TOKIO TO OPEN ETHIOPIAN LEGATION

Government Plans For An Ethiopian Mission, The Object A Secret One

Mystery Surrounds the Purpose of the Emperor—Roman Press Continues to Criticize Britain.

TOKIO, August 9—An authoritative source indicates that Toshiharu Harima, First Secretary of the Japanese Embassy in Rome, has been designated to open a Japanese legation at Addis Ababa in January.

ADDIS ABABA, August 9—Government plans for an Ethiopian mission to Japan, to leave Addis Ababa soon, were disclosed today.

The mission, it was said by an authority, is to be headed by Daba Birrou, former official of the Foreign Office. The purpose of the Ethiopian party will be kept a close secret.

Birrou is experienced in diplomatic negotiations with the Japanese. He accompanied the first Ethiopian mission to Japan in 1932. That delegation was headed by Foreign Minister Herouy who returned the visit of the Japanese delegation to the coronation of Emperor Haile Selassie.

"We Do Not Need Anything"

ROME, August 9—An Italian Government spokesman said today that Italy needs no outside help, "financial or otherwise" in her struggle with Ethiopia.

He made this statement in denying reports that Italy has been seeking cotton credits in New York and characterized the reports as "stupid and tendentious." The spokesman said thousands of rumors concerning "Italian requests for loans have been circulated."

No Foundation to Rumors

"We have denied them time after time because there is no foundation for them," he said. "Interested sources are always talking of our needs. We don't need anything."

The spokesman said that as far as the Foreign Office knew, reports of a protest filed by the British Government with Ambassador Grandi in London over Italian press attacks on Great Britain were equally unfounded. "We know nothing of this and, therefore, it cannot be true," he stated.

Lull Evident in Situation

A lull became evident in the Italian-Ethiopian situation, pending news of a return to work of the conciliation commission and the beginning of tripartite conversations at Paris.

The press persisted in its criticism of Great Britain accusing her of continuing to "defile" European politics with "selfish interest" in the East African controversy.

Fishermen To Need Heavy Winter Relief

SYDNEY, N.S., August 9—"The amount of relief to be issued to fishing communities throughout Nova Scotia will likely show a large increase during the winter months," E. B. Paul, provincial secretary of labor, said after concluding an inspection tour. He was accompanied by R. H. Mackay and T. D. Purves, inspectors of relief.

"Catches of fish during the season have been poor as far as we could find out," Mr. Paul said, "and this will mean that relief will have to be dispensed with a willing hand during the winter months."

The department does not expect the industrial centres to incur as great a total expenditure as in 1934, but sections of the province, such as the coal

The Man You Can Trust

When parties are selecting men as candidates for Ottawa an effort should be made to select the best man. The best man is not necessarily the most brilliant man. The best man for any party to select is the man whom people can trust. The man who has no axe to grind. The day has come in Canada when it is necessary to have such men if we are to pull out of the hole.

The man you can trust is the man who is simple, direct and sincere. When he undertakes a responsible task, he is fully and deeply conscious of his responsibility. He is intent upon fairness and justice to all, even to those who oppose him. To him, the insincerity of the demagogue is as dishonest as the trickery of the con man or the embezzler. To him, honor is dearer than power, and a clear conscience more precious than wealth or fame. He is suspicious of mere brilliance and he is not easily fascinated by the plausibility of quacks, or misled by the enthusiasm of cranks, for good judgment, good character and ripe experience are what he most respects. He does not waver like a leaf in the winds of popular approval or disapproval. When he makes a pledge he can be relied upon to keep it, at whatever cost to himself, for he acts on principles of right and wrong, not on the convenience or expediency of the moment. He is not all things to all men. When he says yes, he means yes, and, when he says no, he means no. In short, the man you can trust, in the long run, is not necessarily the clever man or the charming man, but the man who keeps his word.

Can either the Liberals or the Conservatives secure such a man?

ELEPHANT STANDS AUTO ON ITS END

TRURO, N. S., August 9—An elephant belonging to a circus playing here didn't like it one whit when an open car door struck his trunk as he was being led, perhaps a bit tired from the night's show, along the roadway by the circus field.

So, what did he do but leisurely twine his smarting trunk about the offending door and much to the amusement of spectators, rip it completely off. His alarmed keeper managed to lead him a few feet away before the elephant decided he hadn't had sufficient revenge. So he waddled back again and, proceeding to the front of the car, placed his trunk in an advantageous position and placed the vehicle in an upright position, with radiator facing the sky.

This apparently satisfied him. He was led quietly away.
