

HON. W. H. HARRISON FORECASTS

A BALANCED BUDGET IN 1935

and upkeep, stated the Attorney General.

Stumpage

The idea of the opposition devising a new system of stumpage rates is ridiculous and could not be done without decreasing revenue to a dangerous degree.

Referring to Hon. A. A. Dysart's speech, he stated that as far as he could see the leader of the opposition expected to increase expenditure by $100,000 decrease revenue and still balance the budget.

Progress of colonization and the extension of the power line from Grand Lake to Newcastle are good indications of the government's attempts to make life in New Brunswick satisfactory for the laboring man.

In closing Hon. Mr. Harrison stated that the government is alive to encouraging and increasing industry for the benefit of the laboring man.

Following the Attorney General's speech, the government whip, E. C. Atkinson arose to a question of privilege to explain that F. W. Pirie was not listed on a vote containing the names of the speakers in the opposition on the day of the motion of the amendment. This cleared matters for the leader of the opposition, but made it difficult for the whip of the opposition.

H. O. DOWNEY

H. O. Downey, Albert, Opposition, in resuming the debate on the budget congratulated all who spoke before him. They had done well on each occasion, he said.

The Honorable Provincial Secretary Treasurer on Friday last was very eloquent in bringing down his Budget.

In his budget he expects to raise $345,000 more revenue than was raised last year. He states that "the long lumber trade is in a much better condition than it was two or three years ago." I wonder how he came to that conclusion. The fact is that the price of long lumber today is much lower than it has been any time during the last two or three years.

He also stated that "the recent bond issue by the province was indicative of its sound financial condition." This is not so, and nobody knows that any better than the Hon. Provincial Secretary.

At this time I must say is no time to restore the pay cuts to Civil Service Employees. Why should fellow workers not in the Civil Service be put further in debt to pay increased salaries to men in the public service who are now getting much more pay than they are getting.

It looked as though the $300,000 subsidy from Ottawa was going for increased salaries to members and government employees.

We should be ashamed to know that our government is voting itself an increase in pay. Our deficit is the largest in history with thousands of good citizens out of work, unable to buy clothing to wear or food to eat.

I heartily concur in the amendment moved by the opposition that this increase should not be made at this time. Though we were voted down, we know that the stand we took is the proper and just one.

Branch Lines

The country is getting in such a desperate condition that there is talk of closing up three or four branch lines in the province. The people along these lines were directly taxed for years to pay for these lines. The railways belong to the people, and should be used to serve the people. We must have lower taxation in all its forms so that the railways will have something to do. When the time comes and our internal and external trade increases, our branch lines will pay their way. Closing up branch lines will needlessly throw more men out of work.

Deficit

In considering the debt situation of the province, we find the funded debt of the province is $65,000,000. What a deplorable state for the province to be in. In 1933 it took $3,442,414.02 to pay the interest charges on our debt, or 65.3 percent of our total revenue. This government has had five deficits in succession, and the last one of $876,551, is the largest in history. In the face of this the Premier is raising salaries.

When the Honorable Provincial Secretary brought down his estimates last year, he estimated a deficit of $153,842. When the accounts were closed for the year, it actually was $876,551. The same thing occurs year after year.

We should have a balanced budget. If we had capable business men at the head of affairs, we could have it. If our whole debt was refunded as I advocated in this House last year, we could save enough in interest charges alone to pay the deficits twice over. But this would come out of the pockets of the bond holders who our Government would never attempt to molest.

There is the need for a change of government in this province. When the time comes for the people to cast their ballots, I know that there will be a change for the common good of all.

Poor Trade Balance

Let us now consider the adverse trade balance of several million dollars we have each year with the central provinces of Canada, and the taxation problem which has become so acute. Everything we wear is taxed. Everything we eat is taxed. Everything we use in our work is taxed. The whole country has been driven desperate by taxation.

This policy has only been made possible by the support of our friends opposite. We must have less restrictions on internal trade and better trade relations with other countries.

Premier's Trip

Last summer the Premier took a trip to England supposedly in the interest of the lumber trade.

He had a good time I hear. He came back and spoke in very optimistic terms about the prospects of our lumber in the British Market. Here again he assumed the role of a prophet, and fails. The trip cost the province $1,380.00 for which they apparently received no value.

Hydro Line

In one breath the Premier says he is not losing any sleep over the financial situation of the province, and in the next breath he says that he could not get money to extend the Hydro line into the Miramichi until last summer. This has been built on the eve of an election to curry favor.

The Chairman of the Hydro Commission states that they did not have time to get the poles for this line in

DRIVE OF REINDEER FROM

ALASKA FOR ESKIMOS

Herd Successfully Crosses Mackenzie River and Establishment on New Range To Be Completed by March 15.

OTTAWA, Ont., March 6.—The great drive of reindeer from western Alaska along the Arctic rim of the continent to the area set aside for them east of the delta of the Mackenzie river in Canada's Northwest Territories will be completed by March 15 and the experiment of providing a new source of food and clothing for our northernmost citizens—the Eskimos—will be proceeded with. The recent announcement by Honourable Thomas G. Murphy, Minister of the Interior, that the herd had arrived at Tunanuk, on the east bank of the Mackenzie river on February 21, indicated that the last major obstacle in the path of the movement had been surmounted, and it was estimated by departmental officers in the North that the delivery of the herd by the vendors to the summer range of the government's Reindeer Station at Kittigazuit would be made by mid-March.

Thus was completed the first step in the Department of the Interior's plan for assisting the Eskimo. Some years ago it was realized that as civilization advanced into the Far North, the wild life upon which the natives depended for a living would gradually disappear. The increasing demand for fur and the consequent high fur prices prevailing up to the end of the last decade saw the establishment of a string of trading posts along Canada's Arctic coast. The coming of the trading posts brought about a decided change in the normal life of the Eskimo. From a nomad following the seal, the walrus, the spawning fish, and the migrating caribou for his humble necessities, he devoted more and more time to the hunting and trapping of fur-bearers with gradually lessened time for his own natural pursuits. To the game supply of the country the introduction of modern high-powered firearms and unlimited supplies of ammunition proved serious. Tremendous inroads were made into the caribou, one of the mainstays in the domestic economy of the natives, changed with consequent distress to the Eskimos. The Dominion Government has watched these changes with growing concern lest the natives, confined to one line of hunting, might be seriously affected by the periodic fluctuations in the numbers of fur-bearers and by changes in the fur market. With the object of broadening the basis of subsistence of the natives, especially in view of the rapid advance of mining in the Northwest Territories, the Department of the Interior has taken steps not only for the conservation of the wild life by the establishment of native preserves and the strengthening of game laws, but by the experiment of introducing semi-domesticated reindeer into the Canadian North.

A study of the reindeer industry in Alaska and a survey of possible reindeer grazing areas in Canada's Far North was undertaken in 1926 and this was followed in 1929 by the purchase of 3,000 picked deer from herds in the Kotzebue Sound area of Western Alaska. The animals were to be delivered to the selected grazing area to the east of the Mackenzie delta and in December of that year the great drive was begun.

National Park

I would like to know what the Premier is going to do to establish a National Park in the province. Before the election in 1930 the people were told that a National Park would be established. The people of Albert county are still waiting for our Premier of Action to make a move.

Since 1930 little has been heard of from the Government concerning this.

A Park should be built as a measure of relief for the unemployed. What our people want is a chance to work, and this would give them that opportunity.

Dept. Federal Affairs

We should have a Department of Federal Affairs with a live man in charge who has a thorough understanding of Maritime problems. Most of our ills have grown out of the Confederation pact, and our rights have been flouted continually since Confederation. We need a Department whose sole duty is to look after federal matters and to see that we get justice from Ottawa.

Since the drying hours of this Government are at hand, the wise ones are all ducking for cover. They realize that their time has come. No less than five of the Government members have retired to take a permanent position. We now have Premier No. Three at the controls. We do not know how long he will be with us. When they pass around the plums in the near future, he may decide to pass along as the others have done to make himself secure. We await with interest to see what will happen before the day of reckoning comes.

The House recessed at 6 o'clock and continued at 8 o'clock p.m.

MELVILLE, HIDULPHE SAVOIE
AND HENRY DIOTTE SPEAK

E. W. Melville, Carleton, opened his address last night giving mention to the minimum wage law introduced by the Forest Operation Act and was enthusiastic in his support of the law. In Carleton County the people were in support of the government for this reason alone.

Land colonization is another feature that is a boon to the people of Carleton County. The Farm Settlement Board is to be commended, he said on the work they have done in settling families on vacant farms.

MAKE WAFFLES TO SUIT YOUR OWN TASTE

(By Edith Shuck)

The tastes of individuals vary on waffles; some like them crisp and tender, while others think that this type crushes into hard crusts when cut. They like waffles which have considerable cooked batter between the two crusts. I am going to give three recipes so you can decide which kind you like best. A waffle batter which gives the crisp crust with little filling must have a high egg content and be a thin batter. The thicker kind may be lower in egg content and be made with a stiff batter.

Crisp Waffles

Sift together three cups of flour, half teaspoon of salt, two teaspoons of sugar, three teaspoons of baking powder, and one half teaspoon of soda (if a bread flour is used, sift it several times before the measurement is made). Beat three whole eggs until they are light and frothy, add two cups of buttermilk to them, stirring all the time. Add this to the dry ingredients and mix until the batter is smooth. Then add sufficient milk to make a thin batter. Three cups are usually necessary when three eggs are used but the amount of liquid depends on the heaviness of the flour. Add six tablespoons of melted butter, and fry the waffles on an ungreased waffle iron. When the steam ceases escaping around the edge of the iron, the waffles are cooked so they will hold their crispness.

Plain Waffles

The milk and egg content are less in these waffles than in the crisp ones. To three cups of flour add one half teaspoon of salt, four teaspoons of baking powder and half teaspoonspoonful size.

of soda. Sift these ingredients together. Beat two eggs and add two cups of buttermilk. Add these to the dry ingredients, beating until the batter is smooth, but no longer. Add six tablespoons of melted butter. This makes a stiff batter, but it is not a drop dough. This gives the "breadly" type of waffle.

Chocolate Waffles

Sift together three cups of pastry flour, four tablespoons of cocoa, half teaspoon of salt four teaspoons of baking powder and six tablespoons of sugar. Beat three egg yolks and add two cups of sweet milk to them. Add the liquid to the dry ingredients, then add six tablespoons of melted butter and fold in the three egg whites, beaten stiff. Bake the chocolate waffles the same as the plain waffles and serve hot with ice cream, whipped cream or hard sauce.

CREAMED OYSTERS

Six tablespoonsfuls butter, six tablespoons flour, one teaspoon paprika, two medium cans of mushroom soup, 24 oysters (one pint), four shelled, hard-cooked eggs, sliced. Melt butter in the top of a double boiler, add the flour and paprika and blend well. Add soup and stir until smooth and thick. Cook the oysters in their own liquor until the edges curl, then add with the hard-cooked eggs to the soup mixture. Heat well and serve in patty shells or on toast. Serves six to eight.

CORN OYSTERS

Salt to taste.
Beat eggs and add to corn. Add crackers which have been rolled fine, then milk. Fry in hot butter in tea-

THE 'WHITE HOPE'
OF THE RAILROADS

Detroit News:—Chicago-St. Louis, Chicago-Minneapolis and Boston-Bangor service by bullet-type streamlined trains is inaugurated or announced. The experimental long runs by Diesel-motored trains joined into long and flexible units have passed successfully into the records. Now come the trials on regular schedules between principal cities to determine whether the radical modernization can regain lost railway passenger business.

DOG'S DIGGING
SAVES MAN'S LIFE

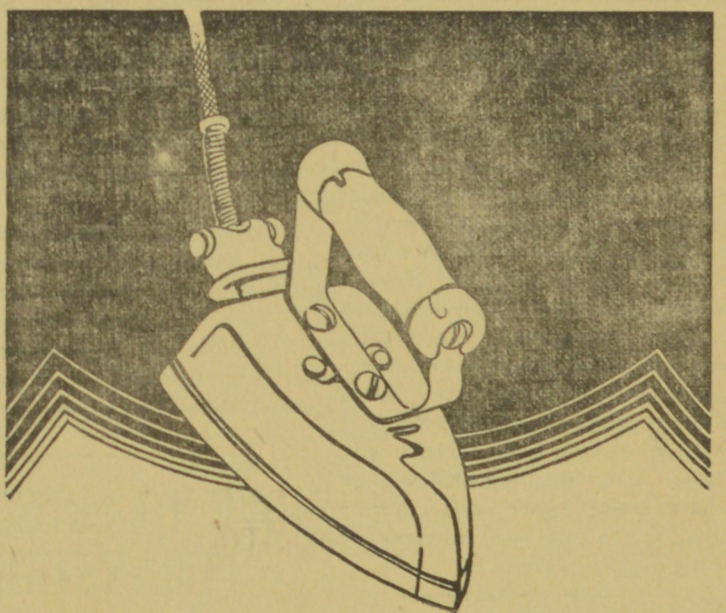

VICTORIA, B. C.—A mongrel dog, which tagged on to a friendly laborer doing heavy work at the B. C. Nickel Company's development in the mountain near Choate, is a lifesaving hero now.

His master was trapped in a snow-slide that swept over a power house. The dog was inside the building and escaped injury. Nearest persons at the time were four miles away.

Instinctively the dog began tunneling and finally opened a hole to the trapped laborer, who was revived by the air.

The condition of the man and the amount of digging done by the dog caused rescuers to estimate he had been buried about an hour before the tunnelling animal reached him.

Baltimore Sun:—The Weirton labor case was ostensibly a test of Section 7a of the Recovery Act, the first of its kind to be taken to the courts. As such it was of wide importance. But in his decision Federal Judge John P. Nields gave it even greater significance by saying, in effect that not only is the collective-bargaining section of the law unconstitutional, but that virtually the whole of the NRA code system lacks proper constitutional sanction.
