PARLIAMENT

Colonel McLean said he understood that there should be full liberty for members on either side to express their opinions upon this question. He said that no party whip had been used upon him in 1910 and there had been none now.

Colonel McLean favored the building of the largest type of Dreadnoughts and said that the question was not one of emergency but one of Canada's duty and that it must be faced resolutely and cheerfully from that standpoint.

He reviewed the substitute proposals of Mr. Guthrie and of Mr. German, also that of Mr. Sharpe of North Ontario. Colonel McLean himself said:

"Could we not get together on a plan of settlement such as the following: Carry out the Government's resolution and adopt the recommendation of the Board of the Admiralty by building the largest and strongest ships of war which science can build or money supply. Let us agree to make the number three; let a special parliamentary committee be appointed to be called Canadian Defence Committee, and let them take up and consider the details of a permanent Canadian naval service and our contributions to imperial defence."

"The committee would require the advice and assistance of the best admiralty experts. They should have power to sit during parliamentary recess, and should visit England so as to obtain at first hand the best and most reliable information. A report could be submitted at the next session of parliament and, both parties being united as to the scheme, it could then be submitted to the people by plebiscite. I want the party leaders to show themselves in the true white light of public opinion as imperial statesmen. Let them rise above the mists of party politics. The Right Honorable Leader of the government has had the benefit of consultations with the Admiralty Board and their advice as to what they wish Canada to do. In the naval debate of 1910, I then differed from my party on this question. I advocated two Dreadnoughts so that Canada would be represented in the fighting line. I then thought and still think, that the assistance to be given by Canada should be the best fighting ships that can be built; they should be owned by Canada, and as soon as we can train men to man them they should be manned by Canada."

"There have been wonderful changes during the last three years in naval strategy and naval construction. The admiralty are now carrying out the maxim of Lord Nelson 'Concentrate your battle ships and scatter your cruisers.'"

Proceeding he came to the amendment moved by Sir Wilfrid Laurier. In this connection Colonel McLean said:

"I am strongly in favor of our building in Canada all the vessels we can. We should have established here a big steel shipbuilding plant. Canadian ocean-going vessels are now built in Great Britain. We should insist on our government building in Canada all the war vessels and Canadian government vessels possible, even at an additional expense—but I say we cannot build Dreadnoughts or battle cruisers. If, regardless of cost, we attempted to build them, would the experiment prove a success? A material defect in the construction might be the cause of the loss of the ship and crew and might lose us the fight."

Colonel McLean referred to Hon. Mr. Pugsley's speech, and said that while there was great force in the argument in favor of building the big ships in Canada, he (McLean) thought that as Canada must be properly represented in the fighting line we should have the ships built by the best builders and experts in the world, and so produce the finest class of fighting ships afloat, and these he thought should be built in Great Britain. He argued that it would not be a good business proposition to attempt to build the larger vessels in Canada.

Colonel McLean concluded his speech at 11 o'clock with a declaration of approval of Mr. Borden's proposals and a tribute to Sir Wilfrid Laurier for blazing the trail in Canada's participation in imperial defence. He urged the two leaders to get together and unite on a common policy.

Mr. Lanetot followed in French, after which Hon. Mr. Lemieux moved the adjournment.

The division on the naval resolution is expected Thursday, after which the debate on the second reading of the Borden bill will be proceeded with.

STOCK MARKET

(By direct private wire to J. C. Mackintosh & Co., 550 Queen Street, Fredericton, N.B.)

New York, N.Y., Feb. 8.—The opening was dull with unimportant changes. The attendance in the commission houses was small and traders showed a disinclination to increase their commitments. The talk of a strike of railroad firemen and expectation of unfavorable bank statement were bearish factors but some little covering of shorts was in progress.

DO YOUR HANDS CHAP?

ZAM-BUK WILL HEAL IN ONE NIGHT.

For badly chapped hands, cold cracks, frost bite, etc., Zam-Buk is the best known balm. Wash the hands or part affected in water as hot as can be borne. Dry with a soft towel and then smear the Zam-Buk well over the part. If it is the hands wear a pair of old gloves overnight. By morning the pain will be gone. Then use Zam-Buk a few more times and the cracks will be healed. Mrs. A. F. Phillips of Ayers Cliff, Que., says: "I suffered terribly from chapped hands. At times my hands were so sore that I could almost have cried with the pain. I tried Zam-Buk and in a very short time my hands were cured."

Mrs. W. M. Balliet of Port Hawkesbury, N.S., writes: "Some time ago my hands were very badly chapped. Ordinary ointments did not heal them and I was advised to try Zam-Buk. To my great delight it healed my hands completely."

Zam-Buk will also be found a sure cure for piles, ulcers, blood-poison, varicose sores, cuts, burns, bruises, and skin injuries generally. All druggists and stores sell at 50c. box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, on receipt of price.

CHANGE OF CLIMATE DID NOT HELP

But GIN PILLS Conquered
His Rheumatism

THE fact that men of standing and responsibility do not hesitate to come out and state frankly how much good GIN PILLS have done them, speaks volumes for this good old remedy.

Mr. W. G. Reid, of Hamilton, whose statement we publish below, with his permission, is one of the best known commercial men in Canada. His many friends throughout the country will be delighted to learn that he is quite himself again. He says:

"I have been for the last two years a cripple with Muscular and Inflammatory Rheumatism. I have tried almost everything known to medical science to relieve me of the intense pain and inflammation. I sought change of climate in Kentucky and other Southern points without relief. Your manager in this city recommended GIN PILLS and I have since taken eight boxes and am now cured. I consider GIN PILLS the conqueror of Rheumatism and Kidney Disease."

(Signed) W. G. REID.

Muscular and Inflammatory Rheumatism, Lumbago, Sciatica and all other troubles arising from weak, inactive or diseased kidneys, have little chance against GIN PILLS.

The curative properties in these pills go straight to the root of the trouble—the failure of the kidneys to keep the blood free from the irritating Uric Acid which is continually being formed in the body. GIN PILLS help the Kidneys to perform this function properly, and the train of troubles vanish.

Just try it and prove it to your own satisfaction. There is no risk—money back if GIN PILLS do not help you.
