PETER FARRELL & CO

PITTSBURG PASTOR WOULD SELL TWO OF HIS CHILDREN

Offered Them at Public Auction-- Said He Could Not Support Five-- Crowd Indignant.

Pittsburg, Pa., September 22.—The Rev. Thomas G. Boord, pastor of the Wylie Avenue Church of Pittsburg, was almost mobbed by his parishioners after they had read in the morning papers how the minister, pleading poverty, had tried to sell two of his own children at public auction last night on the streets of Circleville, Penn., his home town. The minister had been subjected to some rather harsh treatment when he tried to get bids on the children in the public square at Circleville, which he flooded with handbills reading:

Auction to-night.
The undersigned will sell at public auction his two children, as hereinafter described:

One boy, 7 years old, fair complexion, weighs 43 pounds. Strong of body and mind. Has never been to school, but would make a competent newsboy and be able to earn good wages in three years. Will be great support to buyer in less than eight years.

One girl, aged 10, dark complexion, weighs 53 pounds. Has had four years schooling. Was youngest pupil in her class. Can execute any household duties, such as plain sewing and cooking, dish washing, etc. For a child's nurse cannot be excelled. Will be competent to keep an ordinary house in six years' time.

Sale to take place corner Third and Main streets at 7.30 o'clock to-night. Terms and conditions of sale and reasons for selling made known before sale begins. Purchaser must be good moral person.

UNABLE TO SUPPORT FIVE

The posting of the bills created a big sensation in the town, and at 7.30 there were 1,000 persons on hand when Mr. Boord appeared, accompanied by a nice looking boy and girl, and announced that the auction was about to start. He said the children he was offering for sale were his own. He was the father of five children, and was unable to support them. He could not supply them with proper food and clothing, and had taken this way to provide the two with homes, and incidentally to get something with which to provide for the remaining three.

The announcement struck the crowd dumb. When Mr. Boord asked for bids some of the prominent citizens interfered and told him the sale could not go on. They told him slavery had been abolished in this country, and that it was contrary to the Constitution of the United States to sell persons at public auction.

Mr. Boord tried to defend his auction, but finally was compelled to call the auction off, when many in the crowd showed a disposition to handle him roughly.

THE ROOSEVELT FORCES CLAIM VICTORY

New York, Sept. 21.—Leaders of the Roosevelt forces seeking to overthrow the "Old Guard" in this state declared today that the defeat of vice president James S. Sherman in his home county in Tuesday's primary spelled victory for the Progressives at the Republican state convention. Both sides assert that the primaries in various parts of the state yesterday were favorable to them and each is claiming victories. Many countries are sending delegates to Saratoga, hence the uncertainty over the struggle to obtain control of the Republican party in the state still continues. Vice president Sherman was overwhelmingly defeated in his assembly election and ward divisions.

ROBBERY OF GATE RECEIPTS AT MAINE FAIR

Tin Box Containing $2,000 Taken While Police and Officials are on Duty.

Gorham, Maine, Sept. 22.—A tin trunk containing $2,000 in bills, was stolen from the ticket office of the Cumberland county fair yesterday. At the time the theft was committed four persons were in the office and Chief Dresser, of the Portland police department was standing just outside the door.

The loot represented the larger part of the receipts for the first day of the fair. Last night the police and fair officials had but a slight clue. The fact that four men were seen driving a team from the grounds shortly after the theft must have occurred has caused the officers to hunt for such an outfit, but the chances of recovering the money are admittedly small.

The ticket sellers at the several entrances and four grand stand seats, had made their returns, and the money had been checked and packed before 5 o'clock this afternoon. The bills were placed in a tin trunk, and the coins in a large receptacle. The trunk was on top of a table behind Treasurer Fred Scammons, and three clerks who were working in the little room, clearing up the days accounts.

Shortly after 5 o'clock Mrs. S. P. Johnson assistant treasurer had occasion to go outside, and says she remembers seeing the trunk on her way out. Before her return several minutes later, the absence of the trunk was noticed and the alarm sounded. Chief Dresser declared he saw no suspicious persons about the office, and is certain he saw no unfamiliar person enter the place. The trunk was too far from the nearest window to have been taken in that way.

Biddeford, Me., Sept. 22.—Three of the four men who yesterday stole a box containing $2,238, the day receipts of the Cumberland County Fair at Gorham, were captured near here early today while walking along the railroad tracks. Fourteen hundred dollars of the money was found in their clothing. One of the men threw away $300 when he realized that his arrest was imminent, but later gave the officers instructions where they could find it. The men gave their names as John Morgan, James Miller and George A. King. The whereabouts of the fourth man and the rest of the money is not known.

KNIGHTHOOD FOR MINISTER

Rumor That Mr. Aylesworth Will be Honored Shortly by The King for Services at the Hague.

Toronto, Sept. 21.—The "Mail and Empire's" Ottawa correspondent says that it is understood in official circles that the name of the Minister of Justice, Mr. Aylesworth, will figure in the next distribution of honors by the King. The knighthood which is looked for will be given in recognition of Mr. Aylesworth's work in connection with the fisheries arbitration at The Hague. Mr. Aylesworth had the Canadian case in charge and Mr. Ewart worked under him.

It is probable that Mr. Ewart will get one of the minor decorations, a C. M. G., for example, as a mark of approval. The conferring of a knighthood upon the minister, who has had the direction of a case of this kind, is the regular practice.

Many people think that the knighthood will round out Mr. Aylesworth's career as a public man, and that as Sir Allan he will retire into private life.

AS REWARD FOR HAGUE SERVICES.

Ottawa, Sept. 21.—No confirmation of the report that the Hon. A. B. Aylesworth, Minister of Justice, will be knighted can be obtained here. If the honor does come to Mr. Aylesworth, it will be on account of his services to the British Government as its agent in the fisheries arbitration case, and for that reason will likely be conferred directly by the Imperial authorities and not on the recommendation of the Canadian Government. In this connection it is stated that Mr. Aylesworth did not figure at The Hague as the representative of Canada but as the agent of the British Government. That Mr. Aylesworth's able preparation of the case had much to do with the success of the arbitration from the British standpoint is freely admitted, and it would not cause surprise if he should be offered a knighthood. Whether or not he would accept it is another matter. Mr. Aylesworth is possessed by somewhat democratic tastes, and he might not care for a title.

MARVELLOUS OPPORTUNITIES IN THE DOMINION

Lord Clinton Has Made Extensive Investments and Predicts Stream of British Capital.

Montreal, Sept. 22.—Among the English noblemen who have recently been touring Canada with the particular view of studying opportunities for investment in the North-West is Lord Clinton, representative of one of the oldest branches of the nobility in the Mother Country who is now staying at the Windsor Hotel Montreal.

"Our leading men in England are waking up to the tremendous opportunities for investment in Western Canada," said Lord Clinton to a reporter this morning. "The surprising thing is that they have been waiting so long in view of the need of the country for development. But the turn of the tide has come now. Everybody is beginning to realize what the future of Canada will be and we may look forward to a big influx of both capital and labor."

Lord Clinton admitted that he had himself set an example by making extensive investments in the North-West and that he was making arrangements to develop the land he had purchased. He had not outlined any individual colonization scheme, but might be connected with one soon. He would make arrangements in this respect when he returned to London. There was plenty of good land out West, and he had made purchases both in Saskatchewan and Alberta. It was marvellous that the price of land was not higher than it was but it was bound to rise in the near future.

The Americans had realized the opportunities in Canada, and this was perhaps well, because the country needed money. "But what I want to see is British capital coming in here," said Lord Clinton "and it is coming in now."

Besides visiting the prairie provinces and Western Canada in general, Lord Clinton has also touched upon the mining districts and confesses that he was deeply impressed by the mineral resources of the Dominion.

"I found the journey up the Pacific Coast," he said, "one of the most magnificent trips in this beautiful country. At whatever part of Canada I touched upon I noticed that everything was going ahead and that everyone was exceedingly optimistic. That is what is going to make the country grow. Everybody has a thorough belief in Canada's future."

During his tour, Lord Clinton in several parts of the Dominion met the Earl of Dunmore, Mr. Harry E. Brittain and Mr. Norton Griffiths, who were also travelling through Canada with a similar object to his, thus illustrating the almost simultaneous interests which Canada now holds in the eyes of some of the ablest men in Great Britain.

Lord Clinton says that he will undoubtedly return to Canada. "When people come here once," he said "they are certain to come again if it is in their power. Apart from the business possibilities a tour through Canada is one of the most pleasant trips in all the world and it is made the more pleasant by the intense hospitality of the people everywhere one goes."

BRITISH COLUMBIAN FISHERIES BE EXPLOITED

Sir George Doughey Has Been Investigating Conditions on the Pacific Coast--A British Company to be Established.

Toronto, Sept. 21.—Sir George Doughey, who is a leading merchant and ship owner of Grimsby, one of the greatest fishing ports in the east of England, is in the city, having just returned from British Columbia where he investigated the fisheries on behalf of a group of influential British capitalists. Sir George says he learned that the fishing industry on the west coast of Canada was almost entirely in the hands of citizens of the United States and of Japanese fishermen and as a result he will advise the parties whom he represents to take steps to establish a fishing industry controlled by British subjects. This party will then approach the Dominion government with a request for a subsidy for the new company.

Sir George gives inadequate transportation facilities as one reason for the failure of Canadian and British companies to exploit western fisheries as they should be exploited and says this need will be met by the construction of the G. T. P. to Prince Rupert.
