A TWO FACED POLICY

The Toronto Globe predicts another two-faced campaign on the navy issue as in 1911. It says Sir Wilfrid Laurier is to be represented in Quebec as an Imperialist who is determined to send the sons of Quebec to Britain's wars all over the world, and who will care nothing if they are disembowelled or sent to the bottom when the ships on which they are serving meet the enemy. In Ontario he is held up as a foe of British connection, and the leader of a "separatist" conspiracy that would cut the Imperial tie.

To show how the two-faced campaign is carried on the Globe cites the following remarks from the Guelph Herald of Tuesday, and from L'Evenement of Quebec of Monday last. Both are strongly Conservative. L'Evenement being the mouthpiece of the Hon. Mr. Pelletier, the Postmaster-General. The Guelph Herald says that "The policies of the two parties in Canada are striking in contrast. In brief, the Borden scheme looks toward unity and a full nationality in the Empire, while the Laurier proposals all tend towards neutrality and independence. As Mr. Borden put it, the policy of Sir Wilfrid Laurier means one result, and one result only: the severance of every tie that binds this Dominion to the Empire. We are to be of the Empire in peace, but in war we are to retire within the lines of Torres Vedras—we are to assert a happy, and safe neutrality, from which, at the conclusion of the conflict, we are to emerge once more into the security and protection of the Empire. The thing is impossible, except as a most cowardly, humiliating, and contemptible means of achieving that independence which was the goal of his desire in 1898."

It is a very different tune that L'Evenement plays. That paper tells the Quebec Nationalist-Conservatives that "the greatest extremists cannot deny at this moment that the contribution bill as presented by Mr. Borden has all the characteristics of a purely temporary measure, and no one with a knowledge of the facts can raise the cry that it means a tribute of blood and money as can be done regarding the naval plunge of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who would engage Canada for all her future without consultation, in the wars of the Empire."

It is almost incredible that two papers following the same leader could have such conflict views of the drift of that leader's policy. In Quebec L'Evenement holds Laurier up as the arch Imperialist who would engage Canada for all her future, without consultation, in the wars of the Empire. In Ontario he is the separatist whose policy would mean the severance of every tie that binds the Dominion to the Empire.

In summing up the Globe says: What do the loyal Conservatives of Ontario think of such unspeakably low politics? The Liberal leader has had to face like tactics in every contest since, in 1899, he had the temerity to send Canadian troops to help the Empire in South Africa, despite the protests of Mr. Bourassa and his friends. The traducers, having lied Sir Wilfrid out of office, propose to keep him out of power by the same means.

The candidates in the recent local bye-election in Antigonish, N.S., have published a statement of their legitimate expenses. The Tory candidate, who won claims that his expenses were $400.82, while the expenses of the unsuccessful Liberal candidate were put down at $400.82. It evidently costs less to run elections in Nova Scotia than it does in this province, although of course, there are exceptions. A Tory who was elected to the legislature for York on one occasion is alleged to have boastfully stated that his election only cost him twenty-five cents.

The best wishes of a large circle of friends will follow Lord and Lady Ashburnham to the Old Country where they go to occupy the historic Ashburnham estate.

Commodore Stewart, M. P., in his paper the Chatham World finds fault with Mr. F. B. Carvell, M. P. for advocating tariff reform in the House. "Why didn't he," says the Commodore, "demand tariff reform while his friends were in office." Many people having knowledge of Commodore Stewart's savage attacks on Chief Commissioner Morrissey during the last provincial campaign are still wondering why he did not repeat them in the House last session. The Commodore had plenty of ammunition but for some reason he was afraid to make use of it. In view of his own record he should be a little cautious about accusing other public men of inconsistency.

The Borden naval bill is now before the Senate for the second reading, and the indications are that an amendment will be adopted compelling the government to submit the question to the people. Hon. Mr. Loughheed, the government leader, spoke yesterday and will be followed today by Sir George Ross, who will define the Liberal attitude.

that General MacKenzie had been appointed chief of staff for Canada on the recommendation of the Imperial war office. General MacKenzie offered his resignation on April 7th last, giving no reasons for resigning, and the recommendation was accepted a week later so take effect October 31.

Premier Borden stated that General MacKenzie's successor has not been decided upon.

Col. Crowe, commandant of the Royal Military College has not resigned and Mr. Borden said that the minister of militia had unofficially suggested that Col. Crowe's term of service which expires next October should be extended.

CARON'S DISMISSAL

During the consideration of the Intercolonial Railway estimates the dismissal of J.T.B. Caron from the board of management of the government railway was discussed. Mr. Caron was a former member for Ottawa, and in 1908 he was a Liberal candidate in L'Islet. Several members of the opposition, including Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux and Mr. Gauvreau, charged that his dismissal from the board had been made at the instance of Dr. Paquet, the member for L'Islet.

Hon. Frank Cochrane denied that Mr. Caron was dismissed for political reasons but because the board was abolished. There had been no charge against him.

E. M. MacDonald declared that Mr. Caron had been shabbily treated. It was an unwritten law in public life that an ex-member of parliament appointed to a public position should not be disturbed by his political opponents when they came into power.

WILD STATEMENTS

When Hon. Mr. Loughheed declared that if the senate rejected the bill it "would not only invite but announce separation from Great Britain," there was a chorus of "Oh, oh's" from the members opposite.

When he stated that the government had a direct mandate from the representatives of the people in the house of commons to proceed with the measure he was greeted by cries of "No, no" and "By the gag."

When he pleaded with the senators not to be "pawns on a chess board" to be moved by party considerations, a Liberal senator interjected: "Or to be threatened by the prime minister." While his jeremiad that Britain was in the throes of an emergency which threatened the existence of the empire was greeted by the expressive word "Rubbish."

When Hon. Mr. Loughheed concluded Senator Dandurand asked what he meant by the inference that Canada under the present measure would be doing more for the empire than Australia was doing.

Mr. Loughheed said he had not intended to convey such an impression.

Sir Geo. Ross moved the adjournment of the debate until tomorrow afternoon, when it is expected that the Liberal leader will make an important and eloquent pronouncement.

Women Sing the Praises of Dodd's Kidney Pills

Saskatchewan Lady Adds Her Testimony To What Has Already Been Said of the Great Work Dodd's Kidney Pills Are Doing

Caesarville, Sask., May 26—(Special)—The scarcity of female help in a new country subjects the women of the prairies to unusual strain and careful observation has established the fact that this strain first makes itself felt in the kidneys. For this reason Dodd's Kidney Pills are making an enviable reputation from the Great Lakes to the foothills of the Rockies.

Everywhere you will find women singing the praises of the great Canadian kidney remedy that has banished their pains and weariness and brought them back to health. Among the many is Mrs. Edgar Cowen, an estimable lady of this place.

"I have found Dodd's Kidney Pills very beneficial," Mrs. Cowen states. "If anything I can say will help any sufferer I am glad to add my testimony to what has already been said."

The kidneys strain all the refuse material out of the blood. If they are out of order this refuse remains in the blood and becomes poison. That's why sound kidneys mean pure blood and good health. Dodd's Kidney Pills make sound kidneys.
