KLING THROUGH WITH GAME EXCEPT AS MANAGER

Joe Tinker Trying Hard to get Him out With Cincinnati Reds---Kling has Independent Means and a Good Business---American Association or Western League Club May Get Him as Manager

Kansas City, Mo., January 10—Johnny Kling, who managed the Boston Braves last season, will never again play baseball until he secures a position as manager of either a major league or Class A minor league team. Kling realizes that there is little chance of his securing a job with a big league outfit, but he has received several offers to manage clubs in the American Association. Kling is well fixed financially, and will never be obliged to play ball in order to gain a livelihood. The following interview was given by Kling today at his home: "I am getting along in years. I am 37 years old, very nearly 38. I was born here in Kansas City. Here is all the money I have saved. I intend to stay here. I am through with baseball except in this way: If I can get my unconditional release I shall be open to accept a position as manager of one of the American Association of Western League Clubs. I could then be home practically all of the time. I had a tentative offer some time ago of a three-year contract, a straight bona-fide contract, for as much money as I was drawing in Boston, to act as manager of an American Association team."

TINKER AFTER HIM

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 12—John Kling may not be seen uniform when the bats ring out in 1913. Joe Tinker, new manager of the Reds, spent most of today in close conference with Johnny and, it is said, offered him $6000 per annum to play with the Cincinnati team.

Kling again said tonight that he would not play ball again in the big leagues. "My business here needs my management," he added, "and I cannot leave. Joe and I did not talk much about it, but will get together in a heart-to-heart conference tomorrow."

Tinker appeared to be confident that he would finally obtain Kling's signature.

MATINEE RACING THIS AFTERNOON ON RIVER

The first matinee racing under the auspices of the Celestial City Driving Club is taking place this afternoon on the river. The prospect last night was that there would be contests in all the classes formed by the Committee of Management. Yesterday afternoon a number of the horsemen were on the speedway with their flyers. The track is in fairly good condition but will improve.

John Fussey has opened a public stable at the Louisville track. Trainers wintering in Georgia have been bothered lately by rain.

JOHNNY KLINGSYDNEY TRIMMED MONCTON VICTORIAS SCORE 5 TO 4

Winners Scored Three Goals in Last Five Minutes---Moncton Team Much off Color

Moncton, Jan. 13—By netting three goals in the last five minutes, Sydney won from Moncton tonight in a game replete with fast and brilliant hockey. The game was exciting and interesting throughout.

Some of the fans were of the opinion the Vics didn't play as well as in the opening game but this impression was due from the fact that they were up against as strong a team as themselves. For the most part the play was clean, the few penalties handed out being for tripping principally.

Sydney opened up with a rush and put the Vics on their defence at once. Tetrault eventually netting the puck for the first goal. Moncton came back with two leaving the score two to one in favor of the Vics in the first period.

In the second period Sydney made it two all and play began in the third period with the teams on an even footing. In the latter part of the period the Vics scored two goals and it looked like another win but the Sydney team weren't so easily beaten. With about five minutes to play and the score standing four to two in Moncton's favor, Mallen was sent to the boards for tripping Tetrault and this was the beginning of the end, as Sydney shot three goals in rapid succession while Moncton was unable to get one past McDonald.

That Sydney has a strong team is undoubted, but tonight's play didn't indicate that they had anything on the champion Vics. For the visitors, Tetrault, Richardson and Dunphy starred. Richardson and Tetrault especially showed themselves to be fast men and good stick handlers. Far the locals, Walker and Doherty were the stars. The visitors played good team work and demonstrated that after a little work together they will be a hard combination.

Moncton tried their new coverpoint, Eddie Carpenter and the opinion is he will be a valuable acquisition. Both goal men tonight had plenty of work and both made some sensational stops. McDonald especially saved his team several times when it looked like a sure thing. The teams lined up as follows:

Moncton	Sydney
Goal	McDonald
Cross	Point
Kyle	Deure
Doherty	Cap. McDonald
Centre	L
Mallen	Richardson
Right Wing	Tetrault
Walker	Left Wing

McGregor Dunphy
Moncton played Carpenter at intervals, Walker going to centre. Goals scored as follows: First period, Richardson (Sydney) 7½ minutes; Walker (Moncton) 11 minutes; Doherty (Moncton) 19 minutes. Second Period, Tetrault (Sydney) 11 minutes. Third period, McGregor (Moncton), 11 minutes; Doherty (Moncton) 14 minutes; Dunphy, (Sydney) 17 minutes; Richardson (Sydney) 19 minutes; Richardson, 19½ minutes. Penalties: McGregor, Cap. McDonald, Richardson, Cap. McDonald, McGregor, Mallen each two minutes. Jack Brown, referee.

SPORTS OF ALL KINDS

"I am going to remain out of the game for some time," asserts Marquard. About two months is right.

A Philadelphia "North American" suggestion: "Johnny Evers is wondering how he can make Saier, his sphinx-like first baseman, chirp out in the game. Johnny might try the plan of secreting a few hot coals in Saier's glove between innings."

It has not been made clear just Fred Merkle, the Giants' first baseman, recently punched a Toledo bartender who has brought suit for $5000 damages. But Merkle's friends say they would not be surprised to learn that the drink mixer asked Merkle why he failed to touch second, a question that has forced the big first baseman into numerous scraps since the memorable episode at the Polo Grounds in 1908.

Philadelphia Ball Factory received a cargo of medium to prime genuine Mediterranean cork the other day for Zimmerman, Baker, Wagner and Cobb to pole out of the Park. Philadelphia "North American."

Magnate Bill Carey, of the Springfield Club of the Eastern Association (formerly the Connecticut League), tells a funny story of a semi-professional manager who came to him for a pitcher in the middle of last season. "What's the matter with your present pitcher?" asked Carey. "I understand he has not lost a game this season." "Yes, that's true," said the semipro manager, "but last Saturday he won his game by only one run."
