

FOR SPORTSMEN

I have been appointed a vendor of game licenses for the New Brunswick Government, and will have licenses for sale on and after the morning of September 15th, I want resident and non-resident sportsmen to buy their licenses from me and I guarantee all a square deal. In addition to licenses I can fit sportsmen out with supplies for a hunting trip, and I can tell you where to go to get the game. I have a full camp equipment, which I will rent at a reasonable price. I can furnish you with lunches at short notice. If you want a lunch put up, just notify me. Patronize a brother sportsman who knows the game and you will be satisfied.

PURSE FOR REV. C. W. FORSTER FROM WORCESTER PARISHIONERS

The Worcester Daily Telegram of the 22nd of September says:—St. Matthew's Parish House Chelsea Street, was the scene on one of the largest gatherings in its history, last night when the parishioners had their annual reception, which was the closing event of the day in honor of St. Mathew the patron Saint of the church.

The house was filled with prettily gowned women both young and old, and men and boys all in their somber-hued garments, each intent upon making the affair a success. They succeeded beyond all expectations.

The opening service of the day was at 9 o'clock yesterday morning to the church, where Rev. Henry Hague rector preached and where a large number received Holy Communion. The church was well filled last night and the 7.30 festival service. A full choir under the direction of Alfred L. Booth, church organist, sang. Rev. Mr. Hague made an address in which he spoke of the Patron saint of the church and invited all the parishioners to the reception. The hall was decorated with American and English flags. The stage was ornamented with potted ferns and palms and touches of Salvia.

An orchestra composed of Edward Smith, violinist and director; Harry Ineth, pianist; Watson Holdsworth, violinist and Frank Normand coronetist, gave popular selections.

Rev. Mr. Hague addressed the assembly with words of welcome and presented Rev. C. William Forster, formerly curate of the church, a generous purse of gold on behalf of the parishioners of St. Mathews with whom he had been for four years a faithful worker and a great favorite. Rev. Mr. Forster responded.

Rev. Mr. Forster started new duties at St. James Episcopal Church, Providence, Sunday. The parishioners declared last night he was sorely missed in the parish he had left, although it was better to himself.

After the opening number had been played by the young men, J. W. Young, Master of Ceremonies, introduced Rev. Henry Hague. Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Hague with Rev. Mr. Forster stood in the centre of the hall, and greeted the parishioners, with words of hearty welcome, and chatted with each a short while. They were assisted by the wardens and their wives and Mr. and Mrs. Matthew J. Whittall, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Thomas. The ladies were becomingly gowned. A pleasant time was passed by all, who numbered more than 500, until a late hour last night. These chatted and renewed old acquaintance, while the younger people danced. Refreshments were served by the members of the Girls' Friendly Society of the church, all of whom wore dainty dresses of white. Each organization of the church furnished representatives to take charge of the reception.

Mrs. Joseph Dobson was secretary to the general committee and Mrs. Joseph Westwood was financial secretary, John Clayton was treasurer. The decorations were in charge of the Girls' Friendly Society.

The Providence Journal of Sept. 19 says:—Rev. C. W. Forster preached his first sermon as rector of St. James Episcopal Church, yesterday morning. The church was well filled and the rector was given a hearty welcome by the members of his new parish, his text was taken from I Chronicles, xxiii:11, which was as follows:—“Now my son the Lord be with thee and prosper thou and build the house of the Lord thy God.”

In the opening of his sermon, Rev. Mr. Forster set forth David's last charge to his son, wherein he counselled him not to make money for fame, but to build up a character, noble and upright and to work for God. He also raised the question of how many of the parents of the present day were so advising their offspring. He pointed out that life itself was a building, the stability of which depended upon the firmness of the foundation illustrating how many build wrongly and at the end of life are forced to declare that their life has been a failure. “This leads us to the direct personal question,” he said, “What am I building of my life? What am I doing for my parish life? For my civic life?”

The pastor then said that the best life could be built by choosing God as the architect, and with his guidance building on a definite plan. He set forth the matured plan of a well-appointed house with its communication by means of a stairway, illustrating the golden stairway of prayer, which he said should be travelled daily in every build house.

Alluding to the service as being his first rectorship, Rev. Mr. Forster asked the co-operation of his parishioners. There can be no need for discouragement,” he said, “as the time is essential for the building of any great work, and let us build surely and gradually.” As an illustration of this, he referred to the persistency of Nehemiah in his efforts to build the Walls of Jerusalem, and declared that the Christian Virtue of Constancy must be cultivated and all should realize to the fullest extent the responsibility to the parish life.

Continuing Rev. Mr. Forster declared that there were many things needed to best equip the parish for the upbuilding of the house of God. These, he said he would make known later and expressed the hope that when the call was made all would be ready to do their part.

W. C. T. U.

The following interesting account of the annual convention of the W. C. T. U. at Hartland was received by the St. John Times from one of the local delegates.

On Tuesday morning, Sept. 27, a band of ten women left St. John for Hartland, where the fourth Annual Convention of the Women's Christian Temperance Union is being held. At every station, the number grew larger, and with every hour the day grew brighter, until the beauty of the autumn-tinted foliage was something not soon to be forgotten. Twelve-thirty brought us to the pretty town of Hartland with its thousand inhabitants, a good percentage of whom welcomed the “white ribboners” at the station. At 10 o'clock the convention held its first session in the United Baptist Church. The opening devotional exercises were led by Mrs. Hart, after which Mrs. Gray, the President, in a few cordial words, extended a welcome to the members, and read the Crusade Psalm, after which Mrs. Sprague offered prayer. Mrs. Rutherford, of Toronto, was warmly received by the ladies, and, on motion, made a member of the convention.

After roll call, the reports of the various departments were given by the superintendents. The Anti-Narcotic Dept. showed faithful work, and many cheering results; but the discussion following, brought out the lamentable facts that in the Dominion the cigarette is rapidly gaining ground, not only among boys, but with girls and women. This latter point was referred to the Resolution Committee.

In connection with the good reports sent in by the sailors department, an interesting letter was read from Dr. Grenfell. It was to Mrs. Jordan, of Woodstock, thanking that Union for a box of clothing. Dr. Grenfell added:—“We do not scatter these things everywhere, but usually give them in exchange for produce. So you see the scheme works well both ways; we get valuable things to use for the mission which, otherwise, we could not afford; and the people get clothing they could not obtain. This year there has been a great failure of the fish, and we have supplied hundreds of needy ones with clothing for the coming six months' winter.”

ON THE RIVER.

Globe:—The river boats are bringing very fair quantities of vegetables to Indian town, but the traffic is not quite as large as it will be a little later. Reports from up river are to the effect that the potato crop is not as large as last year and not even up to the average. There is some rot; observable, but most of the yield is pretty sound. A complete variety of other vegetables is being received at Indian town and the crops of these, including pumpkins, squash, cabbage, turnips, etc., is said to be about as usual. Apples are not plentiful up the river this year. The crop has not been a failure, as in Nova Scotia, but it is less than usual. As a result of the shortage prices will be higher this year.

Unsteady eyes, rapidly jerking from side to side, are frequently indicative of an unsettled mind.
