NO SUBORDINATION

Mr. Arthur Hawkes who conducted the British born campaign during the last Federal election does not appear to be greatly impressed with Mr. Borden's naval policy. Referring to the matter in a recent issue of his paper "The Canadian and British News" he says:

"It is said that the naval policy of the government so far as it is disclosed in the naval bill, means a ultimate reversion to the old love of centralization which was at the back of the hostility to self-government many years ago.

"You cannot raise the old issue in the old way; but it does seem as though the old idea persists in some quarters where it should have been eradicated. I have met men who could no more conceive the propriety of having several navies within one Empire, leaving open the question of ultimate control, than they could suppose a man with several noses on his face. But if they had been in politics seventy years ago, they would have vowed you could not have a collection of Legislatures scattered around the globe, each passing its own laws about commercial taxation, for instance and still keep the Empire in being. The last protest made from England against Canada passing her own fiscal legislation, affecting the imports of British manufactured goods was as late as 1887.

"But the Empire has survived and grown in political glory in spite of the wisdom of those who never really understood the blessings of freedom and were afraid of self-government. Canada has falsified every prediction of those who believed in colonial dependence and subordination, and who could not apprehend that a Briton in America could be no less a Briton, when he refused even with blood, to permit the stay-at-homes to fix a badge of inferiority on him and on the Britannic institutions he called into being.

"Alliance not subordination is the only safety for the future."

A big delegation of representative lumbermen waited upon the government last evening and urged the adoption of a policy to provide for perpetual leases of timber-limits. A report of the proceedings will be found in another part of this issue and will be read with interest. The question is one of the very greatest importance and should have the most careful consideration on the part of the government. While little or nothing was said in regard to the rumored increase of stumpage, it was pointed out to the executive that the rate in this province is already greater than that which prevails in Quebec, Ontario and British Columbia. The statement was made by Senator Edwards, a recognized authority on all matters pertaining to the lumbering industry, that Quebec has the best timber policy of all the provinces in Canada. This statement has been made by other lumbermen and is undoubtedly true. Under the circumstances therefore, it would seem that the government could not go far astray if it were to take a leaf out of Quebec's book.

An English immigrant who arrived in St. John yesterday told a Telegraph reporter that he had never heard of New Brunswick. What is Mr. Bowder, the agent general of the province in London, doing to earn the $7,000 he cost the province last year?

Mr. H. A. Powell, K. C., who appeared as counsel for the lumbermen before the government last evening, was reminded by Premier Flemming that his views on the question of long-term leases today do not coincide with the views he expressed when a member of the House twenty years ago. Men usually acquire wisdom with age and possibly Mr. Powell is no exception to the rule. Since Premier Flemming has gone to the trouble of hunting up Mr. Powell's old speeches how would it do for him to read and digest what the then member for Westmorland had to say about provincial finances twenty years ago, when the expenditure was less than one-half what it is today.

Harry Thaw, the slayer of Stanford White, is going to make another attempt to get out of Matteawan Asylum for the Criminal Insane. His last attempt cost the State of New York $18,000, a good portion of which was paid to ex-District Attorney Jerome. The state might save money by engaging Mr. Jerome by the year to oppose Thaw's applications for freedom.

Chief Commissioner Morrissey seems to have been successful in silencing Messrs. Stewart and Swin, the long-range fighters from Northumberland. During the last campaign in Northumberland they were wont to criticize the chief's administration of his department. Now, when they are face to face with him in the House, they are as dumb as Bay du Vin oysters.

With a revenue less than half that which the present government enjoys, the late Hon. A. G. Blair administered the affairs of the province in an efficient manner and gave it better roads than we have today. It is scarcely necessary to state however, that there are no men of Mr. Blair's calibre in the government or legislature at the present time.

The scrutineers appointed to act at the polls in the civic election on Monday, inasmuch as they are to represent all candidates, should be provided with a list of dead and absentee voters whose names are on the list, with instructions to thwart any attempt at impersonation.

The Montreal Star insinuates that the establishment of shipyards in Canada, which would provide employment for thousands of Canadian workmen, would mean "local graft for the rake-off boys."

The Tories at Ottawa are making a strenuous effort to fulfil their pledge to the Nationalists, that there shall be no Canadian navy.

It is beginning to look as if the battle for responsible government would have to be fought over again in Canada.

SOME THINGS WE KNOW

That having come in like a lion it is to be hoped that March will endeavor to get out like a lamb.

That Easter Sunday is only two weeks away.

That the chief of police should tell some of the vendors in the market that it takes sixteen ounces of butter to make a pound.

That since he got a raise of wages Premier Flemming wears the smile that won't come off.

That it is to be hoped that Speaker Clarke will get at least one opportunity to serve hot coffee and sardines this session.

That an ex-M.P.P. who visited here this week thinks the Legislature is not what it used to be.

That the labor men who attend the governor's balls in the capacity of doorkeepers are all going to vote for the private secretary on Monday.

That the "labor ticket" is the biggest joke of the season.

That one labor candidate dropped out of the race because his better half put her foot down.

That at least one member of the Aid Council suffered a bad attack of cold feet.

That some of the Normal School girls think that the Fredericton boys are a lot of mutts.

That at last accounts Commodore Stewart was still heart free.

That having recovered his health the Provincial Secretary would welcome an attack from the unsurrectos who demanded his scalp when he was down South.

That the Provincial Secretary is going to collect the bond interest on the Nackawick Railway next year.

That stenographers are so numerous around the departmental building these days that a stranger who happened along at the lunch hour one day last week mistook it for the Normal School.

That Con Kelly claims to be the only genuine working man seeking election to the City Council.

That he feels rather sore to think he has been slighted.

That the latest appointment to the School Board has not aroused a great deal of enthusiasm.

That the result of the poll on Monday may leave several well known citizens with great political futures behind them.

A MESSAGE FOR THOSE WHO SUFFER

Mrs. E. J. Talbot Tells Them to Find a Cure in Dodd's Kidney Pills

She Had Rheumatism, Lumbago and Neuralgia and Found the Remedy She Was Looking For in Dodd's Kidney Pills

Hamilton, Ont., March 7—(Special)—"I know there are lots of people who suffer and do not know what will cure them. Dodd's Kidney Pills will."

These are the words of Mrs. E. J. Talbot who resides at 293 Wellington street north this city. And Mrs. Talbot speaks out of her own experience.

"Last July I was very sick," Mrs. Talbot continues. "My heart bothered me, my limbs were heavy and I had a dragging sensation across the loins. Rheumatism, lumbago and neuralgia added to my sufferings and the doctor I called in did not help me much.

"I finally decided to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. I have used seven boxes and I am so much stronger and better that I feel I must recommend them to others.

Mrs. Talbot's complication of troubles all came from sick kidneys. That's why Dodd's Kidney Pills cured them. For Dodd's Kidney Pills are no cure-all. They simply cure kidney disease of any kind. They never fail to do that.

strong team when they appear on the same platform.

That the arbitrary election law in vogue in this city seems to be looked upon with suspicion in some quarters.

The members of the Provincial Government are becoming so pious that in future they will be known as ministers.

That the premier's call to another field of labor was thwarted by a salary increase.

That these who want the police commission taken out of civic politics will have some difficulty in deciding how to cast their ballots on Monday.

That the civic officials who made so much of talk of throwing up their jobs and running for the Council, were not there with the goods when it came to a show down.

That in the present civic contest the electors will have to choose between the sins of Omission and the sins of Commission.

That the President of the Algonquin Club is said to have seen first Robin.

Amherst News:—The News is delighted to report that A. A. Barker's condition is very much improved today. He spent a very comfortable night and is resting quietly. One and all will be glad to learn of his complete recovery.
