

HAD RHEUMATISM IN ALL MY BONES

"Sometimes I Could Hardly Walk!"
2 Boxes of Gin Pills Cured Me

I SUFFERED from Kidney Trouble for five long years. I also had Rheumatism in all my bones and muscles—could not sleep at night—and sometimes could hardly walk. I was treated by some of our best physicians but without relief. I lost over fifteen pounds, was very weak, and friends, who had not seen me for some time, were astonished. One day, I met one of our leading hotel keepers, who had been cured by Gin Pills, and he advised me to try them, so I bought two boxes at my druggist's.

Before I had used one box, I felt a big change for the better, and before the second box was gone, I was completely cured.

I assure you I can hardly believe it for if I had known what I know now about Gin Pills, I would not have spent over one hundred dollars for nothing, when two boxes of Gin Pills cured me.

Anyone suffering from Kidney Trouble or Rheumatism, should never be without Gin Pills.

FLORENCE FAIRBANKS ON FADS AND FASHIONS

New York, Jan. 25.—The fashioning of gowns is no longer a matter subject to set and rigid rules; it has become an art and only artists in their métier can ever hope to succeed in producing modern gowns and costumes that are really beautiful and becoming. Darts, gores and other devices for the shaping of garments are eliminated from fashionable toilettes of the present. A length of goods is draped about the figure to form the skirt, the fullness being lifted or lowered at will to form the drapery. Fabrics are neither cut nor sewn, but swathe the figure. They are often left open at the hem to reveal a glimpse of the ankles, and in the formation of the train there is no set rule. It may be at the back if it conveniently falls that way, but in some of the new draped forms the train goes off to the side.

The natural and beautiful lines of the body are retained in the fashions of today. In all of the new draped effects the skirt is close about the feet, and the fullness spreads just below the curve of the hips. This fullness is often placed in the form of hood-like or loop draperies hanging from the belt. Such a thing as a dart for fitting a skirt is at present unknown. If the material cannot be adjusted to the belt through the dropping down of a part of the fabric fullness it is laid in irregular pleats or gathered.

In the construction of the bodice quite as many new and extraordinary ideas prevail as in the skirt. The jackets and coats of the present also come in for their share of eccentricity in cut. They defy all rules, having seams where seams are least expected to be found, and having no seams where they have heretofore been found.

In the newest bodices and coats the underarm seam is lacking. The shaping is done by means of the shoulder seam, or through the applications of a curving yoke which extends down to form the top of the sleeve. Unlike the kimono cut of the ordinary form, which had no shoulder seam or armhole seam, but did have an underarm seam, the new bodice now has no underarm seam but has an armhole and a shoulder seam.

Sleeves for street wear are long. Many of the new separate waists, as well as simple costumes, have full-length sleeves and there are also many of the most dressy gowns with long sleeves. The kimono form has been retained to some extent, but it is the kimono set on to the drooping or extended shoulder and brought down into fitted form. There are a hundred variations of this style of sleeve, some of which are straight-hanging, other flaring and open, and still others in the bell shape.

New Evening shirts are slashed and cut up about the feet in all sorts of frivolous fashions, and yet such shirts do not appear the least out of the way when worn by a lady. The long lines and the openings disclose nothing save a dainty white or colored stocking, and stockings being in evidence this winter, now fill an important place in the wardrobe for both day and evening wear. Low shoes, or, rather slippers, are still worn for the street, and it is considered quite chic to put a pair of colored hose with a black slipper.

Women who go out a great deal in the evening, or those who put on evening dress for dinner, this winter are having several plain satin slips of white and various delicate dyes made, over which is to be slipped a tunic of net, mousseline, or tulle embroidered, beaded or finished with pearl trimming. With such changes, a new gown is the effect all the time, while the expense is greatly reduced.

A practical scarf to be thrown over the shoulders at the opera or in a draughty ballroom is one of coarse lace edged with swansdown, the latter of white or any tone one wishes. The scarf is about a yard and a half long by half a yard wide, or it may be three-cornered in shape, all at the desire of the wearer. The effect is dainty, the lace is softening and enriching to no matter what colored toilet one wears, and the covering is just enough to cheer without heating the shoulders.

Many fashionable women still cling to the flat stolid of swansdown. But this, while beautiful is too warm, and removing it from the neck one is apt to take cold.

Fur continues to dominate for trimmings for evening wear. Nothing is prettier or softer, but for good effect only the real peltry looks well, while imitations look outrageously vulgar.

Colored gloves are to be much worn. They are shown in almost every color in which afternoon gowns and street suits are made in all shades of red and blue, in green and every variety of tan and brown.

Was Troubled With His Heart. HAD TO GIVE UP WORK.

When the heart begins to beat irregularly, palpitates and throbs, skips beats, and sometimes seems to almost stop, it causes great anxiety and alarm.

Many people are kept in a state of morbid fear of death, become weak, worn and miserable, and are unable to attend to either social or business duties, through this unnatural action of the heart.

To all such sufferers Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills will give prompt and permanent relief.

Mr. Alfred Male, Elmda, Ont., writes:—"I was troubled with my heart for two or three years. I thought sometimes that I would die. I went to the doctor, and he said he could not do anything for me. I had to give up work. My wife persuaded me to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. The first box relieved me, so I kept on until I had taken seven boxes, and they cured me. I would not be without them on any account, as they are worth their weight in gold. I advise my friends and neighbours who are troubled with heart or nerve trouble to try them."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50 cents a box, 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto Ont.

NEWS OF FREDERICTON TWENTY-ONE YEARS AGO

(From the Weekly Herald of January 23, 1892)

MUCH ADMIRER—Aurora, running stallion owned by the government was visited by a number of the county councillors and very much admired. This stallion's merits are just becoming known. He has several fine colts in different sections of the county.

MAMMOTH TREE—John Delucry while hauling logs on the Grand John a branch of the Nashwaak, for Mr. Gibson last week cut and hauled a spruce tree which measured 1675 feet. It was about three feet in diameter at the butt. This is a sample of the spruce which has made the Nashwaak famous.

IMPERSONATION—A certain downtown barber has got into trouble if charges made at the police court on Thursday can be sustained. Mrs. Hatch informed Mr. Marsh that at the last mayor's election the barber had personated her.

ALDERMANIC—The contest in St. Ann's, Carleton and King's Wards promise to be stirring. Canvassing is going on vigorously and no stone is being left unturned to secure success. In each case the fight is a three-cornered one, the hardest election that can be run, as it is in nearly all cases one against two. Monday evening next will settle the matter.

SOFT WEATHER—The highway bridge over the river has demonstrated its usefulness this winter. People are asking themselves what would have been done without it. As there scarcely has been safe driving on the ice three days in succession we would have been in a tight place at times.

WARD MEETING—A very enthusiastic meeting was held Wednesday evening for the purpose of nominating candidates to represent King's Ward in the city council. G. N. Babbitt was appointed chairman and F. St. John Bliss, secretary. Ald. Marshal Ritchey and A. H. F. Randolph were unanimously nominated and accepted nomination.

FAREWELL ADDRESS—On Monday evening the Board of Trade presented a farewell address to T. W. Smith, who intends removing to the west. His son, A. A. Smith was also presented with an address by the young men of the city. (Mr. T. W. Smith removed to California, where he remained about ten years, returning to Fredericton.)

THOUSANDS UNABLE TO HEAR MISS BOOTH

Toronto, Jan. 22.—At Massey Hall Sunday afternoon and evening seven thousand people heard and two thousand people tried to hear Miss Evangeline Booth, Commander of the Salvation Army forces in the United States, daughter of the world-respected General Booth, and for nine years head of the Army in Canada. The capacious hall was more than filled at both meetings and at least a thousand clamored in vain for admission at each of them.

In large letters displayed across the front of the hall was expressed the object of these meetings addressed by Miss Booth—"A National Memorial to the Life and Work of General Wm. Booth in the form of a Training Institution to be Erected in the City of Toronto."

His Honor the Lieutenant Governor of Ontario, Sir John Gibson was chairman of the meeting, and he, together with Sir James Whitney and Mayor Hocken, expressed the high admiration and respect with the names of Commander Evangeline Booth and that of her lamented father are held in the Province of Ontario and in this city.

Many times throughout her address Miss Booth made affecting reference to the founder of the Army and her father who had passed away on August 20 of last year. With some vehemence and much feeling, she publicly repudiated the insinuation that with the passing of her father to his reward the Salvation Army would crumble to pieces. "Since his death," she said, "many great changes have silently and steadily been wrought in the working of the great Army and the bringing about of these changes and improvements proves that the Army has a spirit and an organization that does not cease with the death of one of its officers."

So eager were people to gain admission to the afternoon meeting that they began to gather about Massey Hall at the Shuter Street entrance half an hour after noon and two hours before the meeting was announced to open. The hall was ordered to be cleared at the afternoon meeting and the doors were opened for the afternoon meeting at 7.45 o'clock.

Great ovations greeted the appearance of Miss Booth on the platform at both meetings.

ing to Fredericton. He died at the hospital here several years ago. His son A. A. Smith is still a resident of California.)

BOARD OF TRADE—An adjourned meeting of the Board of Trade was held at the City Hall, Friday afternoon. There were present Messrs. Tennant, Tippet, W. Lemont, Clark, Hodge, Neill, C. F. Chestnut and Secretary McCready. An extension of time was allowed. Committees on the questions, New Members and Steamboats, William Lemont then opened the discussion as to the necessity of a change in the present law respecting bills-of-sale.

The electric lights were shut off the time having expired and the match was declared a draw. (In those days the electric light service stopped at midnight.)

P., has been elected warden of Northumberland. H. P. Timmerman, general superintendent of the Atlantic Division of the C. P. R. and E. Tiffin, general freight agent, were in the city on Tuesday.

LOCAL TALK—There is not much interest in the civic election which takes place on the 25th.

Black Ghost, Sporter, and several other fast ones were out trying conclusions on Thursday afternoon.

The close season for deer began on the 15th inst. In respect to fishing it is not lawful to take trout or salmon through the ice.

Many remarks were made respecting the very handsome way in which the windows of J. J. Weddall's establishment were draped as a token of respect to the late Duke of Clarence.

DIDIER PETRE LEADING SCORER OF THE N. H. A.

IF CONSTIPATED OR BILIOUS—"CASCARETS"

No Biliousness, Headache, Sick, Sour Stomach, Coated Tongue
or Constipation

Furred Tongue, Bad Taste, Indigestion, Sallow Skin and Miserable Headaches come from a torpid liver and clogged bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food, which sours and ferments like garbage in a swill barrel. That's the first step to untold misery—indigestion, foul gases, bad breath, yellow skin, mental fears, everything that is horrible and nauseating. A Cascaret tonight will give your constipated bowels a thorough cleansing and straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist will keep you feeling good for months. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then to keep their stomach, liver and bowels regulated and never know a miserable moment. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.

the Cubs has offered to turn over several players to Montreal for Matten. His offer is being considered and probably will be accepted. Pitching for the Boston Braves in 1911, Matten made quite a name for himself, and McGraw offered several players for the pitcher only to be refused. Last season, however, Matten fell down badly and was shunted to the minors. He pitched good ball for Montreal, a second division team, winning seventeen and losing ten games and Evers believes he can "come back."

JOHNNY EVERS AFTER MATTEN OF ROYALS

In his wide search for a good left-handed twirler for the Cubs, Johnny Evers has been "tipped off" to Al Matten of the Montreal Club of the International League. The owner of
