ORIGIN OF THE "DARK HORSE"

The political term "dark horse" is believed to have had its origin in these circumstances, says the Springfield, Mass., Republican:

In the last century there lived in Tennessee a "character" named Flynn, an elderly person who dealt in horses, Flynn generally contrived to own a speedy nag or two for racing purposes if he could arrange for "a good thing" during his peregrinations throughout the state.

The best of Flynn's fliers was a coal black stallion named Dusky Pete, almost a thoroughbred and able to go in the best of company. One day Flynn visited a town where a race meeting was in progress. He entered Pete. The people knowing nothing of the horse's antecedents, and not being over-impressed by his appearance backed the local favorite heavily against the stranger.

Just as the horses were being saddled for the race, a certain Judge McMinamee, who was the "oracle" of that part of the State arrived on the course and was made one of the race judges. As he took his place on the stand he was told the folly of the owner of the strange entry. Running his eye over the track the judge instantly recognized Pete.

"Gentlemen," said McMinamee, "there's a dark horse in the race, as you'll find out." He was right, Pete, "the dark

There is a choice to be made for the goal position and there is also a doubt as to whether or not Charley Barry will be playing.

ST. JOHN TEAM.

The Telegraph has the following about the St. John team:

"The local players have been practising whenever there was an opportunity on the lakes and ponds near town and should be in fair condition to stand a game. The St. John players to make the trip are as follows:

Goal—Don Machum.
Point—Ed Mooney.
Cover point—Brad Gilbert.

FRANK LEONARD OFFERS TO BUY MARATHON CLUB

Proposition is to Have Six Team N. B. & Maine League---Joe Page to Report Today on Another Project---Everything is in the Air at Present---League Baseball for Province Seems Sure

St. John, Jan. 28.—As a result of a meeting of the local baseball promoters, John Russell, Jr., H. J. Fleming and D. B. Donald, at which Frank Leonard, owner of the Lynn team in the New England league, placed a proposition before them, it is probable that the Marathon team will this year be owned and managed by an American, and will be included in a six team New Brunswick & Maine League, which will consist in St. John, Fredericton, Calais and St. Stephen, Portland, Bangor and Lewiston.

If the proposition set forth by Mr. Leonard is accepted, he will buy out the St. John team, and will re-organize the league. His idea is to manage both his team in Lynn and the team here, but he will employ an assistant, who will look after part of the work. It is understood, however, that Mr. Leonard will spend the greater part of his time with the team here but during the time he is away his assistant will manage the local nine. He left last night for his home and he will be informed within the next few days whether his proposition is accepted.

The baseball men are at present awaiting the report of Joe Page, who attended a meeting of the North Eastern League in Manchester, N.H., a few days ago. He will appear before them this afternoon and present his proposition which is a four team North Eastern League, including St. John, Fredericton, Calais and St.

Stephen and Bangor. It is believed that he holds guarantees that each of these teams will enter such a league. In the event of his proposition being accepted, the management of the local team will remain about the same as last year. He himself will organize the league.

The plan which has been most favorably received by the baseball men and the public in general is that submitted by Mr. Leonard, as it could easily be put on a firm basis and fast ball could be furnished on account of the wide territory included.

It was reported at first that Mr. Leonard's plan was to include Halifax and Moncton in the league, but nothing was mentioned of them and it is not at all probable that the territory will be extended to include either of these teams.

It is said by the management that no matter which plan is adopted, St. John and Fredericton will act together.

No doubt the fact that the local team is to be owned by American capital and managed by an American, will create a good deal of comment, but the arrangement of the six team league will receive general appreciation. The fans here will have an opportunity of seeing a better class of ball and a great deal more interest will be made by a six cornered contest. It seems almost positive that the six team proposition will be accepted.

CHARGES AGAINST TEARNEY

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 28.—"Al" Tearney, member of the Chicago board of aldermen and widely known in baseball circles as the president of the Three-Eye league, was arraigned in the municipal court today for trial on charges of alleged violations of the 1 o'clock closing law in his saloon and cafe on the South Side. Officers of the law and order league, who are assisting in the prosecution, allege that Tearney had long run his establishment in open defiance of the law.

NEW RULE OF GRAND CIRCUIT STEWARDS DISLIKED

Many Prominent Horsemen Say That Rule Will not Work out---Rodney MacKenzie Against It

(Frank G. Trotter in Boston Globe)
What will be the result of the rule passed by the Grand Circuit stewards, limiting the money a trotter or pacer may win in early closing events, is lived up to? This question is being frequently, for not in years have followers of harness horse racing been so stirred by legislation by one of the governing bodies as they have by the action of the circuit stewards.

There is no question but what the stewards had only the welfare of the sport in mind, but this does not lessen the fact that it is the general belief that they acted unwisely. That it will ever be a benefit to the circuit to bar a trotter who has won $15,000 or a pacer who has earned $10,000 in early closing racing is doubtful at it is certain that it will be an immense help to tracks holding meetings in competition with circuit members.

EXPECTED TO DROP

Trainers and owners with prospective stake horses will look with favor on the outside meetings which come late in the season, and if the purses are made attractive enough many will drop from the big line. Springfield, Ill., never has drawn largely from the Grand Circuit, but this Fall, with its $500 purses open to all while Lexington is bound to bar the big money winners, the Kentucky meeting will find it hard to keep some of the leading stables away from the Illinois track.

Rodney Mackenzie, who has spent more money the past two years in buying horses to race on the Grand Circuit than any other three men, says that if the plan of the stewards is carried out the inducement for men to pay large prices is gone.

The turf press is almost a unit against the action, and some strong editorials have already appeared. James Tranter, a member of the Fasig-Tipton Company, who knows the racing game from every angle, voices the popular sentiment in the following open letter.

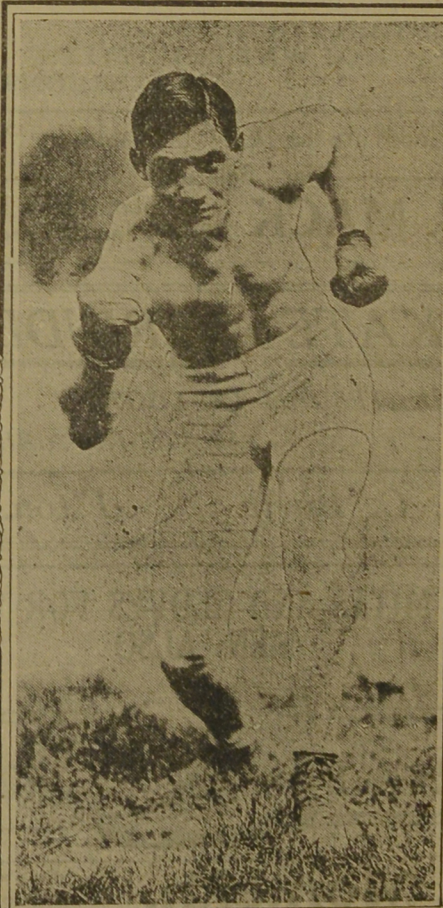

BIG MISTAKE MADE

"This, I believe, is my very first attempt to break into print with a personal opinion. And in this case I am fighting a windmill, for what I say will have no effect on the stewards of the Grand Circuit in passing a rule barring the winner of $15,000 in early closing events, except those to which he is eligible by record, is the hardest blow that has been dealt the trotting horse interests in many years.
