THREE BANK MEN ARE SENT UP FOR TRIAL

Lindsay, Aug. 10.—"There is sufficient evidence before me to warrant me in sending the accused up for trial," said Magistrate Alexander Jackson, this morning in the case of the Farmers' Bank against A. B. McGill, J. J. Fleury and J. Q. Coulter, former manager and ex-employees respectively, of the Farmers' Bank, now of the Home Bank. The Magistrate stated that there was every evidence of a conspiracy against the Farmers' Bank. He sympathized with Messrs. A Pie Hint.—When making pies, if the pans are greased with a little butter, it will make the undercrust brown and flakey and prevent the crust from becoming soft. It also makes the pie easier to remove from the pan.

COURT MARTIAL IN SPRINGHILL

A Sergeant Charged with Sleeping at His Post But is Honorably Acquitted—Testimony was that High Altitude Makes Springhill a Sleepy Place.

(Amherst News.)

Tuesday at Springhill an interesting district court martial was held at the headquarters of the R. C. R. detachment at that place. Sergeant Worthington, R. C. R., was tried by the court for neglect of duty. He was honorably acquitted owing largely to the excellent manner in which his case was looked after by his counsel, J. R. Johnston of Halifax.

Some interesting arguments and incidents were brought to the notice of the court which was composed of Major Ogilvie, Captain Burnham and Lieutenant Hemming.

The circumstances which led to the court martial date back to a day in July. On the morning of that day at two o'clock, Colonel Fages, the commanding officer of the detachment at the R. C. R. at Springhill, made a visit of inspection to the outposts. Sentries and guards are maintained constantly in regular order of things and Sergeant Worthington was in charge of the guard at the time.

When the commanding officer appeared he found the guard asleep. Sergeant, corporal and privates were all as oblivious to the events of the outside world as if they had been overcome by the sleeping sickness. Outside, the sentries were pacing up and down, impatient but still bound by the rigid discipline which is observed to continue on duty until relieved.

The sentries should have been relieved at 1.30 a. m. It was 2.15 a. m. before they were relieved and they would doubtless have had to continue on duty for a longer time had not the commanding officer appeared on the scene.

When Colonel Fages ascertained the state of things the Sergeant was placed under arrest. The general assembly was sounded, and the hundreds of soldiers turned out at the dead of night.

Nobody is supposed to be deaf to the general assembly call. In this case, however, a number of officers as well as some of the men failed to hear the call and did not turn out.

One of the officers at the investigation stated that this was due to the high altitude of Springhill. It is nearly eight hundred feet above the sea level. Commercial travellers and others have long declared that no matter how sleepless they may be in towns situated on the level of the sea, they never fail to enjoy a good night's rest at Springhill. This has been the experience of the soldiers at Springhill and it was this which probably led to the circumstances which resulted in the holding of the court martial.

At the investigation, it was found that the Sergeant had done his full duty. He had arranged with the corporal that he should be called in time to relieve the sentries. The corporal and all the men had fallen asleep. Under these conditions he was honorably acquitted.

WHEN BABY'S LIFE IS MOST IN DANGER

Summer is the season when the mother finds it most difficult to keep her little ones well. The complaints that afflict the babies during the hot summer months come on so quickly and so unexpectedly that often it is too late before the mother realizes that her baby is anything but well. In summer the mother should make a special effort to keep baby's bowels regular and his little stomach sweet and pure, for this is the secret of successfully warding off those dangerous summer complaints. The mother will find a great friend in Baby's Own Tablets during the hot weather. These Tablets regulate the bowels, sweeten the stomach and thus ward off or cure cholera infantum, diarrhoea, colic, vomiting, etc. Mrs. Wm. Sinclair, Bonaventure River, Que., writes: "I can highly recommend Baby's Own Tablets, as they have done my baby much good." Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

HORSE PULLS A PLOW THOUGH 51 YEARS OLD

John Unruh's "Jerry" Helps to Break Up an Acre of Ground—His Appetite is Good.

Philadelphia, Aug. 11.—Yesterday was Jerry's fifty-first birthday. There may not seem to be anything remarkable about this for there are undoubtedly many of that name who have reached that age, and there are surely some who are many years older.

But this Jerry is a bay horse and for the space of forty seven years he has been in the possession of John Unruh who lives at the county line near the Holy Sepulchre Cemetery, on Mount Airy avenue.

Just to show that he is still in the running and not on the way to the boneyard, Jerry yesterday helped to plow one acre of ground, and according to his owner, he did as well as any and better than some horses who are many years his junior.

But for his camel-like back and a few blotches of gray hair, Jerry stands his age well. His eyes are clear, he is steady on his feet and has a remarkable appetite.

Jerry came to the Unruh farm August 10, 1863 when he was exactly four years old, and since that time has been a willing and faithful worker for his master. He has paid for himself many times over and because of his faithfulness Mr. Unruh said yesterday that there wasn't enough money in the country to buy the old horse.
