and there was much amusement among the crowd as the car was auctioned off. The bidding started at 10 o'clock, with Leonard Box acting as auctioneer. The cars sold included a Studebaker coupe, Studebaker sedan, Ford touring, Ford coupe, Ford roadster, Plymouth sedan and a Chev coach.

C.C.F. ADDRESSES IN MARITIMES BY WESTERN M. P.

FREDERICTON JCT., May 11—During the Parliamentary recess, Angus MacGinnis, M.P. for Vancouver South, and Mrs. MacInnis, son-in-law and daughter of the C. C. F. leader, J. S. Woodsworth, M.P. for Winnipeg North-Centre, toured the Maritimes on behalf of the Third Party. They spoke in Chatham, May 2; Moncton, May 3; McAdam, May 4; Fredericton Jct., May 5, and Saint John on May 6th. Thence they went to Halifax for several nights, and afterwards to Charlottetown, after which they will take a few days' rest in Mr. MacInnis' birthplace, Glen William, P.E.I., before returning to Ottawa for the reopening of Parliament on the 20th. In the Agriculture Hall here, Mrs. MacInnis spoke on "Who Owns Canada?" and Mr. MacInnis on "The New Social Order." H. H. Stuart presided. The speakers claimed that capitalism, which had served a very useful purpose in by-gone days, had now broken down and needed to be replaced by a Co-operative Commonwealth, not on a Communist or Fascist model but on a Social-Democratic basis. The audience was large and representative.

A mystifying complaint of the Nazis is that Jews own half the apartment houses in Berlin. Over here this would be considered punishment enough.
