LORD TWEEDSMUIR

Lord Tweedsmuir, our new Governor General will be with us today and all good Canadians will extend to His Majesty's representative in this Dominion and to his good wife, a hearty welcome. We hope that their stay with us will be a pleasant one, both for themselves and for all concerned.

Lord Tweedsmuir is well known throughout the English-speaking world as John Buchan, the novelist. Thousands have read his excellent books. He is also a statesman of more than ordinary ability. Lord Tweedsmuir believes in world fellowship instead of war and in this he is a true patriot.

As part of the British Empire, Canadians today enjoy the best system of government that the world has ever known and we are proud of this fact. It is due to this system of government and to the excellent rulers which we have had that our Empire and Throne survive when many others have passed off the world's stage. We have been fortunate in the men who have come to us as Governors General. We know that our present Governor General-designate will keep up the traditions of the office and we gladly join in the welcome to himself and Lady Tweedsmuir.

MR. AND MRS. H. W. WOODS

Citizens generally will regret the departure from Fredericton of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Woods. They intend to leave here in about three weeks for Welsford, their former home, where they will reside in future.

Mr. and Mrs. Woods have resided in Fredericton since 1919, and have been exceptionally good citizens, both of them taking an active part in all that made for the welfare of the community. Mr. Woods, who was known and liked in Fredericton while he was a member of the Legislature, fitted from the first into the life of the city when he arrived here. He was connected with affairs around Christchurch Cathedral. He is also president of the A. and B. Club and is active in other organizations. His pleasant manner and timely jokes will be missed by all who know him. His home was the centre of hospitality, and both he and Mrs. Woods were sincere friends.

Mrs. Woods who was recently honored by King George when she received the M.B.E. decoration in recognition of her community service, has been a valuable worker in Christchurch Cathedral, on the Victorian Order Board, the I.O.D.E., the Women's Institute, and in the Central Welfare League. In all of these organizations she has held important offices, and in all her advice was sought and her service was freely given. She worked hard for everything which she believed to be for the good of the community. Her departure, like that of Mr. Woods, will be a loss from a community standpoint.

All citizens who take an interest in community affairs while regretting the removal of Mr. and Mrs. Woods will wish them every measure of happiness in their old homestead at Welsford.

MODERATION

A new organization has just been announced. Its object, according to the publicity, is to promote moderation in the matter of drinking liquor. That's fine, but why limit it to the drinking of liquor? Why not make it "Moderation in living?"

As a people, we are apt to go to extremes. What we do, we do to the extreme limit of our capacities and our endurance—and we brag about it. A young man tells how he drank seven bottles of beer last night—and tells it with pride. A girl speaks with pride of dancing until the soles of her shoes fell off and she had a pain in her side. These things have nothing to commend in them; they are simply evidence of a foolish idea that the world looks with admiration on excess.

Excess in anything, whether it is in the drinking of liquor, playing or working brings nothing but penalties, no merits nothing but pity. Enthusiasm the pursuit of this or that is not to be desired, but intelligent enthusiasm is tempered by moderation.

Moderation does not mean the phlegmatic or indifferent use of the "Goods the Gods provide," but it does mean that the exaggeration of the value of pleasure to be derived from the excessive use or pursuit of anything has a kickback—comfort may become weariness, pleasure may become pain, and work may become burdensome toil; and yet any or all of them were designed for the good of mankind. Too much candy becomes nauseating, and a mustard plaster loses its value when it gets to the blistering stage—and sunburn. We found that out.

Moderation—fine—but why confine it to the drinking of liquor?

SNAPSHOTS

The previous generation wasn't so righteous. It just pulled the blinds down.

Don't forget Poppy Day is coming!

The Daily Mail has received word about gambling and drinking in a certain club where husbands are spending all the money that should go to the wife and family. This club is one organization which should remember wives and families. The soft pedal is placed on this for the present. Perhaps the members will regulate things so that it will not be necessary to say any more.

In Montreal City Council two Aldermen called each other liars. The Mayor when appealed to admitted that he could not tell who the greater liar was. In Fredericton the Aldermen do not call each other liars during the council meetings. Some of them do this on the streets, after the meeting.

We have not heard anything this week about Alderman F. S. Mundie going to throw his tan or his kilts into the ring for the Mayoralty contest.

We have received a real hot shot letter giving the Tories the devil. Some of the stuff we know to be false, other portions we do not know to be true. In any event, the election was over on October 14 last, so for Heaven's sake, let us forget it. Thank God there will not be another one for a long time.

Mussolini persists in denying that it is a war. Comparing the casualty lists with the traffic toll, he may be right.

Japan and Mongolia may also be able to stir up a row, but it will not be so impressive to the white races as warfare by whites on blacks.

News from Italian and Ethiopian sources regarding the fighting in Africa continue to be contradictory, thus living up to the best traditions of war correspondents who are miles away from the front.

Some of these press despatches regarding the war are fearful and wonderful, giving out one story one day and contradicting it the next.

We wonder how much advertising for the munition manufacturers is contained in some of this propaganda.

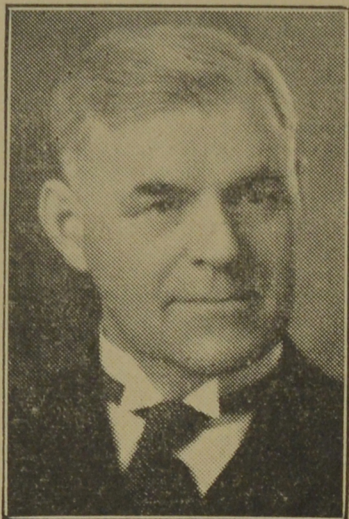

FARM CREDIT BOARD MEETS HERE TODAY

A meeting of the Farmers' Creditors Arrangement Board was held here today with Mr. Justice C. D. Richards, chairman, presiding. All members of the Board were present to pass decisions on cases that had been already heard by them, particularly cases that had been heard in the last session. Those present today besides the chairman were J. D. Palmer, Fredericton, representing the creditors, Arthur E. McIntosh, Glassville, Carleton county, representing the debtors, and Paul C. Quinn, Saint John, registrar.

ONE HUNDRED MARYS

Over one hundred Marys gathered at Harvey's Studio today in reply to the advertisement offering free photos to any girl bearing the name Mary. There were pretty Marys, homely Marys, fat Marys and thin Marys, old Marys and young Marys, but all "had their pictures took." The studio was a busy place during the morning.

Opening Address

Hon. A. A. Dysart, premier of New Brunswick, who will give the formal opening address at the Maritime Winter Fair at Amherst on November 8. C. F. Bailey, superintendent of the Dominion Experimental Station here, and president of the Maritime Stock Breeders' Association also is to speak.

"ENTRIES WERE CONTRARY TO FACT" - PROBE

CAMPBELLTON, N. B., Nov. 2 — The examination of John Clevette, bridge timekeeper, was continued when the Restigouche County department of public works payroll probe resumed here yesterday afternoon. The witness was on the stand during the whole afternoon session and will likely be recalled at a later date. The investigation into the payrolls of the department is being conducted by P. J. Hughes, K. C., Fredericton, with Benoit Michaud, Campbellton, as counsel for the department.

Clevette was further questioned in connection with the amount of cedar used in the various bridges. In many instances the figures given by him differed from those given during his testimony Thursday.

"Entries Contrary To Fact" He admitted having prepared the payrolls with Mr. Murchie and of making a great many of the entries in his own handwriting knowing that many of entries were contrary to fact.

He admitted giving orders to Thomas Charette for about $50, knowing that Charette had worked but three days and had supplied cedar worth about $12. The witness admitted also giving orders to Charles Francoeur and others "at the request of Edgar Ouellet, who at that time was foreman of the work at John Ouellet's wharf". He said he gave the orders to Edgar Ouellet personally and he did not know if Francoeur or the others ever received value for them.

The hearing adjourned at six p.m. and Mr. Hughes stated that he could not set a definite date for his return but it would probably be about the middle of November.

PREMIER GOES HOME

Premier A. A. Dysart left this afternoon for his home in Buctouche, where he will spend the week-end. It is anticipated that the government will meet here early next week.

BOYS STOLE BOTTLES

Two Fredericton boys appeared in the police court this morning charged with the theft of milk bottles. Police Magistrate Walter Limerick allowed them to go after a warning. The suggestion was made that the mothers of the boys give them the touch of the strap.

Sheriff Given Keys to Office This Morning

(Continued from Page One) visited the interested parties that ex-Sheriff Smith was required by law to hand over the keys to the new appointee.

Harry Maston, appointed jailer by Sheriff Goodspeed, is today at the County Jail where he will reside during his term of office. Sheriff Goodspeed stated this morning that the ex-Sheriff was not averse to handing over the keys through any personal feeling, but that he was just anxious to see the change made in a legal manner so that everything would be in order for the new Sheriff to take over.

DIVORCE COURT ADJOURNED TO NOVEMBER 19

The fall session of the New Brunswick Court of Divorce and Matrimonial Causes adjourned yesterday afternoon to November 19, after ordering last week a total of thirteen decrees out of 18 cases on the docket. The other five are to be concluded at another sitting. Mr. Justice Grimmer presided.

The defended action of Harry Eldon Beyea, Saint John, vs. Kathryn Madeline Beyea, Saint John, was continued yesterday, and the petitioner's case was completed before noon adjournment, the witnesses being Mr. Beyea, Lionel Darcus, George Bishop and J. Edgar Beyea and Herbert J. Kilpatrick all of Saint John.

At the afternoon sitting, Mrs. Beyea was the only witness heard for the respondent, and continuation of the case was adjourned tentatively until Nov. 19. During proceedings, Mr. Justice Grimmer ordered the registrar to add to the court records the name of Wesley Nearn as co-respondent. Miles B. Innes, K.C., Saint John, is proctor for the petitioner, and J. Starr Tait, K.C., Saint John, for the respondent.

Two cases were stood over pending the filing of further documents, all the evidence having been submitted, while the petition in a third case was to be amended and reserved. A fourth case was not dealt with because of the illness of counsel.

THE RECIPES POPULAR

The Daily Mail is publishing from day to day the recipes of the different ladies who win prizes and honorable mention in our cooking contest. We will continue to publish these recipes until our contest is over several weeks from now. Several women have told us that they are trying out the recipes and that they are collecting them in scrap book form.

QUALITY or QUANTITY

Take your choice. You cannot expect both. Many people buy flavoring extract that is put up in large containers at a low price but they get QUANTITY only.

The housewife that takes pride in her cooking demands flavoring extract of high QUALITY. We recommend our PURE IMPERIAL EXTRACT which is of the highest QUALITY.

Ask your grocer for it. There is no other just as good.
