In Chancery of New Jersey

In the matter of application of The Prudential Insurance Company of America for the acquirement of its capital stock for the benefit of its policyholders.

Order fixing hearing on Application for Appointment of Appraisers.

It appearing to the Court that The Prudential Insurance Company of America has heretofore filed its duly verified petition from which it appears that the said petitioner is a stock life insurance corporation, incorporated by the State of New Jersey and that the Board of Directors of said Company have determined that it would be conducive to the welfare of the corporation and in the interests of the policyholders thereof to change the corporation from a stock life insurance corporation to a mutual life insurance corporation and said corporation now applying to the Chancellor to appoint two or more disinterested persons to appraise the value of the capital stock of the said corporation and also to appoint one or more counsel to represent the policyholders before such appraisers and in such further proceedings as may be taken under or in pursuance of said petition.

It is, therefore, on this twenty-second day of April A. D. 1913, on motion of Edward D. Duffield, Solicitor of said petitioner, ORDERED that said application be heard by the Chancellor at the State House in the City of Trenton on the tenth day of June 1913, at ten thirty o'clock in the forenoon, or as soon thereafter as counsel can be heard, at which time and place the Chancellor will hear all parties in interest who may then appear.

It is further ordered that notice of such hearing shall be given to the Commissioner of Banking and Insurance of this State by serving a copy of this order upon him within fifteen days from the making thereof, and that notice of said application be given to the stockholders of said corporation by mailing a copy of this order to each of said stockholders at his post-office address, as the same appears upon the books of the said corporation, within fifteen days of the date hereof; and that notice of said application be given to the policyholders of the said corporation by publishing a copy of this order in one or more newspapers printed and published in the capital of each and every State of the United States in which the corporation does business and in a newspaper printed and published in the cities of Edmonton, Alberta; Victoria, British Columbia; Winnipeg, Manitoba; Fredericton, New Brunswick; Halifax, Nova Scotia; Toronto, Ontario; Quebec, Quebec and Regina, Saskatchewan in the Dominion of Canada, once a week for at least four weeks, the first publication to be made within fifteen days from the date hereof. In case no newspaper is published in the capital of said States of the United States, then said publication may be made in a newspaper having a general circulation within said States.

FADS AND FASHIONS

New York, June 11.—The extraordinary variety of styles from which one may choose this season, whatever comes nearest to fitting the temperament as well as one's figure is positively astonishing. Many of the styles are exceedingly charming if worn by the right persons, others are more odd than beautiful and can be worn successfully only by few women and finally there are a few styles which, even under the most favorable conditions, are simply hideous. The Oriental note is particularly conspicuous at the present time. The gorgeous effects borrowed from Persian and East Indian costumes are holding their own in the face of the approaching summer, when they might reasonably be expected to disappear.

Beads and bugles and pearls and rhinestones are used in ornamenting the most elaborate summer evening costumes quite as much as they were during the winter. Wonderful chiffons and tulle embroidered in these brilliant effects are still to be seen, while pearls are used on many of the simpler frocks.

Elaborate lingerie dresses this season are almost exclusively of embroidered batiste combined with real laces of the heavier varieties, such as coarse filet, Cluny, Venise, and Alencon. Or they are of net with shadow lace or other fine weaves combined with the embroidered batiste. English eyelet embroidery, which early in the season appeared to have suffered a setback, has been coming into favor again in Paris and here. It is now shown more frequently in batiste than in linen and is elaborately embroidered as well as "eye letted."

Among the most striking novelties of the season are waistcoats, which appear in many extremely odd and not always artistic variations. There is the "gilet Prud homme," for example, which has created quite a sensation in Paris. A vest of the most ample dimensions is this particular "gilet." Arrayed in it, even a slender woman looks bulky. The waistcoat makes not the slightest pretension to fit. Made of white pique, with the usual masculine supply of pockets, and fastened with pearl buttons, it looks precisely like the generous waistcoats worn by our great-grandfathers.

Another rather interesting waistcoat has been originated by Paquin. It is not really a separate garment, but is applied on to the dress, or the coat itself. This fake waistcoat is grown out of all resemblance to the traditional feminine vest. It reaches out to the shoulders at the top and extends twelve or fourteen inches below the waistline. It is generally in brilliant brocaded silk, contrasting sharply with the dark material of the suit upon which it is applied.

Much more attractive and really graceful are some of the big loose waistcoats in white corded silk, with very wide revers and collar which are worn outside the coat itself. In one of these striking costumes the waistcoat is confined by a belt, over which it blouses and below which it extends in two deep rounded points. This one does not button, the revers crossing each other and fastening under the belt. But in most instances these garments afford a chance for a good deal of originality in the selection of buttons and other ornamental trimmings.

These extremely ample white waistcoats, which are especially good with long cutaway coats that do not fasten in front, have not gained much of following in this country as yet. They are too new. But they are sure to be adopted by young women of a certain type, the type that goes in for outdoor sports and is keen about dressing the part.

Plaiting is becoming more in vogue all the time. It is indicated on the Bulgarian or Russian blouses, where the plaits open, or at least are fluted, and appear as if they had lately been tight knife plaits.

In many evening frocks for young women flowers are worked in heavy wool, then cherries or roses done to fall separately. The effect is pretty, but, to say the least, impractical and inconsistent. This idea was originated about a year ago. It died a natural death in Autumn, and now, with the approach of the Summer, has returned, the designs being much larger, and on most instances the flowered or fruit depend from the goods. White is a favorite background for these gayly colored bunches, but one sees materials in cream and other delicate tints with designs hanging.

Tan linen suits of heavy quality are made more serviceable, as well as smarter looking, when they show bindings of wide brown silk braid. One suit, with cutaway coat, shows two horizontal stripes of the braid on the skirt, one at the left side front and the other at the right side back. The coat is bound down the front and about the bottom with the braid, and the collar and cuffs and likewise bound with a braid. Large round glass buttons of brown and yellow are used for buttoning the coat and trimming the skirt.

The annual convention of the Hotel and Restaurant Employees' International Alliance and Bartenders' International League of America will open at Denver, Colo., next Monday.

OPPORTUNITY FOR LIBERALS TO HELP ALONG THE CAUSE

Ottawa, May 7, 1913.

TO THE LIBERALS OF NEW BRUNSWICK:

Efficient organization is the keystone of success in business or politics. The recognition of this fact and the request to their supporters to join in sharing the necessary expense brought success to the Democratic leaders and their party in the United States Presidential elections last year. The funds for legitimate party purposes, such as organization, printing, publicity and travelling expenses, were raised by a popular subscription.

The Liberals of New Brunswick are in need of more thorough organization, of committee work and wider distribution of party literature, for which purposes a considerable sum of money will be required. We believe all loyal supporters of the party will be ready and willing to subscribe to such a fund, and we ask them to do so.

The Liberals are today fighting in the House of Commons for free speech and the people's liberties. We do not know how soon they may be called upon to struggle for their rights at the polls.

We must be ready. The Liberal party must be ready and the only way to be prepared is to organize.

In asking the financial assistance of Liberals for that purpose we are inviting every member of the party to co-operate and stand shoulder to shoulder with us in this memorable struggle. We neither expect nor desire assistance from the trusts, or wealthy corporations, whose interests may clash with the interests of the common people, and this appeal is therefore made to the masses of the electorate, who desire to maintain the rights of the people. It is far more desirable in the interest of the party that the subscriptions should be general, coming from every parish in the province, in other words, that there should be a large number of subscribers for small amounts rather than a small number of subscribers for large amounts.

Subscriptions for any amount from one dollar and upwards will be received by those in the different polling districts in the parishes who are authorized to do so, as well as by the County Treasurers, who will forward all amounts they receive directly, as well as those from parish collectors, to the Provincial Treasurer who will acknowledge the same.

The funds collected will be expended under the direction of the undersigned Provincial Committee representing the Liberal members from New Brunswick in the House of Commons and subject to the audit of Henry E. Hill, of St. Stephen.

TRAVELLED IN STYLE.

Amherst News.—The first prisoner that was ever taken to Dorchester in an automobile arrived at the institution there yesterday afternoon in charge of Provincial Constable J. A. Simpson, Chief Carter and Major Holt. We have reference to the young man who was given a three years' sentence in Dorchester by Judge Patterson for burglary. The three above named officers decided to hire a motor and give the young prisoner a good spin prior to his incarceration. Warden Pipes informed them on arriving there that it was the first time in the history of the institution that a prisoner came in such state.
