The River Valley Lumber Co. mill at this place started its sawing operations today. It is very pleasant to hear the sound of the "whistle" once more.

The many friends of Mr. Harrison F. Ward will be pleased to see him at home again after an absence of some months spent in Maine where he has been employed by the Great Northern Paper Company.

Mrs. B. Robinson Barker will accompany her daughter Mrs. Francis Myhrall to Gloucester, Mass., where she will spend the summer.

Miss Margaret E. Maloney of Cork Station, the popular book-keeper for the River Valley Lumber Co. expects to leave for her home this week. Miss Maloney has made many friends during her short stay here, who will greatly regret her departure.

JEFFRIES AND TRAINER BURNS ROUGHING IT

In this picture, Jeff is shown roughing it with "Farmer" Burns, who is one of the most important members of the big training camp at Rowdenman. Burns is a well known wrestler and when he and the champion set out to mix matters there is something doing. Jeffries is evidently rounding into shape very rapidly judging from his appearance in this picture.

Jeffries is essentially a left-handed fighter. It is said that he can hit harder with that hand than with the right. His most effective punch in a right left-hand hook, with which he stopped Fitzsimmons, Ruhlin, Corbett and Munroe. In each instance he reached the body with this wallop, following it quickly with a smash on the jaw.

Can Jeffries land the left hook on Jack Johnson's jaw? The negro is noted for his invulnerable blocking, and clinching. He is not as fast on his feet as Corbett was nine years ago, and may find it a hard matter to keep out the harm's way. But it must be remembered that Johnson is three years younger than Jeffries and that the latter has been idle for four years.

Jeffries, if he can recover his old form, is able to stand punishment, can hit like the kick of a mule, and is a clever ring general. If he goes after the jaw or body and lands, it is believed he will win. But if Johnson stays for any great length of time without sustaining serious punishment, Jeffries, because of a lack of his old stamina, may tire.

THAT TERRIBLE PUNCH.

It is conceded that it would take a terrible punch to put Jeffries out even if he were half fit. In his last battle with Fitzsimmons, Jeffries received many heavy blows on the head, only to keep on trying for the blow that finally stowed the freckled man away. Jeffries is not a rusher, however.

He and Johnson employ similar methods in that they await the attack of an opponent and hit when firmly planted on both feet. Johnson cannot land a knockout blow while under headway, but Jeffries can, and in this respect he may have an advantage.

It would not be surprising to see the fight terminate inside of twenty rounds. It surely will, if both men try, and if it goes beyond that it will be because Johnson keeps away. Jeffries must abandon his crouch to chase Johnson, and when not crouched he is not hard to hit. However, he is dangerous at all times. Johnson is a better fighter than his record would indicate, and it is also undeniably true that Jeffries can never be the man he used to be. This equalizing process is what makes the fight seem interesting.

THEN AND NOW.

They tell how Johnson "sneaked in" to see the Jeffries-Ruhlin fight in San Francisco. He walked out to the Mission A. C. early in the morning, and sneaked into the arena with several other would-be spectators. Half a dozen of them crawled under the ring, hoping to remain hidden there until the arena filled with spectators. There Johnson lay for ten hours, only to be hauled out by a watchman when the arena was cleared.

Johnson finally jumped over a fence into the enclosure again. He was grabbed and hustled toward the exit, protesting, "I'm de janitor, I'm de janitor." Just here a sporting man happened to come in. Johnson appealed to him. He "caught on" and recognized Johnson as Sam Pruitt, and Johnson saw the fight.

The measurements of the men are:

DIAMOND DUST

Manager Lake did not take Martell Cooney and Evans on the Brooklyn and western trip.

The Boston Nationals want to get Myron Grimshaw. There might be a lynching lee around this town if the big slugger were disposed of now.—Toronto Globe.

The New York American management have agreed to play an exhibition game with Toronto. The game will be in June, August or September.

Jake Gettman is at his old tricks. He defaces the trade mark at a terrific rate about this time every year, but slumps as the season advances.

George Stallings' Highlanders have been going well lately and it will be up to the Red Sox to do some hustling to get back into the first division before the end of the week.

Pittsburg has been gaining on Chicago and getting into a championship stride.

Detroit Free Press—Lathers, the young third baseman who subbed for Moriarity, was bought by Montreal last week, conditionally, completion of the deal awaiting Jennings' sanction. Lather was at St. Louis with the team at the time, and when Tom Jones was hurt Jennings declined to hold the youngster for emergencies for a time at least. He expects to send Lathers to the Eastern League when the team gets home and Jones and Moriarity are ready to return to duty.

After losing eight straight games, the Royals, with Krichel and Cockill again on the line-up, took a game from Baltimore and were rescued from the cellar position.

HOLMER IN TORONTO

Toronto, May 5—Hans Holmer, winner of the fifteen-mile race at Buffalo last Saturday, came to Toronto today and will rest up for the twenty-mile Canadian Derby at Hanlan's Point on Saturday afternoon. He is in charge of Al. Copeland, the Princeton trainer, and is a much improved runner under the care of the expert handler of athletes. Frank Nebrich, who finished second at Buffalo, and Ted. Crooks, who finished fourth; Abbie Wood, of Montreal, and Tom Coley, of St. Catherine, also will be here, and are added starters in the derby. Ljungstrom's injury at Buffalo was only trivial, and the flying Swede will start in Toronto sure. Johansen, his stable mate, has been saved for this race. There will be as many Canadian entries as outsiders, and, as Eck says, it will be a case of "Canada" against the world.

THE HOUR AND THE MAN.

Guest at dinner—What is the meaning of this? First you bring the fish and then the soup afterward. Waiter (confidentially)—Between ourselves, sir, it was high time for the fish.

The Royals are at present leading the Eastern league in batting, with a club batting record of .255. Their nearest opponent is Toronto, with .219. They have hit for a total of 66 bases, while Toronto has hit 60.

Atlantic City has increase in population in ten years from 28,000 to 60,000.

A husband and one son, besides a host of friends, are left to mourn their loss.

Mr. and Mrs. Sandie King are being congratulated on the arrival of another boy.

NATURAL DEDUCTION.

Mabel, aged three, taken to the butcher shop for the first time, gazed with horror at the sawdust on the floor.

"Pa," she whispered, "does he butcher dolls?"

Mrs. Chas. Sansom, who has been sick for some time, is not improving as rapidly as her friends would wish. We hope that under the skilful care of D. Owen she may soon be around again.

Mr. Spofford Manzer is also on the sick list. During his sickness Mr. H. Manzer is loading potatoes in his stead.

Messrs. C. Richardson and Heber Gupit arrived yesterday from Grand Falls. They will spend the summer in the village.
