Was Troubled With His Heart.

HAD TO GIVE UP WORK.

When the heart begins to beat irregularly, palpitates and throbs, skips beats, and sometimes seems to almost stop, it causes great anxiety and alarm. Many people are kept in a state of morbid fear of death, become weak, worn and miserable, and are unable to attend to either social or business duties, through this unnatural action of the heart.

To all such sufferers Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills will give prompt and permanent relief.

Mr. Alfred Male, Elmda, Ont., writes:—"I was troubled with my heart for two or three years. I thought sometimes that I would die. I went to the doctor, and he said he could not do anything for me. I had to give up work. My wife persuaded me to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. The first box relieved me, so I kept on until I had taken seven boxes, and they cured me. I would not be without them on any account, as they are worth their weight in gold. I advise my friends and neighbours who are troubled with heart or nerve trouble to try them."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50 cents a box, 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers, or direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto Ont.

HOW EDITORS GET RICH

After a great deal of worry and study we have at last figured out how so many country editors get rich. Here is the secret of their success. There is a child born in the neighborhood. The attending physician gets $10. The editor gives the loud-lunged youngster a great send-off and gets $0. It is christened and the minister gets $5, and the editor gets $00. It grows up and marries. The editor publishes another long-winded flowery article and tells a dozen different lies about "the beautiful and accomplished bride." The minister gets $10 and a piece of cake. The editor gets $000 and a request to carry the groom's subscription account another year. In the course of time she dies. The doctor gets from $5 to $100, the minister gets from $5 to $100, the editor publishes a notice of death and an obituary two columns long, lodge resolutions, a lot of poetry and a card of thanks and gets $0.000. No wonder so many country editors get rich.—Exchange.

CORRESPONDENCE

To the Editor of the Quebec Chronicle:

Sir—Next year we are to celebrate the Peace Centenary. One has been thinking of the best way in which we could mark that event in Quebec, for Quebec must not be left out in this celebration. There is something which churchmen might do which would mark the event in a unique way. James Wolfe was a churchman, and a man of sincere and devout habits. In an age of licence, he lived a pure life, and the victory he won was a victory of character.

On the Avenue des Braves, that magnificent new avenue built by the Battlefields Commission to connect the plains of Abraham with the battlefield of St. Foye, is a slight rise in the ground. From this eminence, when the trees are leafless, one can see the monument which marks the very spot where Wolfe breathed his last. In another direction, one can see the monument to Levis and Murray. To the south one catches a glimpse of the great St. Lawrence, and to the north stand "the everlasting hills!"

The little plateau is the highest piece of ground overlooking the plains. The situation is superb, and as I saw the sunset from it last evening, the grandeur of the hope which has long been mine, of seeing on that spot an architecturally exquisite church—a true angel of peace—rise to the memory of the great hero whose deathbed that green plain was, possessed me, and I thanked God for the privilege which was ours, if we chose to use it of coupling the honour of the hero with the honour and worship of the Lord whom he faithfully served. The idea is one which appeals to all those who in their minds know that the truest knighthood is founded in religion. It is my privilege to be able to say that Mr. William Laurie, the owner of the site, has offered to sell for this purpose as much ground as should be needed at the exceedingly low figure of thirty cents a foot. The particular location on that Avenue is worth double or treble that value. This offer is conditional upon the erection of the Memorial being undertaken within a twelve months. I would propose to raise a sum of about $50,000 for the building, and some further sum for maintenance. The manner and details of the collection will have to be thought out, but one feels confident that Churchmen in England and Canada and all over the Empire, and in fact many others who, though not churchmen, admire the character and life of the great general, would gladly subscribe and feel privileged in doing so. The church would be known as St. James and could be under the charge of the Bishop and Chapter of the Cathedral. The details can be arranged without difficulty. The great thing is for churchmen to grasp the unique opportunity afforded them in Quebec, of honoring on the very field where he died, one of England's greatest generals in a way which would impress upon future generations of men the lessons of a noble life, a life of duty and courage, the life of a young man who dying at the age of thirty-three changed the destinies of a continent. The idea is sublime.
