WILL TAKE VOTE ON COMMISSION PLAN

Jersey City, N. J., April 14--Special elections are to be held tomorrow in Jersey City, Hoboken and several other New Jersey Cities to decide upon the adoption or rejection of the commission plan of government. If Jersey City adopts the plan it will be the largest municipality in the East to do so. Mayor Wittmann and other city officials are leading in the campaign for the change, and it is declared that opposition to it has generally lessened since the rejection of the plan two years ago, and the chances of success are believed to be fair. Hoboken, Bayonne and Union Hill, where the proposal also will be voted on, are regarded as doubtful.

London, April 12--Mr. J. Keir Hardie will ask Mr. Asquith in the House of Commons on Monday next whether he is aware that the proposal of Mr. Borden to make a loan gift of three battleships to the Admiralty has become a matter of acute party controversy in the Dominion Parliament, and whether, under these circumstances, he will take the opinion of the Cabinet on the propriety of suggesting to the Canadian Government of not proceeding further with the proposal.

DECLARES THAT DENNISON IS A LIAR AND AN IMPOSTER

Rev. Father Carney Speaks out Plainly in Sermon at St. Dunstan's Church---
Claims That Man Who Recently Lectured
Here Was Never in the Priesthood---
Calls Upon Him to Produce Credentials
Says He Applied For Admission to the Anglican Church and was Rejected

At the morning service in St. Dunstan's Church on Sunday, the pastor, Rev. F. L. Carney, devoted some attention to Mr. F. P. Dennison, who claims to be an ex-priest of the Roman Catholic Church. His sermon in part was as follows:

Twice within a very short time the Catholic Church, which we all love so well, has been basely assailed by an unsavory character named F. P. Dennison, who came to Fredericton for the purpose of sowing seeds of discord. On the first occasion I remained silent, little thinking that the unchristian offence would be repeated. The attack has been renewed and in the interest of truth I must meet it.

The Catholic priesthood has been assailed and traduced by one who assures us he was a priest once himself. You hold the priesthood, as all Catholics do, in the highest honor; you look upon the priesthood as a holy state and you are shocked if a priest, unfortunately, should betray his high calling. Some have fallen, as you know. Judas was a priest, but he betrayed his Master. Luther was a priest, but he became the immoral saint of the so-called Reformation. Priests are human--priests may fall--but it does not follow that all priests are as this man Dennison paints them.

If F. P. Dennison was ever a priest of the Catholic Church he should make good his assertion. He has not done so yet. If he is what he represents himself to be he should produce his credentials. Such is the practice with our church--no man is permitted to exercise the ministry unless he has the proof of his ordination. This practice too, obtains in every institution and in every state. Has this man the credentials to prove his assertions? Not at all. By the confession of Rev. Mr. Lawson of Moncton, where this wanderer made his first appearance and where he was received into the Baptist fold, no credentials were produced to support his contention.

In an interview granted almost a year ago, in the city of Moncton, Mr. Dennison stated that he had been educated at Maynooth and ordained by Archbishop McCabe in the year 1884, at the age of nineteen. He also asserted he had served for a time as a priest in Limerick and again for a number of years in the region of the Great Slave Lake in our Canadian Northwest.

Now, all the statements and assertions made in this interview by the alleged priest have been investigated and the results have been published already in The New Freeman. It is, therefore, unnecessary to repeat them here in full. But briefly Rev. J. F. Hogan of Maynooth College, Ireland, testifies that no man named Dennison was ever ordained in Maynooth College by Archbishop McCabe. His second statement regarding his ministry in Limerick is proved false by Rev. John Begbey, who is a competent witness from the fact that he is writing a history of the diocese of Limerick. That his third statement regarding his service in our Northwest is equally false is shown by the letter of Bishop Breynat, who has jurisdiction over the Great Slave district.

From all this testimony it follows that Mr. Dennison has been proved a liar out of his own mouth. Are we not then justified in calling him an imposter? Such he is assuredly. But lest our Baptist friends hesitate about accepting our proofs, I will go one step farther and publish for the first time an additional fact that goes to show that the Catholics of New Brunswick are supported in their contention that Mr. Dennison is a liar and an imposter.

I am informed on most excellent authority that this man Dennison, about a year ago, applied for admission into the ministry of the Anglican Church in the Province of New Brunswick. His story was listened to, a quiet but thorough investigation followed and Dennison was pol-

MARYSVILLE

An up to Date Machine Shop---
Bad Roads---Personal Items of Interest

Marysville, April 14--The Mail's correspondent recently had the pleasure of visiting the up-to-date shop of Mr. John Marshall at Sandyville, and was shown around the premises by Mr. Marshall, who explained everything in connection with his excellent plant. Mr. Marshall has a large amount of work from the saw mills to do, as he is a good, careful workman, turns out creditable work and can do a splendid job in any branch of his business.

The roads in and about Marysville at the present time are in a dreadful state. The backward spring has caused the mud to remain to the depth of six or eight inches in places while the frost just coming out of the ground makes the driving anything but pleasant.

Mr. Fred Youmans, ticket collector on the main line of the I.C.R. between St. John and Amherst, spent Sunday with his family here.

A large number of men are engaged painting the new weave room of the Cotton Mill, which when finished will present a very fresh and brilliant appearance.

As spring opens and big wages are offered for outside work some of the young men employed in this vicinity and earning small pay are becoming dissatisfied. The result will likely be a raise in wages or the departure of a large number.

BARKER'S POINT

Work on Marysville Spur Line Started in Earnest---Operations on the Nashwaak About to Begin

Barker's Point April 14--A large crew of men started work this morning at Tuttle Gulley on the Marysville spur of the Fredericton and Grand Lake Railway. Farther up the road there are two shacks occupied by large crews who are pushing the work along. Quite a number of visitors were on hand yesterday viewing the right away. It is merely a matter of a few days when this part of the operations will be in full swing.

Business on the Nashwaak River is also beginning to look up and men are making preparations for the season's work which is expected to start some day next week.

The dwelling house at the bridge formerly occupied by Mr. and Mrs. George Foss and lately bought by the Partington Pulp & Paper Company is to be converted into an eating room and sleeping apartments for the boom men while a large building is to be erected as a cook house.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob S. Mitton at Renous, Northumberland County was gladdened Saturday by the arrival of a son and heir. Mrs. Mitton was formerly Miss Florence Rickard daughter of the late Thomas Rickard of G. bson.

Mr. and Mrs. John Rice of Marysville spent Sunday with friends in Gibson.

Mr. G. E. A. Davidson of Montreal is at the Queen.

CLERGYMAN IN TROUBLE

Action for Heavy
Damages Being
Tried in Boston
Court

Rev. W. B. Ayers Charged With Alienating Affections of Wife of one
Chester A. Boynton

Boston, April 14--Arguments in the suit of Chester A. Boynton against Rev. William B. Ayers, pastor of the Park and Downs Church at Wollaston, for $25,000 damages for alleged alienation of his wife's affections which was on trial last week before Judge Lawton in the fifth session of the Suffolk Superior Court being made today. Just before noon recess on Saturday both sides rested and court adjourned.

During the greater part of Saturday morning Mr. Ayers was again under cross-examination. He emphatically denied Boynton's charges, declaring he actually appealed to the husband in an effort to keep the family together. He also said he had done everything in his power to save Boynton's standing on the church and had been the only person to vote against his expulsion.

Mr. Boynton then took the stand in rebuttal, contradicting Rev. Mr. Ayers' testimony and that of certain witnesses for the defendant. He declared that he had never introduced resolutions into the church meeting in praise of the pastor and his work.

Miss Flora Sass, who has been an interested listener at every session of the trial and whose alleged relations with Mr. Boynton have been described by the defendant and a number of his witnesses, was not called to testify.

RENSHAW-GILBERT WEDDING TOMORROW

New York, April 13--A wedding license has been issued to Miss Lilla B. Gilbert, the $15,000,000 heiress, who said she never would marry until she found an "ideal man." On April 15 she will wed Howard Price Renshaw, a wealthy manufacturer and inventor of Troy, N. Y. When Miss Gilbert made her debut two years ago, she described the only man she would ever consent to marry. Here he is:

He must be six feet tall, fond of athletics, know how to raise pigs and poultry and must take lemon in his tea, eat ice cream with a fork, wear his clothes like John Drew, have a firm jaw, ears close to his head, clean shaven, must be an Episcopalian, money-maker, must have large intelligence, but not soulful. His hair must curl over his left ear. Renshaw is said to lack a number of these qualifications.

WEST POINT CADETS TO BE REINSTATED

West Point, N.Y., April 14--In compliance of the recent order of Secretary of War Garrison and in conformity with an act of the recent Congress the general court-martial which expelled four West Point cadets from the service more than a year ago for alleged intoxication reconvened at the academy here today to reconsider the cases. Captain Thomas Darrah, 9th Infantry is president of the court, and Lieut. David McKell, C.A.C., is judge advocate. After full consideration of each case on its merits the Court will report to the War Department its judgment as to whether the original sentences should be allowed to stand or whether they should be modified.

PERSONAL

Mr. W. A. Gibson of St. John is in the city.

Mr. F. H. Deering of St. John is a guest at the Queen.

Miss Winifred L. Dunphy, professional nurse of Newport, R.I., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Dunphy, Regent street.

LIBERALS WILL FIGHT ARBITRARY MEASURES

Will Not Allow the Borden Machine to trample Upon the Rights of a Free
People---Debate on Steam Roller Resolution Will be Continued This Week and a Lively Time is Expected---Liberals Confident That Their Cause Will Triumph

Ottawa, April 13--Liberalism will not submit to the loss in a single day, through the high-handed and unconstitutional action of the temporary and ruthless majority, of the rights of a free people gained through centuries of conflict.

That is the issue to be decided, probably this week in parliament, when the government attempts to put through the closure bill. The decision of Liberalism, made through its leaders at a conference in Sir Wilfrid Laurier's office yesterday, was to fight to the last ditch, and defeat arbitrary and unjustifiable measures threatening the whole future of good government in Canada, by compelling an appeal to the people.

There was no sign of compromise at the conference, no sign of discouragement. There was, on the other hand, after a careful discussion of the whole situation and of the methods which could be employed to frustrate the attack of the Borden Rogers machine upon the rights of a free people, and all that is essential to honest and just government, a confident belief that the whole issue will be settled rightly by the people themselves within the very near future.

The fight will go on in the commons until this end is accomplished. The government's last desperate resort of closure has not yet succeeded. The Liberal members of parliament believe it will not succeed. The revived hopes on the ministerial camp that the minority has at last been crushed are decidedly premature. The coming week's developments will show this.

The plan of campaign in the commons is, of course, not made public so that the government may not have a chance to forestall it, but definite assurances are given that the fight is by no means over, and ultimate victory is not far off.

WARM TIME LIKELY THIS WEEK

The debate on the closure resolution will be continued tomorrow and probably for several days to come. The crucial struggle is not expected

UNSUCCESSFUL ATTEMPT TO ASSASSINATE KING ALFONZO

Madrid, April 13--For the third time in his reign, King Alfonso narrowly escaped today being the victim of an anarchist attempt against his life. Three shots were fired at the king this afternoon in the streets of the capital by a native of Barcelona Rafael Sanchez Allegro, who was immediately overpowered.

King Alfonso owed his life to his own courage, quickness and skilled horsemanship. Accompanied by his staff he was riding along the Calle de Alcañ the way back from the ceremonies of swearing in the recruits when a man sprang from the sidewalk and seized the bridle of the king's horse with one hand, presenting a revolver pointblank with the other.

The king took in the situation at a glance. With lightning rapidity he dug his spurs into his horse, which reared violently. His quickness saved his life. The bullet instead of burying itself in the king's breast, struck the horse on the neck, but so close was it that the king's left hand glove was blackened by the powder discharged.

Before the assailant was able to pull the trigger again a secret service man sprang upon him. The two men fell to the ground locked in each other's arms, struggling furiously. The assassin managed to free his revolver arm and fired two more shots in rapid succession, but the officer knocked his arm aside and the bullets flew harmless through the air.

ASSASSIN FOUGHT DESPERATELY

At the sound of the first shot the king's staff forced their horses on sidewalk and made a ring around the assassin, who fought long and fiercely in the grip of four policemen before he was overpowered and handcuffed.

King Alfonso, as soon as he saw that the man had been secured, raised himself in the stirrups, turned to the crowd, gave a military salute, and shouted in ringing voice: "Long live Spain!"

He then dismounted and reassured his staff, saying: "It is nothing, gentlemen."

Then up rose a mighty roar from the wildly enthusiastic crowds, which rolled along in great waves of sound all the way as the king rode to the palace, cool, collected and smiling.

A spectator, a pensioned royal hardier, pushed forward impetuously to offer his congratulations to the monarch, and he was mistaken for another assassin and arrested. He was released, however, as soon as the mistake was discovered. A young Frenchman, who was standing beside Allegro, was also arrested, but it does not appear that he was in any way connected with him.

TRIED TO LYNCH ALLEGRO

The crowds made a determined attempt to lynch Allegro, who was hurriedly taken into a house and kept
