

THE CALL OF THE CHURCH MEN AND WOMEN WAS DISCUSSED AT CHRISTCHURCH CATHEDRAL

G. Percy Burchill, of South Nelson, and Mrs. G. C. P. McIntyre, of Sussex, Delivered Eloquent Addresses at Well Attended Church Meeting.

The great good that may be accomplished by laymen and women working for the church and the obligation which they have to do this work in assisting the church which has done so much not only for them but for Society in general, was stressed by two excellent speakers at Christchurch Cathedral last evening.

The addresses, which were given at a public meeting in connection with the Diocesan Synod, were delivered by G. Percy Burchill, of Nelson, and by Mrs. G. C. P. McIntyre, of Sussex, President of the Diocesan Women's Auxiliary of the Church.

Mr. Burchill spoke on "The Call of the Church to Men," and Mrs. McIntyre's address was on the "Call of the Church to Women."

His Grace Archbishop Richardson welcomed the large congregation present and introduced the speakers. Very Rev. Dean Holmes led the congregation in prayer and the boys' choir of the Cathedral led the congregational singing, rendering several appropriate hymns.

Mr. Burchill

Mr. Burchill said that he was proud to speak in the old diocesan Cathedral which had stood as a rock through prosperity and adversity.

He said that today the press, the radio and public speakers all make reference to the period of depression through which we are passing and nearly all other new suggestions for prosperity. No great change can take place without the help of God. We take much time up with the problems of the world. In the church we have a mighty influence which can be developed to the benefit of the world. It cannot be developed without the men taking a hand in such development. People are thinking differently than they were a few years ago and the world is prepared to direct its attention to things that are best. No system and no government can last without recognizing God. Our King, Our Empire and our Government puts God first. In 1784 when the old province of New Brunswick came into being, the founders placed the province under the care of God.

The Nation is but the expression of the individual and to be a success it must come into contact with the hearts of men.

The Church, said Mr. Burchill, gives us our first lessons in Character. The world needs men of strong character in business, in politics and in any of the professions. We have made wonderful progress in every department of human endeavour, but in many cases our minds have developed faster than our character. Have we not substituted Gloria Swanson and other movie stars as our ideals in place of Florence Nightingale and Abraham Lincoln?

After all, what constitutes greatness? What is our ideal of a great man? Wells, the historian, says the test is "What did he leave to grow?" Jesus Christ left to the world the old truths which show the things that are best in the world, and the things that make for the real greatness.

In the life of the family the Church is present at baptism. It is present to strengthen us at Confirmation. It blesses the marriage state and helps us keep sacred the bonds of holy marriage. Men often times overlook the great power of the Church in the life of the community. All we have to do is to take the community in which no church exists. He knew of such a community in New Brunswick and it was a very unmoral community indeed.

The Church certainly does exert a strong influence for good in our country. How do we balance our account with the church for what she has done and is doing for us? Every one has a direct responsibility to carry on in the Church, not only in a financial way which is important but in other ways as well. The Church of England in this diocese consists of 33,000 persons and of about 8,000 families, which should give at the rate of $20 per year. But the Church in this diocese has never been taught to give. It has received too much in its earlier years and in later years.

Bigger still than the financial aspect is the loyal earnest support of the laymen to their church which has done so much for them and for the community. A movement to support the Church in every way should be started by the men of this diocese and it should be so strong a movement that it would spread throughout Canada. The laymen are responsible for the success of their church. Why not have a change in our outlook in this regard?

The work of our forefathers has given us what we have today. We should continue and enrich their work and their ideals. Bishop Sherman in quoting a western story told of how the gypsies scattered grass along the road so that those who came after could follow the trail. He would leave this thought with his hearers.

Mrs. G. C. P. McIntyre

Mrs. McIntyre spoke in a most impressive way of home life and the place which God should have in the home. Our homes, she said, should be devoted to the family where they should learn at their mother's knee the first lessons of truth. It should not be a place where the children come only to sleep and to eat and where they only remained when there was no place else to go. The wife and mother should be the life of the family. The great contribution of women to the Church is the bringing up and the development of the character of the boys and girls who with the father constitute the home.

The home should be the highest institution of learning. If the children go out from the home with the eternal truths of life and of God grounded in them this foundation will stay with them to the last and will guide them through their future life. The temptations that they will meet with in future life will vanish. Truth and true Christian joy are the priceless things which money cannot buy. Other things of life do not so much matter as truth and character. These are priceless heritage which parents can leave their children. It will be a blessed memory of the parents who guided us over our childhood days.

Referring to the injunction given by Christ to his church "Go forth and teach all nations," Mrs. McIntyre referred to the work carried on not only in Canada but throughout the world by the W. A. and M.S.C.C. of the Church and to the splendid assistance given to the Church by the women. The Aid reaches out to women, children and orphans and to those who are in need in Western Canada even up to the Arctic Circle. The women have been a big power in the support of this work, both in the Canadian field and overseas missions. There never, said Mrs. McIntyre, was a time when women's aid was so much needed as at present and the women are carrying on faithfully.

Archbishop Richardson expressed

DR. E. M. BEST DELIVERED A FINE ADDRESS

National Secretary of Y. M. C. A. of Canada Spoke at High School Last Night on "A Community Y. M. C. A. For Fredericton" — Mayor W. G. Clark Also Spoke.

Stressing the spiritual factor in life as the most important thing to a nation, Dr. E. M. Best, national secretary of the Y. M. C. A. of Canada in the high school auditorium last night, discussed the ideals and work of the Y. M. C. A. and related them to the modern world—a world that has little place today for its youth. He was clear-eyed, and clear-tongued and faced the realities of youth's plight in the world today, and pointed out a plan of organization. If there is no hope of material success, nevertheless and more important, there is hope for organization and intensification of the moral, physical and intellectual life of youth. Dr. Best's address was centered along this line, and at the conclusion of his admirable address he was given a vote of thanks.

The vote of thanks moved by Dr. A. S. McFarlane, superintendent of education for the province, and seconded by Rev. Dr. G. E. Ross, George W. Brown, president of the Y. M. C. A. in this city, acted as chairman. A fair-sized crowd attended the lecture. A short concert was given by the high school orchestra, under the masterly direction of C. B. Burden, high school instructor. Considerable credit should be given this body of youngsters and their leader. The present orchestra displays a fine virility, and the manner in which each player does his or her part, is really admirable. The orchestra played several difficult selections and rendered them nobly. In the vote of thanks tendered to Dr. Best was included one for Mr. Burden and his orchestra.

His Worship Mayor Clark

His Worship Mayor W. G. Clark preceded Dr. Best, speaking briefly. He was glad to be present and sympathetic to the course of the Y. M. C. A., which functioned some years ago. He was glad there was to be a community Y. M. C. A. once again. He realized the responsibility to youth. His Worship believed there was a great point in having a massed enthusiasm providing there was proper direction to it. He cited the opposite effect in Germany where youth is directed in dangerous channels. "It is up to us older people to give the youth the best possible training" concluded Mayor Clark. He hoped for better conditions for the future.

Dr. E. M. Best's address was titled, "A Community Y. M. C. A. for Fredericton". It was his first trip to the city of Fredericton. He described the city as a center of education and culture. It was his hope to be of service in forming the Y. M. C. A. in this city.

The speaker dwelt on the theme of "a community". "The real wealth of the country in which we live is in our people", asserted Dr. Best. It is not material things and statistics that count. The things that really counts is the quality of our people. The richest treasures of our moral and spiritual life of a nation. The real values of the Maritimes are the integrity, honesty and energy of the people.

The second point brought up by Dr. Best was the problem of modern life. Certain things are undermining the quality of young people in this country. He cited the materialism of adults as a cause of deterioration to young people. There was great damage done to the young people—forces which destroyed the idealism of our youth. The Great War released many forces of evil which break down character, destroy morality and religion. Present conditions of unemployment—economic and social causes. There have been many changes in our economic life. At present this is the biggest problem. It is his hearty appreciation not only of the splendid addresses delivered by Mrs. McIntyre and Mr. Burchill but also of the valuable aid that both speakers have given to the work of the church in this diocese.

Death of Former Fredericton Man

Many friends heard with deep regret of the sudden passing of John Crawshaw at his home on Victoria street, Saturday afternoon. Although he had been in failing health of late his passing came as a decided shock. He was in his sixty-eighth year.

Mr. Crawshaw came to Truro two years ago when he opened a cabinet making shop, many examples of his skill may be seen both in Truro and throughout the Maritime Provinces. He was born at Scarborough, England, and had resided in Canada for the past thirty years, during which time he had resided in Amherst, Sackville and Fredericton. He was for several years on the staff of Mt. Allison University.

Mr. Crawshaw will be missed in fraternal circles in which he had been active for many years. He was prominent in the local chapter of the Knights of Pythias Lodge and while in Fredericton was an active booster of the Sons of England and the Daughters of England orders.

He was twice married, his first wife formerly Miss Annie Chapman, died several years ago. His second wife, formerly Miss Minnie Wilson, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Wilson, of Truro, survives. Also surviving is one daughter Annie, to the first marriage, Mrs. Kenneth McDougall, of Woodstock; one son, John in New York. One son Joseph died while serving with the 40th Battalion in France. Two brothers Joseph in England and Thomas of Amherst, also survive.

The funeral will be held from the late home Tuesday afternoon at 2.30. Rev. W. McN. Matthews, pastor of First United Church, of which the deceased was a member, officiating, with interment in Robie Street cemetery. The service will be held under the direction of the Knights of Pythias Lodge.—Truro News.

LONDON, Ont., May 22—In dismissing charges of conspiracy to defraud against Samuel A. Richardson and James MacDonnell in connection with the cattle export business of the Richelieu Corporation of Montreal, County Judge Joseph Wearing completely exonerated both men, formerly president and vice-president of the company.
