MILLIONS FOR FRIENDS

There are reasons for the increase in the cost of living and such favours of the Government as Messrs Mackenzie and Mann know a good deal about them. Early during the session there was talk of a loan of $30,000,000 to the Canadian Northern. Fealers were put out and aroused such opposition that even the autocratic Warden government became prudent. The matter was left over until when parliament was jaded at the end of a long session the government put through a clear gift of $16,000,000 to the Canadian Northern, as a subsidy.

The ordinary subsidy is given to encourage the building of railways. This $16,000,000 was a present for lines already built—a "supplementary subsidy." It is already announced by government organs that "It is believed that this year's subsidy tide over a financial stringency and that next year will witness a renewed application." It will be fortunate for Canada, if by that time there is a Liberal government to check this sort of thing.

After helping its friends Mackenzie and Mann, the government still had a lot of money. The Grand Trunk had its customary financial stringency so the government kindly handed it a loan of $15,000,000.

While loading its friends the railway corporations with benefits, the government absolutely refused to take any measure to reduce rates or even equalize western or eastern rates, or to bring the Canadian Northern completely under the Railway Commission.

Following this up the Government presented a couple of millions to its friends the Whitney government of Ontario, and again refused to provide for Federal control of the Ontario government railway which is making handsome profits for the province.

Among other similar measures the government greatly increased its mail subsidies to Great Britain and the West Indies with no proportionate increase in either speed or efficiency, it took authority to restrict the importation of fruits without submission to Parliament; it took authority to establish a parcels post system at some indefinite date when votes may be needed without submission to Parliament in every direction there was constant effort to rob Parliament of its powers and invest the supreme government with the cabinet.

GOVERNMENT FEARS PUBLICITY

When the Donaldson Homestead case was discussed in parliament and it was shown that a friend of the government had secured a $375,000 "homestead" for $10 Hon. Mr. Oliver tried to get all the documents in the case. He was denied some of the most incriminating. He tried persistently to get them, was as often promised them by Hon. Mr. Rogers. Parliament prorogued without these documents ever being produced.

Since the opening of the session leaders of the Opposition have been trying to get returns showing how many thousands of government servants have been dismissed to make room for Conservatives. The only satisfaction they could get was statements that so wholesale had been the execution that it would take months to prepare the returns.

Hon. Mr. Rogers is making a success of introducing Manitoba methods to Ottawa, but not the kind of success which is likely to appeal to the people whenever the coalition government dares to face them.

The report of the Superintendent of the Provincial Hospital shows that there was thirty-six patients from York County in the institution last year. Of this number five were supported by the Municipality eleven by friends and twenty by the province. Under legislation passed by the Flemming Government last session the county must contribute the sum of one dollar a week for the support of all patients. This means that after January 1st next taxpayers of York must pay for twenty-five patients at the rate of one dollar per week each, whereas last year they only had to pay for five patients at the rate of $1.25 per week each. And, it is scarcely necessary to add this boost in taxes was the act of a government which went into power pledged to economy.

In these days of financial stringency the Flemming government certainly displays poor judgment when it seeks to dispose of $100,000 worth of bonds. The government is now badly in need of funds, as it usually is, but if it has any regard for the interests of the province it will wait until the money market loosens up a bit before endeavoring to dispose of provincial bonds.

It is pretty hard to find a man in the rural sections of York County who has a good word for the Flemming Highway Act.

The stringency in the money market has hit the Flemming Government and it is making an effort to sell $100,000 of provincial bonds.

FINDS MISSING WIFE
AFTER LONG SEARCH

(Montreal Witness)

To have been mourned as killed in the Far East, and then returning after an absence of 35 years, was the surprise packet given to Mrs. Welland when her long absent husband appeared on the doorstep last Saturday night. Mrs. Welland was dumbstruck for a minute. She hardly knew whether it was really Welland or his double, after explanation everything was satisfactory settled, the "fatted calf" was killed, and a party got together in no time, and rejoicings were kept up until an early hour yesterday morning.

Mrs. Welland is a very jovial lady; she has been grieving the loss of her husband throughout the whole period of his absence. She could have married again many times, as she had several good offers but no, she still thought somehow he might turn up. She described her feelings when her husband turned up, between fits of laughter and tears.

"I was washing up the dishes," she said, "when my husband appeared. He looked so aged and broken down that I could hardly recognize him, but I never gave up hope, and now I am glad he has come back. My mind is at rest. I have worried a great deal about him, but thank God it's all over now."

The story of how Welland came to be absent so long is one more often met with in novels than in real life. Welland was some 35 years ago, a sergeant in the Egyptian army. He later enlisted under the banner of Osman Pasha, and fought against Russia during the sixteen months' siege of Plevna when the fortress fell. Many thousands of the defenders were slain, and a large number taken prisoners of war. Welland was among these latter, but in the hands of the Russians only a few months, when he was released and returned to Cairo. He found his wife had gone. He set out to find her, but not one of his friends knew where she had gone, all that they could tell was that she had gone to England, and that she was going on from another country from there.

Since that time Welland has travelled practically all over the world in his search for his wife. He left Liverpool for New York a month ago but only remained there a fortnight and came on to Montreal and resumed his inquiries at every point in the city. His search brought him to St. Dominique street, and at last, when he had practically given up hope, a casual inquiry brought him face to face with Mrs. Welland. Today there Mr. and Mrs. Welland.

It is reported that Ina Claire is to go permanently to the Raity Theatre, in London, next season.

YOUR BAD TASTE
IN THE MORNING
IS DUE TO CATARRH

Destroy This Poisonous Disease Before Your Health is Seriously Injured

Perhaps you haven't thought of calling those unpleasant symptoms that affected your nose and throat by any particular name—but it's catarrh just the same.

When the attack is severe your eyes are watery and look weary. Your breath is offensive, due to inflammation in the nose and throat.

At last science has discovered a real remedy, a new scientific marvel which acts like no other Catarrh remedy on earth. "Catarrhazone" operates on a new plan; it is a direct remedy, goes instantly to the source of the trouble. Its rich, fragrant essences and healing balsams are breathed through a special inhaler and give instant relief.

Catarrhazone doesn't stop at the relief stage—it goes further—keeps on going till a cure is effected. Bad cases are cured, as you can judge from the following letter:—"Every morning for six months last winter I awoke with a bad taste, an awful breath and stuffed up feeling in the nostrils," writes Rob. E. Rutland of Regina. "It was simply an awful case of chronic Catarrh. Relief first came from Catarrhazone. I used that inhaler twenty times a day and took it to bed with me at night. I am cured and by the use of Catarrhazone stay well. Now I am free from irritable throat trouble, cough, colds, headache or catarrh."

No medicine on earth is so certain to cure every form of Catarrh or throat trouble as "Catarrhazone." Get the large $1.00 size, lasts two months and is guaranteed; medium size 50c, sample size 25c; all storekeepers and druggists or The Catarrhazone Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Canada.
