MISS MORGAN - York St.

VIRGINIA OUTLAWS TO DIE THIS WEEK

Richmond, Va., March 20—Floyd Allen, the leader of the outlaw band in Carroll County, and his son, Claude Swanson Allen, who are in the death cell of the State Penitentiary awaiting their doom, have only one more week to live. Governor Mann having refused to interfere in the case and all legal resources having previously been exhausted in behalf of the prisoners, they will go to the electric chair one week from today unless something entirely unexpected and unforeseen should occur. The execution of these two men, who had been the principal actors in the "shooting up" of the Carroll County Court at Hillsville, on March 14, 1912, will be the closing chapter of one of the most sensational murder tragedies ever enacted in this country.

The tragedy at the Hillsville court house was the culmination of years of lawlessness on the part of the "fighting Allens," as the wealthy and numerous family of the Allens were called in that mountain district. Some time in February, 1912, two nephews of Floyd Allen were arrested for some minor offence by a deputy sheriff. While they were being taken to the jail, Floyd Allen and several other members of the Allen family attacked the deputy, knocked him senseless with the butt of a revolver and rescued his prisoners. Floyd Allen was arrested and indicted and his trial began in the early part of March.

Floyd Allen, who seemed to be the leader of the clan, had openly boasted that he would never go to prison and the Allens had made frequent threats against the court and everybody connected with it. Floyd Allen was tried on March 13, but the jury did not bring in its verdict until the following day. The prisoner being a man of prominence, his trial attracted a great deal of attention and on the morning of March 14 the courtroom was crowded with spectators, among whom were half a dozen or more of the members of the Allen family.

The jury rendered a verdict of guilt and the court sentenced Floyd Allen to one year imprisonment. When the presiding judge, Thornton L. Massie, turned the prisoner over to the sheriff, Floyd Allen, exclaiming that he would not go to prison, drew two revolvers and opened fire at the court. The other members of the Allen family, who were in the rear of the courtroom, followed his example and for a few minutes bullets flew thick and fast. Judge Massie, States Attorney E. M. Massie and Sheriff Lewis Webb were shot down and killed on the spot and a number of other persons who happened to be in the courtroom at the time were injured. August Fowler, a juror, and Nancy Ayres, a girl of nineteen, who had been a witness in the case, died from their wounds after a few days.

The Allens, excepting Floyd Allen, who accidentally had been shot in the knee, and his son Claude, mounted their horses and fled into the mountain wilderness of the Blue Ridge range, where, from behind rocks, they defended themselves against the posse sent out to capture them. The governor offered a reward of $1,000, which was later raised to $4,000 for the arrest of the gang.

Floyd Allen was arrested on the following day and two days later a special grand jury returned indictments against Floyd Allen, Claude Swanson Allen and Victor Allen, sons of Floyd; Friel Allen, Wesley Edwards and Sidney Edwards, nephews of Floyd; Bird Marion and John F. Moore. The latter was merely indicted for having assisted the Allens to escape.

Victor Allen and Bird Marion were arrested at Pikesville on March 17 and taken to Roanoke, Va. Sidney Edwards was captured near his home on March 22. Claude Swanson Allen, almost starved by two weeks of hiding in the mountains, gave himself up near Hillsville on March 22 and on the following day Friel Allen followed his example. Sidney Allen and his nephew Wesley Edwards managed to escape, but were captured at Des Moines, Ia., on September 14.

Floyd Allen and his son Claude were tried separately for the murder of States Attorney Foster and found guilty. They were sentenced to be executed on November 22 of last year, but obtained several respites, the date being finally fixed for March 28. Sidney Allen was given thirty-five years, Wesley Allen 27 years, Friel Allen 18 years, Sidney Edwards also 18 years in the penitentiary, Victor Allen, Bird Marion and John F. Moore were acquitted.

BIG MONEY AHEAD FOR YOUNG ROCKFELLER

New York, March 24—Some one recently propounded the question as to what would be the first thing you would do if you were given a million dollars. Now here's one for the bright pupils at the head of the class. What would you do if you inherited several hundred millions of dollars? Some problem, eh? Yet this is the very problem that a little American boy who celebrated his seventh birthday today will in all probability have to solve when he grows older.

The little fellow is John D. Rockefeller III., eldest son of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and grandson of the Standard Oil magnate, the bulk of whose millions he will eventually inherit. The Rockefeller fortune is estimated at upwards of $1,000,000,000. Should the seven-year-old lad of today inherit one-half of estimated at upwards of 1,000,000,000, this amount and the same be compounded at interest for fifty years he will have about $2,700,000,000 with which to make himself comfortable in his old age.

Skin Diseases

ARE PAINFUL
AND UNSIGHTLY.

Among the most prevalent are Salt Rheum, Eczema, Tetter, Rash, Boils, Pimples and Itching Skin Eruptions.

These troubles always arise from the blood being in a bad condition and it is absolutely impossible to eradicate them from the system unless you put your blood into good shape. This you can do without the slightest trouble by using Burdock Blood Bitters.

It drives out all the humor from the blood, and makes it pure and rich. Thousands of people have used it during the last thirty-five years and have been cured. Mr. Robert Gamble, Jones Falls, Ont., says:—"I write with the greatest of pleasure to recommend your great blood purifier, Burdock Blood Bitters. My wife and I had itching sores on our face and ears, and tried everything to help them, but found no relief. We saw your B.B.B. advertised and got a bottle, and before it was half gone we both were getting better, and when it was all gone we were cured."

Burdock Blood Bitters is manufactured only by The T. Miburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.
