CROPS AT BLANEY RIDGE.

Mr. David McElaine, prominent farmer of Blaney Ridge was among the visitors to the city on Saturday, and made the Mail office a pleasant call. Speaking of the crops he said they were doing fairly well in his section. Hay was the best in years but the continued wet weather made it difficult to properly house it. Potatoes promise well, but the root crop is a little on the light side.

MOSES WHITE OF MARYSVILLE DIED
AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Formerly Prominent Lumberman and Contractor--Will be Buried Tuesday Afternoon.

Mr. Moses White, one of Marysville's most prominent residents, passed away Sunday morning, after a lingering illness. The deceased was seventy-three years of age and is survived by two brothers, three daughters and two sons. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2.30 o'clock. Service will be conducted at his late residence by Rev. A. A. Rideout, assisted by Rev. G. W. Foster. Interment will be made in the Methodist Cemetery at Marysville.

The surviving brothers of the deceased are Mr. Michael White, of Nashwaak, and Mr. Elias White, of Marysville. The surviving children are: Mrs. Wilfred Young, of Marysville, Mr. T. Clowes White, who has resided in New York City for some time, but is at present in Marysville, Mrs. Leslie Payson, of Saybrook, Conn., Miss Josephine H. White, of Lynn, Mass., who is also home at present, and Mr. Arthur G. White, of Rowanville, Ont.

The late Mr. White was a native of Marysville, and resided there the greater part of his life, although for some time a resident of Fredericton. He was engaged in the lumbering business in earlier life, and later was a builder and contractor. The original Victoria Hospital in this city was erected by him. He was very well known on the Nashwaak, and was respected by all who knew him.

BURYING GROUND MYSTERY

There is considerable conjecture concerning a small grave or what is taken to be a grave which recently has made its appearance in the old burying ground. The mound it is said was made Friday night. It is marked with an ordinary stake such as are used on graves which bears the initials G. A. and J. A. The caretaker of the burying ground has no knowledge of the grave and is at a loss to know how it came there. The general opinion is that the stake has been placed there for the purpose of locating some forgotten grave.

AGED KINGSCLEAR MAN IN CRITICAL CONDITION

Word was received here this afternoon from Kingsclear that Mr. Geo. Arthur Hammond, the well known merchant and poet, laureate of that place, is critically ill and not expected to last through the day. Mr. Hammond is one of the oldest and best known residents of York County, being in his ninety-third year. He is a native of Kingsclear and has resided there all his life. He conducted a general store at Hamondville for over fifty years and for the greater part of that time held the office of postmaster. He is a man of considerable literary ability and is the author of several books of poems which he published from his own press. He was in the enjoyment of good health up to within a few days ago.

LOCAL REPRESENTATION

AT P. R. A. MEET SMALL

Mr. S. L. C. Coleman left for Sussex today. He will be the sole representative of the Fredericton Rifle Club at the P. R. A. Meet, which opens at Sussex tomorrow and will last until Friday. Capt. F. A. Good, of this city, will act as range officer, and will leave for Sussex tomorrow.

Fredericton's representation is small, on account of the closing of the St. Mary's range for repairs. Owing to the fact that a satisfactory tender for making the repairs had not been received until recently, the local marksmen have been unable to do any shooting this year.

The new pop-sight on the Ross rifle will be used at Sussex this year. Mr. Coleman will shoot with one. Matches for cadets are also an innovation at the P. R. A. Meet this season.

An electric fan placed in the kitchen so that it will create an outward blowing current of air will not remove the heated air, but will carry away to some extent the smell of cookery.

BRITISH LUMBER
MARKET IS STRONG AND GROWING STRONGER

Mr. A. H. F. Randolph Speaks of Conditions on Other Side--Political Situation the Feature.

Mr. Allan H. F. Randolph who returned in the latter part of last week from a six months' tour of the continent of Europe and the British Isles informed The Mail today that there was every indication that the lumber situation in Great Britain was much improved and the expectation is that there will be still further improvement. While in England Mr. Randolph did not have the opportunity of meeting those concerned in the lumber trade on the other side of the water but still was able to get some idea of conditions. Imports of lumber have fallen off and stocks held are not large, the general effect has been an upward trend in prices.

COUNTRIES VISITED

While away Mr. Randolph and those members of his family who accompanied him travelled in Northern Italy, Switzerland, France and Great Britain. Some time was spent in Paris. Mrs. Randolph and her son and daughter will remain on the other side of the Atlantic during the coming winter.

POLITICAL SITUATION

While Mr. Randolph was in England the political situation was the standing feature of the day and was attracting much attention. Mr. Randolph came across on the Empress of Britain and that when three days out from Liverpool received a wireless despatch containing Premier Asquith's announcement that the conference of Liberals and Unionists had proved successful. The Empress on this trip broke the "land to land" record by about fifty-five minutes. Mr. Randolph landed at Rimouski and after a delay of about twelve hours due to the missing of connection with the Ocean Limited came to Fredericton by I.C.R.

BAPTIST PICNIC.

The George street Baptist Sunday School picnic will be held on Wednesday next, weather permitting (or on first fine day after if unfavorable). Single tickets 15 cents and 25 cents for return tickets. Games, sports, meals and all kinds of refreshments on the grounds.

PEANUT CASE
BROUGHT ALDERMEN
TO POLICE COURT

Magistrate Ruled Out Their Evidence However--Two Cases in Juvenile Court.

The celebrated "peanut" case was again before the police court this morning. Four aldermen summoned as witnesses, graced the court with their presence. They had been called to prove that James Apostolas, the defendant, was the victim of persecution on the part of the Police Commission or the Administration of Justice. The magistrate refused to allow as evidence any account of the deliberations of the committee or commission and the case was adjourned until Friday.

The aldermen who were called were Ald. Harrison, Ald. Vanwart, Ald. Osborne and Ald. Clark. The City Treasurer also appeared as a witness.

The evidence showed that a general business license had been issued to the defendant and at his request had been altered by the City Treasurer to specify the corner of Queen and Carleton Streets and the corner of Queen and York Streets as the places at which business was to be carried on. Mr. J. J. F. Winslow, who appeared for the defence, called Ald. Osborne as a witness and asked if the prosecution of Apostolas had been the result of any decision of the Administration of Justice Committee. His Honor ruled that it would be no defence if such were the case and the evidence was not admitted.

JUVENILE COURT.

At the conclusion of the "peanut" case a juvenile court was held. Paul Bailey appeared to answer an old charge and an additional one of escaping from the police. Bailey distinguished himself some time ago by making a clean getaway from the Chief of Police, while the latter was taking him from the police court to the county jail. James Batman, colored, appeared on the charge of stealing vegetables from a garden. Both boys were under ten years of age. In Batman's case the complainant did not wish to prosecute and in the case of the other better conduct in the future was promised. Both were allowed to go with a severe lecture and a caution.
