PROTEST AGAINST IMMIGRATION RULES

Rejection of Assisted Artisans, is Preventing Many Families from Joining the Breadwinner in Canada.

London, May 13.—Resentment against the Canadian immigration rules rejecting assisted artisans still shows itself, the aspect receiving the most stress being in the prevention of many families from joining the breadwinner in Canada. The Self-help Society, the East End Fund, and the Central Unemployed Body say it shows an ungenerous spirit on the part of the country depending so largely for her development on British emigrants and British gold to blackball a large class of respectable workmen who desire to emigrate there for their own as well as for Canada's good.

"Canada is negotiating a £5,000,000 loan here," says one paper. "Is the new immigration order a fair return to the old country for her willingness to provide five millions British for money for Canadian development?"

: Rural Districts :

MURCH'S, YORK CO.

May 10.—We have been having some cold and wet weather here of late, and, as a consequence, the farmers have not been able to get at seeding as soon as they expected to the last of March, when the weather was so fine and warm for that time of year.

The summer birds have not all got along here yet. The barn swallow has been making his appearance of late years the last of April or first of May. Last year it was the 9th of this month when he showed up, but he is not here yet, although he is looked for daily.

Although the spring has been wet and cold, it has been a good spring for the farmer who got out a few logs from off his farm during the winter. The water has kept up in the river, which made running them to Springhill quick and easy, but the getting back was the hard part of the business, as there was no steamboat or railroad for him to utilize. However, prices for the lumber was good, which enabled him to trudge back home with a full pocket and a pleasant look, even if the locomotion was hard.

Not many of the farmers here are selling their potatoes, as the prices are too low.

The men who went stream driving have not returned yet.

Some few have gone to join J. S. Scott with his corporation drive.

The roads have been bad for some time, almost impassable at times, but somewhat better now since the frost has gone out of the ground. The grass is coming on very well, very little winter killed.

Murray Hagerman of Bear Island, has bought a farm at Keswick and has gone there this week to work and will move his family there in a short time.

Abbie Ferguson, only child of John and Jane Ferguson, died very suddenly last Sunday morning of hemorrhage of the lungs. Although she had been sick for some time with consumption and not expected to recover, her death was sudden, as she had rested rather better the night before than usually. She was in her 30th year, though she had not seen a well day since she was five years old. The doctors whom she had consulted thought she would not live to be twenty, and it was her strong will power that kept her alive. She was buried yesterday afternoon in the Gordon cemetery. The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. Mr. Thompson of Keswick Ridge, assisted by Rev. Mr. Barton. Services were held in the meeting-house of Lower Queensbury, and although a busy time of year, the funeral was a large one. Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson have the sympathy of the neighborhood in their sad bereavement.

Rev. A. S. Hazel, of Temperance Vale, some few weeks ago organized a rifle club at the Bear Island Hall, which they called the Queensbury Rifle Club. The company, in electing their officers, unanimously elected Mr. Hazel as their captain. The writer does not know how many men they have, but probably there will be fifty or sixty if all join who talk of doing so. They decided on building their butt on Chester Morrison's farm. The young men of the club have spent several days working there with teams and I think have it about ready for shooting practice. They intend using it on the 24th of this month if they get their rifles in time.

EXCELLENT PERFORMANCE.

Last night the Gladys Klark Company delighted a large audience at the Opera House with an excellent presentation of St. Elmo. The specialties as on the night previous, were well received by the audience. The Gladys Klark Company closes its engagement tonight, when the stirring Western drama, Ku Klux Klan, will be presented. It is expected that there will be a full house.

DR. TORREY'S MARKED EVANGELISTIC GIFTS

He is Author of Twenty Books and has Labored in Various Countries of the World.

Rev. Dr. R. A. Torrey, who begins a mission here next Sunday is fifty-four years old. He is a graduate of Yale both in arts and divinity and holds a doctor's degree in philosophy from one of the leading German universities. Dr. Torrey has been minister for a number of years previous to devoting himself to evangelism as pastor of Moody's Church, Chicago, occupying at the same time the superintendency of the Moody Bible Institute. This remarkable evangelistic gifts become known a few years ago when in company with Mr. Charles M. Alexander, the renowned singer. He toured Australia, and Great Britain. Their missions were attended with unparalleled success. They literally captured London by storm.

Dr. Torrey is a man of rare gifts. He has published 20 books some of which have been translated in 20 languages. He possesses a remarkably well-poised and even tempered mind. He is not at all emotional and his appeal is rather to the intellect and conscience than to the emotions. In private life he is as calm and equitable as he is in public. His interest includes a great variety of projects, religious and philanthropic. He is said to be personally responsible for the support of a number of foreign missionaries. He has not lost the Yale spirit as far as athletics go. He keeps himself in the pink of physical fitness. During the summer season he spends much of his leisure on the water and is most proficient swimmer.

Dr. Torrey's present home is in Montrose, Pa., where Bible conferences are now held under his direction. He has a beautiful home, high up among the Blue mountains. His family consists of a wife and four children. His only son is now in the graduating class at Yale and in all probabilities will follow his father's footsteps into the ministry.

Dr. Torrey was characterized by one of the speakers at a preparatory meeting a short time ago as "the strongest, sanest and saintliest evangelist in the world today." He will receive a hearty welcome to the capital of New Brunswick where the churches under whose auspices the mission is being held are sparing no pains to make the campaign a success.

COURT 50 YEARS, SHE WEDS AT LAST

Stamford, Conn., May 13.—Miss Emily Brown, for upwards of forty years a school teacher here, was married last night to Norman Provost, and thus was culminated a courtship that began before the civil war.

Miss Brown and Mr. Provost were sweethearts when the war broke out. He enlisted in the Sixth Connecticut Regiment and served with distinction, becoming first lieutenant. He is a member of the Lloyd Military Legion.

Miss Brown was appointed teacher and remained one until recently, when she resigned. During all the years she and Mr. Provost were engaged.

SATURDAY HALF-HOLIDAY.

The local bar met this afternoon, and passed a resolution to the effect that from the present date until November 1st., Saturday afternoon would be observed as a legal half-holiday.

FIRE COMMITTEE.

At a special meeting of the Fire committee yesterday afternoon chief Rutter reported that the horse recently purchased for the purpose of hauling the ladder-truck was a first-class animal except that it seemed a little difficult to drive. It is expected that the horse will be retained.

HAS BEEN REINLISTED.

Mr. W. A. Daniel Caretaker of the old fort at Annapolis Royal N.S., formerly of New Maryland, and Mrs. Daniel are in the city, the guests of their daughter, Mrs. Hudson. Mr. Daniel since receiving the appointment at Annapolis last spring has been reinlisted in the R.C.R., and is now in line for a pension, he having previously served fifteen years in the corps.

LAKEVILLE CORNER.

May 3.—A severe electric storm was witnessed here Saturday afternoon, accompanied with squalls of snow. Some of the oldest inhabitants being unable to recall such a phenomenal occurrence.

Agriculture progress has been somewhat retarded by the recent rains. But the outlook is now brighter.

The "drives" are about all in, and the tug-boats are busily engaged towing.

Miss Letitia Andrews of St. John, our popular music teacher, has decided to remain during the spring months.
