Now Is the Time to Make a Fruit Cake

well and store in a cool place. If you wish, you can occasionally moisten them with fruit juices, but if they are well stored they do not need additional moisture.

Plum Pudding

The recipe for about six pounds of plum pudding calls for three table-spoons of finely cut orange peel, two cups of chopped apple, two cups of currants, one-fourth cup of shaved citron, two cups of seeded raisins, one cup of chopped suet, one half cup of brown sugar, one cup of molasses, one cup of orange juice, three well beaten eggs, one and one-half cups of flour, one teaspoon of baking powder, one teaspoon of salt, one-half teaspoon of soda, one teaspoon cinnamon and one-fourth teaspoon of ground all-spice.

Combining Ingredients

Combine the candied orange peel, citron, raisins and currants. Add the orange juice and allow to stand in a cool place for twenty-four hours. Combine the flour, spices, salt, soda and baking powder and sift together twice. Add the suet and brown sugar to the dry ingredients. Add the molasses to the fruits, then add the beaten eggs and the dry ingredients. Stir well and pour into molds lined with oiled paper. Steam large molds three and a half to four hours and one-pound molds from an hour and three-quart.

Here's Real Help In Avoiding Many Miserable Colds

Unique Medication Designed to Aid Nature's Defenses in Nose and Throat, Where Most Colds Start.

PROVED IN USE BY MILLIONS

In the exclusive formula of Vicks Vapo-Rol has been found a unique and successful aid in preventing many colds—winter's threat to our comfort and health.

Va-tro-nol is especially designed for the nose and upper throat—where most colds start. It aids and stimulates the functions provided by Nature—in the nose—to prevent colds, and to throw off head colds at the early stages. Used in time—at the first nasal irritation, sniffle, or sneeze—just a few drops up each nostril—Va-tro-nol helps to avoid many colds.

Where irritation has led to a clogged-up nose (a stuffy head cold or nasal catarrh) Va-tro-nol reduces swollen membranes—clears clogging mucus—brings comforting relief.

For Fewer and Shorter Colds. Note to mothers—who guard the family's health: Vicks has developed, especially for you, a practical Plan for Better Home Control of Colds. This guide to fewer and shorter colds has been clinically tested by practicing physicians and further proved in everyday home use by millions. Full details of Vicks Plan in each Va-tro-nol package.

THE WINNING OF ELECTIONS

In the interesting aftermath of the general election is discussion as to methods of getting voters to the polls and the personalities indulged in by some campaign orators. Nowadays each candidate for Parliament—or other public office—is expected to provide for his supporters transportation to the polling booth. This has become a custom that cannot be ignored. "Get out the vote" means provide the cars.

This fact is not complimentary to the electorate, but there it is. It would be interesting to learn how much smaller the vote would be were the voter obliged to get himself to the polls. And do the electors always vote as they ride? In many minds it seems to be a joke to travel in one candidate's car and vote for his rival. The Owen Sound Sun-Times cites the case of a Toronto autoist who drove 147 voters to a certain poll. All were supposed to be supporters of one candidate, but when the votes were counted this man received only 21. The Sun-Times's comment on this is that "you can lead a horse to water, but you can't make him drink." And it might be added that the discrepancy between auto passengers and the official vote reveals—if it reveals anything—a queer sense of humor. The funny people could not do this in the old days of open voting, but the remedy may not be found in a return to wild scenes accompanying that merry system.

The Victoria Times discusses another feature of election campaigns. It claims many candidates lose because they attack their opponents, instead of directing their attention to the electorate. In other words, they deal in personalities. The Times claims that "if one's opponent is a respectable citizen of good record who honestly believes in his policy every speech maligning him or associating him with unworthy causes wins voters to his side." It is strange that so many political speakers have not yet learned that the public dislikes these personalities. They may raise a laugh at the expense of the victim, but later reflection convinces voters with a sense of fair play that the method is unfair.

The Victoria paper also doubts that eloquence is a great asset in winning elections. "Electors often crowd a meeting to be addressed by an eloquent speaker; they will cheer him to the echo, and the next day go to the polls and vote against him." All of which would indicate that the political candidate who has a good case and lays it clearly and convincingly before the electorate need not bother about eloquence, and will be wise to avoid personalities.

ers to two hours. Remove the pudding from the molds and cool them well. Wash molds and store the pudding in them if desired.

ENTERTAINMENT AT NORMAL SCHOOL DRAWS CROWD

Sponsored by York-Sunbury Historical Society, Last Night's Entertainment Was One of Finest Ever to be Given Here—Repeated Tonight.

The York-Sunbury Historical Society put on a grand mixed entertainment in the auditorium of the Provincial Normal School last evening and Fredericton responded nobly, first by attending in a large number, and secondly by applauding enthusiastically each number as it was given on the program. The program was widely varied and the various numbers showed careful preparation. His Worship Mayor W. G. Clark, M.P., acted as chairman. During the intermission candy was sold.

Opening the entertainment Mayor Clark pointed out that a remark made by Dr. Webster recently was to the effect that the Historical Society here was "the liveliest in the Maritimes." Mayor Clark spoke of a prospective building for the Society in the near future, to be especially devoted to the Society's use and which would be helpful to tourists and also to local students. It is to be hoped that this can be accomplished.

The program was a superb one with each participant performing his or her part with an effectiveness calling for the highest commendation. Miss Eva Dedham, the Indian Maiden, in recitation and song, some of them in Maliseet and Micmac tongue, was especially fine, showing a natural talent in graceful expression. She rendered several of Pauline Johnston's poems. Under Professor J. Harrison Wade the Male Chorus rendered several numbers exceptionally well. The men's chorus responded to every gesture of Prof. Wade's direction and Miss Gertrude Munro was a charming accompanist.

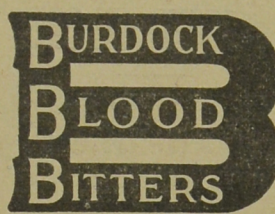

The showing of scenes of Fredericton, past and present, was one of the highlights of the evening. Ted Taylor, curator of the Society's museum made the comment as the lantern slides were flashed on the screen and the audience was educated, amused and amazed by some of the sights reeled off in front of them. D. J. McLeod operated the picture machine. Among the scenes were many old ones of Fredericton streets and public buildings, as well as people who formerly lived in the capital. Several of these were famous characters around "town." As these people are long since dead perhaps humorous references to their afflictions would better have been omitted. Also there were pictures shown of His Worship Mayor Clark, W. W. Hubbard, the president of the Historical Society; Frank L. Cooper, Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, Charles A. Sanson, and Mr. Hart of Hart Boot and Shoe fame. Among the ladies were Mrs. H. F. McLeod, Rt. Hon. the Countess Ashburnham, Ships, harbors, street scenes and the old fire stations with its overloaded fire wagon—all were flashed on the screen and Ted Taylor made pertinent remarks on each, pointing out meanwhile the places of historic interest. Perhaps this evening it would be better for him to omit discussions on economics which take up time.

A Ladies' double quartette consisting of Miss Dorothy McFarlane, Miss Marion Staples, Miss Margaret Elliott, Miss Jessie Clark, Miss Audrey Young, Miss Ella Chappell, Miss Nellie Winter and Miss Kathleen Vaughan sang the selection "Little Papoose," with pleasing effect. All the young ladies are teachers in the public schools of this city.

Miss Dedham's numbers consisted of "The Song My Paddle Sings," "The Maiden's Sacrifice," Longfellow's "Legend of the Crossbill," a song entitled "Petewa," and for an encore a little song in Micmac and Maliseet, also the poem "Dawn Dine," by Pauline Johnston, "The Pilot of the Plain," and "How the Little Birds Came," which Miss Dedham delivered in Maliseet first, then translating.

Another very pleasing number was the tabeau in the form of an old fashioned dance, with Miss Jean Smith acting as soloist. The old fashioned dance had four couples dancing gracefully to music a la minuet. The young ladies in this were the Misses Peggy Harmon, Florence Hughes,

Those Splitting Headaches A Symptom of Disease

The cause of headache is the accumulation of poisonous matter in the blood which spreads with it, every moment, to all parts of the body.

This poisoning of the system must be cleared up before you can get rid of the headache, which is a symptom of an unhealthy condition of the body.

Remove the poisonous matter from the blood with Burdock Blood Bitters, then, "No more headaches?"

The Importance of Personal Habits

The subject of personal habits is a very ticklish one, one which needs careful handling. It is an old saying that "Fools rush in where angels fear to tread" and in this case we will take the fool's chance. In fact, that is what many people are doing in their careless personal habits with fire every day of their lives. Perhaps the most effective way to approach the matter is to relate the results of some personal habits in other people, as people generally like to hear about the other fellow.

A man dropped a cigarette in a rubbish pile in a rooming house and burned to death eleven people.

A man dropped his cigarette in a couch in the lobby of a hotel. Fire resulted at 3 a.m. and resulted in the deaths of four people.

A mother in one of our leading college cities, for the five hundredth time perhaps, started a fire with coal oil. The fire she started burned to death three children besides herself.

A man dropped a match on a garage floor, walked on and left it. A six year old child found it and ignited her clothing which resulted in burns that caused her death a few hours later.

Anna Hughes, Edith Thurrott, while the young men were Lloyd Boyd, Lloyd Humes, Gerald Goodine and Carl Horncastle. George Little was the accompanist. As the grandfather and grandmother Mr. and Mrs. Fred Segee afforded much merriment.

After the intermission during which candy was sold, Miss Sadie Blair sang two numbers, "Pale Moon" and "An Indian Lullaby." Gaby Dedham, the tiny brother of Miss Eva Dedham gave a war dance assisted by Michael Paul and displayed a skill and endurance in the dance quite amazing in one so youthful. The programme was concluded with a group of two solos by Mrs. R. P. Gorham, and further selections from the Male Chorus.

The numbers sung with so great effect by the male chorus were, "Soldiers Rest," "Our Native Hill," "Goin' Home," "The Lost Chord," and for an encore, "Fishin'." The sixteen men in the chorus were as follows: Hugh Andrews, Hargrove Locke, Murray Shanks, Ralph Delong, Lawrence Dryden, Gordon Foster, George Bolden, Donald Horncastle, Vernon Box, Sely Box, Raymond Crewdson, Frank T. Pridham, Ronald Beatty, Fred Johnston, Everett Thompson, and Herbert Belding. The chorus was lent special effect by the red jackets worn by the men, which heightened the appeal.

A splendid evening was closed with the singing of the National Anthem. The entertainment is being repeated this evening.

The programme was carried out as follows: Remarks by Chairman, Men's Chorus, Ladies' Double Quartette, Readings, Miss Eva Dedham; Solo, accompanied with old fashioned dance Miss Jean Smith, with Miss Gertrude Davis, accompanist; Old Pictures; Intermission, sale of candy; Pictures continued; Solo, Miss Sadie Blair; Readings, Miss Eva Dedham; War Dance, Gaby Dedham, accompanied by Michael Paul; Solo, Mrs. R. P. Gorham; Men's Chorus; National Anthem.

A man attempted to sleep and smoke at the same time—result, he set bed afire, was overcome with smoke, and removed in an unconscious state. Only the timely arrival of the fire department saved him from being cremated alive.

Some grown-ups place Strike Anywhere matches on kitchen table. Two small children acted upon the implied suggestion and carried some to their playhouse, innocently started a fire. Result, little boy burned fatally.

Do you always think about the safety and welfare of those about you when you discard your match and cigarette butt? Are you mindful of the safety of the children in your home to the extent of providing safety matches, and keeping them out of their reach?
