I KNOW

COD LIVER OIL

Is the thing I need but I can't take it on account of its horrible taste. Ever say that? If you did you had in mind the old blue bottle of cod liver oil and its taste and smell really were something to be dreaded.

Nyal's Emulsion

of cod liver oil is a modern scientific remedy palatable and pleasant.
You can take Nyal's Emulsion. Anybody can. And everybody should who feels the need of a body builder and strength-giver particularly those who have lung trouble or are in a run-down and weak condition.

Nyal's Emulsion contains pure cod liver oil combined with hypophosphites of lime and soda to strengthen the nervous system. If you want to nourish the body and fortify the nervous system take Nyal's Emulsion.

Was Troubled With
His Heart.

HAD TO GIVE UP WORK.

When the heart begins to beat irregularly, palpitates and throbs, skips beats, and sometimes seems to almost stop, it causes great anxiety and alarm.
Many people are kept in a state of morbid fear of death, become weak, worn and miserable, and are unable to attend to either social or business duties, through this unnatural action of the heart.

To all such sufferers Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills will give prompt and permanent relief.

Mr. Alfred Male, Elmda, Ont., writes:—"I was troubled with my heart for two or three years. I thought sometimes that I would die. I went to the doctor, and he said he could not do anything for me. I had to give up work.
My wife persuaded me to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. The first box relieved me, so I kept on until I had taken seven boxes, and they cured me. I would not be without them on any account, as they are worth their weight in gold. I advise my friends and neighbours who are troubled with heart or nerve trouble to try them."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50 cents a box, 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited,

DUCHESS OF CONNAUGHT
SLIGHTLY IMPROVED

Montreal, Jan. 9.—Two bulletins respecting the condition of the Duchess of Connaught, at present apatient in the Royal Victoria Hospital, were issued tonight, the last one given out at a late hour was more reassuring and indicated that after a restless day her royal highness had found relief in sleep.

The Duke of Connaught and the Princess Patricia called several times at the hospital and visited the distinguished patient, who occupies a private suite in Ward "L," where Miss Pelly, lady-in-waiting, and two trained nurses are in constant attendance.

There was little change in the patient's condition throughout the day, and while it is regarded as serious, there is nothing yet to indicate that it will be necessary to resort to an operation.

WHY ZAM-BUK IS BEST CURE FOR SKIN SORES

An illustration of the way in which Zam-Buk cures even the most serious and chronic cases of ulcers, eruptions and sores is provided by Mr.
R. H. Barker of Glencairn, Ont. He says:

"I would not have believed that any remedy could cure so quickly, and at the same time so effectively, as Zam-Buk cured me.

"My face became covered with a kind of rash, which itched and irritated. This rash then turned to sores, which discharged freely and began to spread. I first tried one thing and then another, but nothing seemed to do me any good, and the eruption got worse and worse, until my face was still covered with running sores.

"Apart from the pain (which was very bad), my face was such a terrible sight that I was not fit to go out. This was my state when someone advised me to try Zam-Buk. I got a supply, and, marvellous as it may seem, within little under a month, every sore on my face was healed. I was so amazed that I have told the facts to several persons and I have no objection to your stating my experience for the benefit of other sufferers."

Zam-Buk is purely herbal in composition, and is the ideal balm for babies and young children, for whose tender skin coarse ointments are so dangerous. Zam-Buk is a sure cure for cold sores, chapped hands, frost bite, blood-poison, varicose sores, piles, scalp sores, ringworm, inflamed patches, babies' eruptions, and chapped places, cuts, burns, bruises and skin injuries generally. All druggists and stores sell at 50c. box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, upon receipt of price. Refuse harmful substitutes.

POMERANIAN CLUB
HAS ANNUAL SHOW

New York, Jan. 10.—Numerous luffy specimens of the canine aristocracy, with an aggregate value of more than fifty thousand dollars, were petted and admired by leaders of society who thronged the Astor Gallery of the Waldorf-Astoria today for the third annual bench show of the American Pomeranian Club. The show proved one of the most attractive specialty exhibitions ever given in the metropolis. Reuben Clarke, a noted English authority, judged the exhibits and awarded the prizes.

FLORENCE FAIRBANKS ON
FADS AND FASHIONS

New York, January 11.—One of the most striking features of present day fashion is the extensive use of laces for the trimming of gowns, coats, and blouses and hats. Every known variety of laces is used for some purposes, but it requires good tast and judgment to select the right kind of lace in each individual case. The use of white laces on dark gowns is always a dangerous experiment. Where such a combination is used the laces should be of very good quality. A touch of real lace on a dark gown will lend distinction and dignity to it. But the colors bring the lace so much into prominence that it must needs be of a very good quality or the gown is hopelessly cheapened.

Inexpensive laces may be used to any extent on thin summer material and they add a note of daintiness and airiness. The thinness and lightness of most summer materials do not vie with the laces for prominence, but the one blends in with the other and there are no sharp contrasts. Lace flounces on thin material and the general effect of the attire, but lace flounces on either skirt or bodice in dark winter materials give an appearance of freshness which is always to be avoided.

Thin nets and laces which are not real may be used for high collars and yokes, for here they are not placed on the material itself and the flesh beneath them softens them.
They are placed in juxtaposition to the material of the gown, but not on it. Wherever lace is placed on a material so that it brings out strongly the pattern of the lace and its quality, it must be one that can bear inspection or it had better not be used at all.

Crepe de Chine and China silk will be extensively used this spring, and crepe de Chine as a lining is real ideal. Women have grown rather accustomed to the heavy brocades and silks and linings for furs and evening wraps, and yet nothing could be a greater mistake, for these heavy garments need a soft lining to preserve the soft, clinging lines demanded this year.

Black crepe de Chine for mourning crepe as trimmings and for entire waists is much demand. White crepe is becoming more popular each day and the shops are showing all manner of neck pieces made of this material. White collars and jabots are edged with it and entire bows made of it. There is a softness and simplicity about it which make it suitable for mourning where one wishes to relieve the heavy effect of first mourning.

There is every indication that straw hats will be worn a great deal during the spring season. The importers are already beginning to show some of the new models.
There seem to be a gradual tendency toward hats that roll up at the side and back and are trimmed at the back. Some straw models with high crowns and tiny brime are also shown though on the larger hats the crowns are quite flat or melon shaped. There is a scoop shaped hat with rolls up at the back and has almost a bonnetlike effect, and with one single plume posed in the back makes a charming frame for a pretty face.

Most of the straw braids seen so far are extremely fine and narrow, and as many of these hats will be made by hand they are likely to be rather expensive, in consequence of the cost of the extra labor required in the making. This is offset in a measure by the scantness of the trimmings, for they still continue small.

Tiny little wings, shaped like Mercury or butterfly wings, are used as a flat low trimming, and for the trimmings, long narrow strips of velvet are posed to stand straight up in front, and look like blades of grass. Jet, malines and crepe de Chine play an important part in millinery trimmings, and many hats have the entire crown covered with this self same crepe.

There are straws too, so finely woven to resemble crepe. Ribbons with borders in Greek pattern are extremely attractive, and one small hat which turned up sharply at the back had a large bow of this ribbon which fell gracefully over the hair and in fact, completely covered it.
There is a great vogue of artificial flowers just now and they are used extensively for adornment. Lawn and satin flowers are more worn than velvet, and with colored gowns in the evening a very large black flower is often introduced on the front of the décolleté, or the left side of the waist. Orchids with maidenhair fern covered with tiny rhine stones, like dew, are great favorites, but they often renewed. Nothing is so unattractive as shabby flowers. Bunches of violets are very much favored, as are also preserved asparagus ferns. Many of the flowers women are wearing are perfumed. This requires some caution to prevent overdoing it.

For headdress artificial flowers are not worn much, although once in a while some bride may wear an artificial lilies of the valley or orange blossoms in her hair. A good deal of care is needed in pinning bouquets to garments so as not to interfere with the line of figure. The stems, if long and stiff, should be cleverly hidden, and when tucked into the front of a coat for day wear they should not be too near the face. Flowers should be chosen not only to accord with the gown, but with the complexion, the hair and the individual coloring generally, the great aim being to rendering them becoming.

Day coats are much the same as those for evening wear. All are made in conspicuous colors and stuffs, although the more elegant are in combinations of black and white.

Smart women are clinging resistently to the short skirt, although quite a number of clinging, trained skirts appear bordered without.

Very novel is the double-breasted blouse coat, which below the waist is pointed at the front and back, to form a knee-length tunic.

The Chinese influence is making itself felt strongly this winter, both in interior furnishings and in the embroideries on the gowns and suits.
The separate blouse has by no means been consigned to the background.
Tailored varieties of white satin and crepe de Chine are trimmed with large gold-buckles and colored velvet collars and cuffs.

Colored neck bows adorn many blouses; these are fashioned of crepe de Chine in robbins-egg-blue, cerise, yellow and red.

The Roman striped silks now displayed in the shops are very effective when cut into sash length and worn on black, white or blue gowns.

In almost every instance gowns are draped and cleverly manipulated folds are caught up with buckles, or bows.

Bright green tailored suits are a novelty worn by many fashionable women in Paris as well as here.

PYRAMID OF GIZEH

Unexpected Conclusions.

The very stones of the Great Pyramid of Gizeh are crying out in no uncertain tones. Every inch of the massive structure, with unerring problems which for centuries civil-in vain to find and which men of science have encountered hardships to analyze.

"CASCARETS" FOR A
SICK, SOUR STOMACH

Gently Cleanse and Regulate Your Stomach, Liver and Bowels
While You Sleep

That awful sourness, belching of acid and foul gases; that pain in the pit of the stomach, the heartburn, nervousness, nausea, bloating after eating, feeling of fullness, dizziness and sick headache, means a disordered stomach, which cannot be regulated until you remove the cause. It isn't your stomach's fault. Your stomach is as good as any.

Try Cascarets; they immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the intestines and bowels. Then your stomach trouble is ended. A Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box from any drug store will keep your stomach sweet; liver and bowels regular for months. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.

Toronto, Jan. 9.—Despite receipts that were unusually heavy for the season, the market at the Union Stock Yards yesterday opened strong and prices went a little firmer than at the close of last week. There existed a better feeling all round. Demand was brisk for good classes of cattle, good steers and butchers, as well as fine grades of cows, going fifteen to twenty-five cents higher. Milkers were also in good demand, and arrival of trade for stockers made market conditions for them somewhat better. Buyers from outside, including Montreal, were on hand and bought. Because of the large number of cattle trade fell off a little toward the end of the day. As for small meats, lambs firmed up twenty-five cents per hundredweight to a very strong market, sheep advanced about the same amount, and calves were steady. Heavy demand forced up prices of live hogs another two-cent per hundredweight, despite a liberal run. The home trade in hogs is immense. It has absorbed practically all receipts during the past year.

The top choice paid for cattle was $6.90 given for choice steers.

OLD TIMES

The meeting of the York County Council which was given over to a discussion of good roads might have been more interesting had Secretary Bliss put in an appearance and entertained the gathering to a few extracts from his famous series of Letters to the late Thomas Robinson, M.P.P., in definition of the Hazen Highway Act. At that time the Secretary Treasurer had the problem of good roads solved—on paper.
