WILL MEET FRIDAY

There will be a meeting of the Trustees of the Victoria Hospital and the members of the Medical Staff of the same institution on Friday night at the Mayor's office.

BIJOU TODAY.

The Bijou have what might be called a big comedy program and the pictures are really funny. "The Wrong Box," by the Vitaphone Co., will keep you going and "Davy Jones, Domestic Troubles," a comedy taken from the life of "Davy Jones" the celebrated fun-maker. Also a fine Lubin feature.

A REAL FEATURE.

"The Broken Doll," by the Biograph Company, will be the feature at the Unique tonight. It is an Indian film of excellent quality, with natural scenery and real Indians. The rest of the program includes "The Footlights of the Farm," (Edison), and "The Indian Girl's Love." Orchestra.—d.

SCOTT ACT CASES

Two Scott Act cases postponed to enable the defence to procure witnesses heard before Police Magistrate Marsh this afternoon. A third offense case against a druggist will be continued tomorrow.

SUPREME COURT

The case of Shaw et al vs. Robinson et al was argued before the Supreme Court this morning and this afternoon. Mr. M. G. Teed, K. C., supporting an appeal from the decision of the Chief Justice in Equity, and Mr. W. Watson Allen and Hon. H. F. McLeod contra. Mr. Teed presented his argument this morning and continued this afternoon.

CHAMPIONSHIP BEBATE

On Saturday night the debating teams of the Junior and Freshman classes at the University of New Brunswick will oppose one another in the debate which will decide the class championship of the University. The subject will be, Resolved that the Intercolonial Railway can be operated more to the advantage of the people of Canada by a private corporation than by the government."

RESULTS OF CAMPAIGN

The Boys' Department membership contest at the Y. M. C. A., which has created so much interest lately, ended at nine o'clock last night with a great deal of enthusiasm. The final score was Crimmon, 17; White, 10; Green, 9; Gold, 3. Omar Armstrong wins the watch-fob given for the highest individual score. Tonight at 6.30 all boys who brought in one or more members will be given a banquet at the Y. M. C. A. building.

JUNIOR LEAGUE

Last evening at a regular meeting of the Methodist Junior League Miss Louise Edgecombe in a very agreeable and entertaining manner told of her travels in Europe during the past summer. A large number of children were present and the close attention showed they thoroughly appreciated the address. Miss Edgecombe seems to be one of those persons who in going to a country can take in the features of the country and new scenes and to such persons travel is a great benefit.

AN INTERESTING EXHIBIT

A large display of crude rubber is at present being made in the show windows of Mr. R. B. Vandine's shoe store the Inches Block. It is proving most attractive as it shows the rubber in its crude form as gathered by the natives of the different rubber countries of the world and prepared and cultivated for shipment to the foreign markets. In the lower window is shown the same material in the form of manufactured rubbers and is made by the Merchants Rubber Co., and carried exclusively by Mr. Vandine. The fine samples prove the excellence of the large stock carried in his exclusive rubber store lately added to his Queen Street establishment and accessible from Queen and York streets. ...

PRESENTED ADDRESS

President A. S. McFarlane and several past presidents of St. Andrew's Society waited upon Mr. James Tennant, the retiring treasurer of the society, yesterday afternoon and presented him with an address. The latter made mention of Mr. Tennant's long connection with the society and his faithful service in the office of treasurer, which he had held since 1883. Mr. Tennant made a feeling reply to the address. The party proceeded to Mr. Tennant's home by auto. The past presidents included in the party were Dr. Wm. Crockett, Mr. James S. Neill, Dr. W. C. Crockett, James F. McMurray, Mr. O. S. Crockett, M. P. Mr. A. S. Murray, Mr. James D. McKay, Mr. John A. Edwards and Mr. Eben Miller. Mr. Tennant is seriously ill.

ENGINEERS' DINNER
LAST NIGHT ATTENDED
BY OVER NINETY

Banquet at Windsor Hall Most Successful in History of U. N. B. Engineering Society

A very pleasant function took place last night at Windsor Hall, namely the annual dinner of U. N. B. Engineering Society. Over ninety sat down to an excellent meal, of whom about eighty were undergraduates. There were eleven guests besides, Dr. C. C. Jones and Professors E. A. Stone, J. Stephens, C. M. Carson, W. B. Cartmel, and R. B. Miller, Mayor C. H. Thomas, and Messrs. A. R. Babbitt, J. L. Feeney, A. A. Colter and J. B. McNair.

P. A. Edington, '11, 1st vice president of the society made a most efficient toastmaster and chairman and kept everything moving smoothly from start to finish. On rising to propose the loyal toast to the King Mr. Edington welcomed all the guests placing them on an equal footing with the students, and was glad to see so close a bond between them and the faculty. He made the suggestion that the meeting of the society be held down town during the winter, to save the walk up the hill at night.

CHANCELLOR JONES

After the first verse of the National Anthem had been sung Dr. Jones rose to respond to the toast of Dominion of Canada. He spoke of the great resources he had seen on his recent trip to British Columbia and was much impressed with Prince Rupert, and with the fact that Canada was more than ever a nation now, that she was linked up by two transcontinental railways. Of course many of our young men went from the east to work in the west, a fact detrimental to Maritime Provinces, but so many of them made good out there that he thought it was an honor to the east. He felt much pride at seeing so many U. N. B. graduates, especially those of recent years, doing so well in the west, all having good positions on the railroads and other engineering work. Many other officials he met were from New Brunswick and the Maritime Provinces. Though compared to England, he found Canada somewhat raw; still, when he thought of her great natural resources awaiting development, he was proud to be a Canadian, and proud also of the fact that so many of U. N. B. young men went west to seek their fortune.

PROF. CARSON

The next toast was to Educational Institutions ably responded to by Prof. Carson, who began by referring to the dark cloud of gloom which had settled over both faculty and students during the football season. Now things looked brighter owing to the hopeful tone of the next generation of students. To come back to his subject, men formerly trained for learned professions, the church, law and medicine, of which church took 6 per cent. Nowadays only about 5 per cent. enter the church, while the rest go into business. Probably the best solution of the college problem was found at U. N. B., when the engineering course gave both a practical and a cultured side. As good work was carried on at U. N. B. with the available means as any where in the Maritime Provinces. The members of the Faculty never had been and never would be ashamed of any graduate sent out, and they hoped that the U. N. B. graduates would sometimes say a good word for them as well as for the college.

MAYOR THOMAS

Mayor Thomas then rose to answer the toast to the City of Fredericton. He enlarged on the beauties of Fredericton, its streets, buildings, etc., and said that the city took the greatest interest in her University. She watched over the undergraduates, and in after life was pleased at their successes and sympathetic in their trials. He hoped more would take an interest in the gold medal given by the city than heretofore, and reminded all present that there was plenty of room in the engineering profession for all. He quoted Prof. Day as saying that there was no city at home or abroad as beautiful as Fredericton. He further remarked on the society of the city, which was as good as could be found anywhere, and said that Fredericton had the finest, most up-to-date and most modest young ladies, a fact which the chairman seemed to know already.

The first verse of "Alma Mater" was then sung by all.

CITY ENGINEER FEENEY

The Engineering Professors was then drunk City Engineer Feeney replied suitably, saying that this profession took first place among all. He went on to say that the annual banquet might be made more of in the history of U. N. B. and thereby attract public attention. He then remarked that nowadays the engineer must choose his own branch and specialise.

PROF. STONE

The next toast was the Engineering Society, ably replied to by Professors

SAW "THE BIG BULL MOOSE OF THE LEPREUX"

American Sportsmen Had Most Successful Trip With Guide John Doran --Secured Fine Moos Heads.

Mr. Carl Pickhardt, a veteran sportsman of New York, returned home yesterday after a very successful hunting trip to Guide John Doran's camps on the Lepreaux. Mr. Pickhardt was accompanied by his son, Mr. W. P. Pickhardt, of Boston, and Mr. S. C. Sperry, of New York. Each member of the party secured a nice moose, that shot by Mr. Pickhardt having an antler spread of 62½ inches, which is claimed to be a record snasher for the province this season.

In a letter to the Mail describing the trip, Mr. Pickhardt says: "My son, W. P. Pickhardt, killed the biggest moose I ever saw in the flesh. The head measures 62½ inches, 24 prongs, very even, and a beauty in every way. Sperry got a 45 inch bull, a very nice head.

"As for myself, I stumbled over a 55 inch fellow with large palms and 15 good points. Altogether not too bad for a hunt of just one week.

"We saw a good many moose and I believe I saw that big 'bull of the Lepreaux.' My guide, who took a look at his tracks the next day says it was he all right. We saw him from a quarter mile away and he was enormous in size and had a tremendous head of horns.

"This is my fifteenth hunt in N. B. and I must say I was never more pleased. Jack Doran is a trump and he certainly has the best moose country I ever had the good fortune to hunt in."

Stone and Cartmel. Prof Stone said the annual dinner was most enjoyable since it afforded a change; a change was always a relief, such as from lectures to exams. He hoped the Society would become more strenuous and active then it had been in the past. More outside lecturers were wanted to speak before the Society. He thought also that the meetings might close with smokers, as they would draw more students. He further would like to see inspection trips to points of local engineering interest, and after that further afield, such as to St. John, Boston, etc.

MRS. L. LEE STREET
DIED IN BOSTON
LAST EVENING

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George N. Babbitt of This City--Will be Buried Here.

A telegram was received by Mr. George N. Babbitt this morning containing the sad news that his daughter, Mrs. L. Lee Street had died suddenly at her home in Boston last evening. The announcement of her death came as a shock to her relatives and many friends here. The deceased had been ill since Sunday last but her death was entirely unexpected.

The remains will arrive from Boston at noon tomorrow. The funeral will probably take place Friday afternoon.

Deceased was a daughter of Deputy Receiver General and Mrs. George N. Babbitt, of this city. Besides her parents, four brothers and five sisters survive. They are Mr. George Babbitt, Manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia, St. Andrews; Mrs. Allan K. Grimmer, of Medicine Hat, Alberta; Mrs. A. A. McInnes, of Dorchester, Mass; Mrs. F. B. Oxley, of Porto Rico; Miss Helen Babbitt and Miss Bessie Babbitt at home; Mr. S. William Babbitt, of Calgary; Mr. Chas. Babbitt, of Minneapolis, and Mr. A. R. Babbitt, at home.

The deceased was married to Mr. L. Lee Street about fifteen years ago, and since that time has made her home in Boston.
