APPALLING CONDITIONS IN THE MIDDLE WEST

mayor this afternoon issued a proclamation ordering that all saloons and business houses be closed at 6 o'clock and instructed the police to keep people off the streets. This was done on account of the fear of fire.

100 BODIES RECOVERED

Cincinnati, March 27.—The telephone wire chief at Chillicothe tonight told the Canadian Press here that at least 100 bodies had been taken from the debris in the flooded district there up to a late hour today. He said he was unable to place an accurate estimate on the number of dead but had been told that the number would reach 300.

APPALLING CONDITIONS IN OHIO

New York, March 27.—Governor J. M. Cox, of Ohio, telegraphed during the night from Columbus as follows:

The exact extent of the appalling flood in Ohio is still unknown. Every hour impresses the uncertainty of the situation. The waters have assumed such unknown heights in many parts of the state that it will be hardly less than a miracle if villages and towns are not wiped out of existence in the southern and southwestern part of Ohio. The storm is moving south of east.

Please give great publicity to an appeal for help. My judgment is there has never been such a tragedy in the history of the republic. It is my belief, however, that by daylight those imprisoned in the business section of Dayton can be relieved.

The loss of life in Zanesville is uncertain because all telephone communication ceased at noon. Marietta cannot be reached, but it is safe to assume that the same devastating results at Zanesville were carried on to Marietta.

A flood situation developed in the Maumee and Sandusky valleys in Northwestern Ohio, but the damage to life and property will be nothing compared with that in the south.

In many respects the Dayton situation is absolutely without parallel. North Dayton reported a loss of 100 lives. Later precisely the same situation was reported from Riverdale. West Dayton was almost completely under water, and the houses in Edgemont, a residential section, were so deep in the flood that great destruction to life and property certainly ensued there. On the high lands of Fifth and East Dayton pockets were developed and people were drowned in apparent elevations where it would seem naturally impossible. The workers in Fifth and Brown Sts. 25 or 30 feet above the elevation in the business section, reported ten feet of water.

RIVER SWEEPING THROUGH DAYTON

At this time a river, wild and turbulent, four miles wide, is sweeping through the business section of Dayton, to say nothing of the overflow in the residential sections.

By ten o'clock last night it was known that easily 500 people had been drowned. We cannot resist the belief that the loss will not be less than 1,000.

"Fire broke out in the square bounded by St. Clair, Jefferson, Second and Third Streets, soon after noon. The blaze was noticed first in a drugstore. It went north and destroyed the St. Paul Evangelical Church. The flames then shot to the south into the Beaver power building, a fire proof structure where they spent the night.

At daylight fifty boats went to go to the business district from South Park. The naval militia with 100 boats left Toledo at midnight. The federal life saving crew with equipment will arrive at Dayton from Cleveland by way of Toledo, so that unless developments during the night were unseemly, the whole situation ought to be measurably well in hand this forenoon. We are disquieted, however, by the report from the Lewiston reservoir.

Serious trouble was reported late tonight from Freemont and Chillicothe; dams have broken at both places. The Scioto is receding. Almost within sight of the capitol building three men, two women and a child have been hanging to a tree for more than twenty-four hours, and yet the waters are too swift to make their rescue possible.

assume the duties of the position rendered vacant by the dismissal of an official appointed by the Liberal administration.

The case in point was that of Andrew Landry, a convicted forger, under sentence of twelve months' imprisonment, who was appointed buoy inspector and wharfinger by Hon. Mr. Hazen, on the recommendation of J. A. Gillies, the defeated Conservative candidate in Richmond (N.S.) and who was pardoned within two months to assume his duties by Hon. W. T. White, acting minister, in the absence of Hon. Mr. Doherty.

My. Kye brought the matter before the house by an amendment to the government resolution to go into supply, in view of Premier Borden's pre-election declaration that men should be appointed as public officials solely by reason of "capacity and personal character."

Mr. Kye moved that parliament censure the appointment of a convicted forger and his consequent release from jail to take up the duties of the position. In so doing the Richmond member read the official correspondence showing that the government had been warned against the appointment of Landry as a man guilty of forgery by Rev. Wilfrid A. Bushey, parish priest, and that he had been released from custody subsequently on the unsupported testimony of his nephew, a doctor who was not jail surgeon nor medical health officer of the district.

Hon. Mr. Hazen's defence was that he had acted on the recommendation of Mr. Gillies, who was, he maintained, a reputable citizen and former member.

Hon. Mr. White's defence was that he "didn't know."

CANNED GOODS TO HAVE A BOOM

Chicago, Ill., March 28.—What is claimed by its promoters to be the greatest commercial selling campaign ever organized is now in progress and will culminate during the coming week, which has been designated by manufacturers, wholesalers, jobbers and retailers as "Canned Food Week." The enterprise is led by a cooperation of five large national organizations. These are the National Wholesale Grocers' Association, the National Association of Retail Grocers, the Southern Wholesale Grocers' Association, the National Canneries' Association and the National Canned Goods Brokers' Association. The Campaign headquarters are located in this city, where it was reported today that practically every retail grocery store in the United States will be a display room for canned goods next week.
