The Police Methods of Britain Contrasted with Those of America

The Crippen Case Has Sharply Revealed the Differences in These Methods--Britain Considers a Man Innocent Until He is Proved Guilty; America Considers Him Guilty Until He Proves His Innocence--The British People Would not Tolerate the System Adopted by Their Transatlantic Brethren.

One of the highest tributes to British law and British ideas of personal liberty and human rights has been given unconsciously by a former New York Chief of Police in a free condemnation of the Scotland Yard methods in the Crippen case. This great tragedy has revealed to the world in a moment of excitement and has thus unconsciously shown British and American ideals in striking contrast. Former Chief Devery certainly speaks in the fullness of knowledge, and from his standpoint British methods are worthless and foolish. He would have had Dr. Crippen behind the bars as soon as there was a suspicion against him. That was his simple and suggestive declaration of the American method. It would have saved the long quest, the offered reward, the race across the Atlantic, and all the dramatic features that have been holding the world in suspense. The declaration does not go farther, but it is easy to picture the subsequent torture in the cells, a practice so common that it has been given a slang name, the abandoning of all other possible clues, the foregone conclusion of guilt, the gathering of condemning evidence by all methods, and the careful suppression of anything tending to show the innocence of the prematurely condemned. This is a brief and not exaggerated revelation of the lauded American system which has been thrown into contrast with the British system by the escape and capture of Dr. Crippen.

The British people would not tolerate or approve of the American system, which is so much at variance with their innate conceptions of fair play and personal liberty. Human rights are in the British mind superior to official necessities or official aggressions. It is a natural British conception that the government exists for the individual for the government. The presumption of innocence until guilt is proven is too strong in the British mind to tolerate police torture, and the determination to guard against the guardians prevents any combination of encouragement with detection in dealing with crime. Some sharp reproofs were recently administered by Canadian juries in acquitting prisoners who had been helped in their offences by detectives, which goes to show that British ideals dominate Canadian sentiment. Prisoners subjected to hours of questioning that amounted to torture have also been acquitted. Such things may be mis-carriages of justice, but they prevent the possibility of a greater injustice in the torturing of innocent prisoners. The system will not be tolerated, and that is a second attitude.

The American system prevents an occasional escape and saves the cost of an occasional long chase. It also results in an occasional conviction of a guilty man who might escape under British methods. On the other hand, it often permits the easy escape of the guilty through hasty police condemnation of innocent suspects. Its premature judgments prevent comprehensive investigations, and it subjects the public to a police despotism under forms of democracy that would be intolerable to people inheriting British ideals. The case which has brought British and American methods into contrast shows that it is far better to recognize the rights of all men, including those suspected of crime, and to weave the net about the guilty by comprehensive and open-minded investigation.

N. B. RAILWAY CO. INCREASES DIVIDEND

Annual Meeting of New Brunswick Railway Company; Old Officers Re-Elected and Two New Directors--Dividend Raised to 4 Per Cent.

Montreal, Aug. 4.—The annual meeting of the shareholders of the New Brunswick Railway Company was held the company's office, Lake of the Woods Milling Co. building, today.

The directors' report was considered satisfactory and a dividend of four per cent. on the capital stock of the company for the year ended June 30, 1910, was declared payable on Aug. 15. This is an increase of one per cent.

The following board of directors were elected: Lord Strathcona and Mount Royal, Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, Robert Meighen, John Turnbull, W. T. Whitehead, Frank S. Meighen, Col. H. H. McLean, M. P., George S. Cantile and R. W. Reford.

Sir Thomas Shaughnessy takes the place of the late John S. Kennedy, of New York, on the board, and R. W. Reford the place of Samuel Thorne, of New York. At a meeting of the board of directors, Robert Meighen was elected president, and W. T. Whitehead vice-president.

Mr. Meighen has been president of the company for twenty years. It owns 1,600,000 acres of timber land in New Brunswick.

INCREASED OUTPUT OF COAL AT SYDNEY

Sydney, Nt S., Aug. 4.—A movement was on foot at Springhill to have the military, who have been on duty maintaining order in the strike town, recalled to Halifax, Judge Patterson, on whose requisition the troops were called out, agreed, if a force of twenty special police were sworn in, whom E. B. Paul, M. P. P., of Springhill, would recommend as proper men for the work, that he would then request the withdrawal of the military. The men were appointed but Mr. Paul would not vouch for them. Those in whom he had confidence, and whom he recommended, were not appointed, consequently the military are still on hand and are likely to stay. Though Paul was supported by labor at the election, the men that he will recommend have a slim chance of appointment.

The town council consists of six councillors, besides the mayor. This body cannot secure a quorum. One councillor is away, one has a broken leg and cannot attend, and the third will not meet with the remainder to make a quorum, because they are Socialists.

The coal company has about 350 men at work and today 640 tons of coal were raised, the largest quantity since the cessation of work when the strike began more than a year ago.

All men are popular—with themselves.

SHARP GAME PLAYED AT ST. ANDREWS

Smooth Cent Hailing From Washington Hired Summer House and Passed Bogus Checks.

(St. Andrew's Beacon)

A smooth crook visited St. Andrew's last week and stole a march on one of our hard-headed business men.

He reached St. Andrews on one of the night trains, registering at Kennedy's hotel as H. P. Borden, D. C. He wanted to engage a country house for a few months. Hearing of one at Bocabec he drove out and arranged with the owner to let him have it for $200. He gave his cheque on a Washington bank for $200, and the owner moved out to let him in. Then he wanted some groceries. Coming into town he visited a well known store, and purchased $16 worth of groceries. He was a little short of cash at the time. Wouldn't the store keeper take his cheque for $40 and give him the difference between the value of the groceries and the check in cash? The store keeper was obliging and consented. The goods were got, the check turned over, the cash paid to the slick stranger and then H. P. Borden went out into the world. He didn't come back to St. Andrews, but his cheques did, with the alarming information that the bank upon which they were drawn knew nothing of the party and carried no account of his. Meanwhile, the owner of the cottage at Bocabec has moved back into her house, disgusted with the trick that had been played upon her. The disgust is shared in by the St. Andrews store-keeper, who would like to get his fingers on the slippery fellow's neck for about two minutes.

UPRISING FEARED AT SAN SEBASTIAN

Madrid, Aug. 5.—Alarmed by fears that the proposed demonstration of the clerical forces at San Sebastian the summer capital will assume character of an uprising, the government today commenced to rush troops into San Sebastian. A regiment of Hussars left Madrid for San Sebastian this morning, followed by another regiment of cavalry and two battalions of Chasseurs. A regiment of infantry was also ordered to San Sebastian from Vittoria. Both General Weyler, the Capataine General, of Catalonia, and Count Sagasta, the minister of the interior, will go to San Sebastian to be in immediate charge in case of disorders. The government believes that the Carlists and members of the religious orders, which are numerous in northern Spain, are openly inciting their followers to violence. The governors of the Basque provinces and the adjoining province of Navarre, today issued orders to the mayors of all the municipalities in these provinces to warn the Roman Catholics against assembling or entering the city of San Sebastian with arms and that the most energetic measures would be taken to repress any attempt at a manifestation.

TRAGIC TERMINATION OF AERIAL FLIGHT

Biplane Fouled a Flagstaff and Turned Turtle Falling From a Height of One Hundred and Twenty-five Feet—Aviator Injured.

London, Aug. 4.—Mme. Frank, the Parisian air-woman who recently expressed her intention of entering the New York-Chicago prize race, and who is the wife of an English journalist, at Paris, yesterday at Sutherland made a flight which had a tragic termination. Her biplane fouled a flag-staff and turned turtle at a height of 125 feet and fell upon a boy spectator, killing him instantly. Mme. Frank sustained a compound fracture of the leg. The boy who was killed was struck by the motor. Several other people were thrown on the ground and injured by the lighter part of the aeroplane.

$75,000 FIRE LAST NIGHT

Shamokin, Pa., Aug. 5.—Fire of unknown origin late last night destroyed Charles Kunkel's hotel, three tenement houses and several business houses. Loss estimated about $75,000. Alexander Bradley, the fire chief was badly injured by falling bricks.

It takes a good cook to fix up anything to eat so a man can't tell what it is.

MARYSVILLE TOPICS.

Aug. 5.—The Town Council held their monthly meeting in Town Hall on Tuesday evening. In the absence of Mayor Hatt, Alderman Pond acted as chairman. There was very little business of importance transacted. The sewerage question was the only topic. A telegram from Campbellton acknowledging the two hundred dollars for this town for the fire fund, was read.

Mrs. Thomas Likely returned last evening from St. John, where she has been visiting relatives.

Miss Minnie Clements, of Portland, Me., and Mr. Loggie, of Loggieville, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Nields one day this week.

Mrs. Vanstone, of New Jersey, spent Monday in town with friends.
