HOME SEEKERS.

The Grand Trunk Railway are planning Excursions to the Canadian North West. These have been christened Home Seekers' Excursions and bring to mind the thought that there are thousands of new homes yet to be found in this ever-growing country—particularly along the line of the Grand Trunk Pacific.

The Grand Trunk Pacific has acquired sufficient land to make nearly 100 Town Cities between Winnipeg and Edmonton. The lots are now placed on the market for sale, and are being rapidly picked up.

Since last September between Winnipeg and Edmonton, the G.T.P. have been operating Passenger and Freight service. This is a distance of 703 miles, and all along the line there are villages and towns springing up with surprising activity.

There are four or five divisional points within this mileage that are showing marked development, and would well engage the special attention of those seeking a home or an improvement of their financial condition.

These excursions will be run on April 5th, 19th, May 3, 17, 31, June 14, 28, July 12, 26, August 9, 23, September 6, 20. Good for return within two months of date of issue.

Other and full particulars may be obtained on application to J. Quinlan, District Passenger Agent Montreal, or any other G.T. Representative.

The Royal Horticultural Society is in a most satisfactory condition, having £50,000 invested in gilt edged securities.

BOY PRIZE FIGHT ENDS FATALLY

New Jersey Youth Lived Three Days After Beating—Ring Formed in the Darkness.

Passaic, N. J., April 8.—Gilbert Trehou died here tonight from a solar plexus blow received in a boys' prize fight last Tuesday. With brief intermissions he had been unconscious since he was lifted out of the ring and carried to the hospital. Frank Keizer, who is named in the warrant as the other principal, is missing, and the police say he has fled to Canada. Henry Knackstedt, said to have acted as referee, who is superintendent of a Presbyterian Sunday school here, was arrested yesterday and released in $500 bail.

Trehou and Keizer were both nineteen years old, both pupils of the Passaic High School, and both of good family. Reports of their quarrel differ, but their story pieced together by the police, is that there had been bad blood between them for some time, and that on Easter Sunday they agreed to settle their differences with the gloves. Both went into training and last Monday declared themselves fit.

Word was passed about among their friends and Tuesday a small crowd met in a vacant lot behind an oil tank and squared off the ring. Lanterns were hung on the ropes, seconds were chosen and a time-keeper and referee named. The hat was passed for a purse for the winner and the collection was given to a stakeholder. It was a prize fight with all the formalities of the code.

The boys stripped to their undershirts. The light was bad and neither knew much about fighting, but both were willing and made up in savagery what they lacked in skill.

According to accounts of eye-witnesses, in the seventh and fatal round Keizer caught Trehou flush on the jaw with a heavy swing. Trehou staggered and, before he got to his feet again, Keizer shot in a body punch just below the end of the sternum. Trehou went down and lay groaning. The referee counted ten and still the boy lay flat. The crowd sensed that something was wrong and began to melt away in the darkness. One of Trehou's seconds and the time-keeper stuck by him and, when they could not revive him, carried him to the hospital.

UNKNOWN THIEF KILLED

Reading Va., April 8.—Detected in the act of stealing brass journals from freight cars late last night, an unidentified man was shot and killed by two Pennsylvania railroad detectives. The man was about 45 years old.

"I was born in a log cabin on a farm," began the tramp, but he got no further.

"And is this all you have made of such splendid opportunities?" cried the man he hoped to touch. "You deserve no consideration whatever." And he angrily passed along.

COLLAR BUTTON WINS DIVORCE FOR HUSBAND

Reinburger Found it and Knew it was Not His—Children Bribed to Stay Away From Home.

New York, April 8.—John Reinburger, No. 106 Riverdale avenue, Yonkers, the superintendent of the Waring Hat Manufacturing Company of that place, was granted a divorce from his wife, Catharine, yesterday, by Supreme Court Justice Mills. He was also given the custody of his two children, Philip, ten and Margaret, eight.

An exhibit in the case, which, it is said, proved a convincing argument for the husband, was an innocent-looking collar button. Mr. Reinburger found the article in his home, but swore that it did not and never had belonged to him. He also testified that at the time of finding it he had questioned his wife, and after two hours' evasion she admitted it was the property of another man.

Mrs. Reinburger is twenty-eight years old and one of the most beautiful women of Yonkers where she is well known for her performances in amateur theatricals. The chief witness for the husband was his son, Philip, who was compelled to take the stand against his mother and testify that on several occasions he had seen a "strange man" in his home, who had given money to him and also to his sister if they would absent themselves from the premises.

The man named as co-respondent is Michael Grace, twenty-eight years old, described as "tall and good looking" and who is employed in one of the business houses of Yonkers.

PRESENTATION TO MR. W. W. RUSS

Mr. W. W. Russ, who lately tendered his resignation as superintendent of the Hartt Boot & Shoe Company's factory, severed his connection with that establishment yesterday and left by the evening train for his former home in Haverhill, Mass. Mr. Russ, during his year's stay in this city, has shown himself to be a most capable shoe man and his work at the factory was highly satisfactory to the directors of the company. Yesterday, the board held a meeting and, summoning Mr. Russ before them, presented him with a valuable souvenir as a token of their appreciation of his services. Mr. Russ made a suitable acknowledgment. It is the intention of Mr. Russ to engage in business in Haverhill, and he has the best wishes of Fredericton friends for future success. Mrs. Russ and children left for Haverhill some days ago.

"What is the cause of that prima donna's indignation?"

"The press agent," replied the impresario. "He said she sang like an angel. She says that all the angels she knew couldn't sing. They merely wrote checks."

INDIANS WANT MORE SAYS LITTLE BISON

Sioux Chief with Feather Head-dress Speaks before New York Gathering—May Emigrate.

New York, April 8.—Little Bison was the picturesque feature of the luncheon of the League for Political Education yesterday in the Hotel Astor. Dr. E. R. L. Gould was in the chair. Miss Edith Wynne Mathison represented the stage and gave a word of greeting. Leslie W. Sprague upheld the standard of votes for women in his brief address in the face too, of Mrs. Gilbert Jones, of the Antis. Josephine Preston Peabody and Winthrop Ames spoke.

Mrs. Robert Ely enlarged on the increased cost of living and decried American cooking, citing "the national dyspepsia" in proof of her assertion. In Holland, her native land, nobody presumed to make a cake or pie who had not a special talent for such work, she said.

But Little Bison magnificently attired in what has ceased to be the costume of his race, with head decorated in trailing feathers, calmly informed the white man in substance: "You have taken everything from us that made life good—our buffalo, our deer and our lands and have given in exchange an education which is theoretical, not practical. So you still owe us something."

Little Bison is a son of Chief Big Foot a Sioux killed at the battle of the Little Big Horn.

"I deem this quite an honor" said the red man, and before his hearers had recovered from the first shock of hearing such a dress-coated phrase from an Indian, he went on: "But I am sorry not to see more of my race among you. With all the education you have given us I am the one lone Indian and you would have no trouble in scalping me."

Little Bison studied in the University of Texas and for twenty years, has been working for his people. He asserted there is nothing for them in the United States, and added that he had obtained 16,000 acres in South America, to which he will endeavor to transport his kin.
