Give your servants GOLD DUST to clean with, treat them rightly and you will have few occasions to insert a "help wanted" ad

They say a good workman is known by his tools. You cannot expect your maid to keep everything ship-shape unless you give her every modern help.

To keep house without GOLD DUST is to do work by hard, old-fashioned methods. For cleaning everything and anything about the house—from cellar to attic—GOLD DUST is worth its weight in gold. It cuts grease and dirt like magic, does away with scouring and scrubbing, and saves time and tempers.

Your servant can do more and better work and keep sweet with the aid of GOLD DUST in all household cleaning.

CANADA'S EXHIBIT AT THE BRUSSEL'S FAIR

Amazing Wealth of the Dominion Strikingly Showing in Tableau--Three Million Have Seen the Canadian Booth--Some Impressions of the Great Exhibition.

London, Aug. 29.—While the glory of the great Brussels Exposition has to some extent been marred by the ravages of fire the visitors yet to come will not however, be wholly disappointed. Four-fifths of the exhibition is untouched by the fire, and such beauty of the most picturesque and interesting international display ever held in Europe will be for the most part revived. The position of the grounds on a noble slope overlooking the city, adds much to the attractiveness of the exhibition. A wide, winding pathway leads from the entrance past the Brussels Kermeesse on the left. This was a quaint and charming representation of a fair in Brussels in the middle ages, but it has vanished in smoke with the grand facade on the terrace which a few days ago attracted us to the art and industrial exhibits of Belgium and Great Britain. Here the fire was checked and dotted all over the immense gardens, still stand the pavilions of all the nations.

On entering we passed quickly to the farthest corner of the gardens to the most conspicuous pavilion in that quarter, bearing on its white front of classic design the name of "Canada." We were led to it by the moving crowd and we were not long in the exhibition grounds before we heard among the eager sightseers enthusiastic references to the Canadian section, which evidently had struck the imagination of the Belgian, French, German or Dutch visitors who were flocking to and fro.

CANADA'S FINE OPPOSITION.

Canada is far away from the scene of the fire in the vicinity of several French Colonial and other small pavilions which are isolated and far removed from the most extensive galleries the nearest of which are the German and French sections. Had the entire exhibition been planned in isolated sections as Canada is no serious destruction by fire would have been possible. The doorway of the pavilion is shaded by trees and the surroundings are very picturesque. Although it stands at the extreme confines of the exhibition grounds, Canada is to be congratulated on the position it occupies. The striking feature of the pavilion is its novelty in comparison with those of all the other nations. Here is no familiar show of manufacturers' exhibits which in every country bear a very similar appearance. The entire exhibit represents Canada—her agricultural and mineral wealth and all her varied natural resources. It is the most vivid and realistic representation of the Dominion from Montreal to Vancouver, that I have yet seen, and its sole done an incalculable service to his designer, Col. W. Hutchison, has country in thus truthfully displaying its attractions to the farmer, the miner, the business speculator, and all classes in the congested countries of Europe who would seek Canada's ample opportunities in her spacious fields and her glorious, invigorating free air.

THREE MILLION VISITORS

To appreciate the value of this exhibit to Canada as an advertisement, it may be mentioned that in the months of May, June and July the visitors of all nations to the Brussels Exhibition numbered over three million altogether. The visitors to Canada probably included the bulk of this enormous total but it is at least ascertained that to Canada alone the visitors during the whole period since the opening have numbered not less than 12,000 a day! As most of these are country people the very pick of desirable emigrants they have been well supplied with literature which, in their own language describes the country and gives all the information for which these peasant folks of the Netherlands are so eager.

The arrangement of the pavilion is somewhat like that which was so attractive in London two years ago. Radiating from the centre, which is made attractive by life-size portraits of the King and Queen, Earl Grey and Sir Wilfrid Laurier, are rich grain, fruit, wood and mineral exhibits. When I was standing admiring the galleries from this standpoint, I was agreeably surprised to see the large party of Canadian school teachers on tour from Manitoba and it was very pretty to observe the Canadian girls when they came in sight of the central "trophy" make a profound obeisance before the portraits of their Premier and Governor-General. It was eloquent and impressive as a cheer, and the grave bowing of these loyal Canadians was generally noticed by the crowd of spectators.

AN AMAZING TABLEAU.

In the wide alcoves in each of the corners of the building the tableaux one a panoramic view of a prairie set tierrent and a cattle ranch and a grain elevator, and another a very tempting panorama of orchard lands. Another interesting show is a bear-pit with live cubs and in the background a stretch a virgin forest. A great crowd of spectators stood in wonder at a magnificent river scene and in the foreground beaver huts, and a collection of live beavers. In another corner an amazing tableau showed in the distance the brilliant hues of the aurora of the Arctic regions and in foreground the interior of a mine and a miner clothed with asbestos, seated at a flaming forge. This represents the varied mineral wealth which is found all through Canada away to the Arctic regions. In this mineral section of the exhibition are imposing blocks of coal and iron with specimens of cobalt, gypsum and asbestos etc., and some fifty glass cases on stands show numberless specimens from the mines of Ontario, Nova Scotia and British Columbia. This is perhaps the most impressive mineral exhibition ever shown in Europe. It appeals to the imagination and conveys in the most striking fashion to the outside world an idea of the illimitable wealth of Canada's resources.

As in London and elsewhere, this Canadian exhibit has been organized by Col. Hutchison, the Canadian Government Commissioner, and he and his very able colleagues have admirably carried out the intention of the Government, which is not, of course to advertise individual manufacturers but to serve the interests of Canada as a whole by attracting European labor and capital to the building up of the new nation in the West. In addition to the striking tableaux which teach so much, the walls near the ceiling are all round covered with large photographic views of Canadian scenery and town and industrial life. Panels on the pillars, as in the London exhibition, bear in gold letters hundreds of striking facts about Canada, which, being in French are read with eager interest. Col. Hutchison's staff speak the leading European languages. Mr. Ernest Girardot and his colleagues, who are French-speaking Canadians, are busy in the Pavilion for the whole day conducting parties of visitors and giving information and answering every kind of enquiry while leaflets and pamphlets are taken away by the hundred thousand.

In all this memorable exhibition the most popular—especially with the farming and working classes from all parts of Europe—is Canada and once more the Emigration Department of the Dominion and its experienced and skilled officials have made a palpable hit, and their success may be expected to continue till the close of the exhibition at the end of October.

MAKES HAIR GROW

The Central Pharmacy has an invigorator that will grow hair or money back.

The time to take care of your hair is when you have hair to take care of.

If your hair is getting thin, gradually falling out, it cannot be long before the spot appears.

The greatest remedy to stop the hair from falling is SALVIA, the Great American Hair Grower, first discovered in England. SALVIA furnishes nourishment to the hair roots and acts so quickly that people are amazed.

And remember, it destroys the Dandruff germ, the little pest that saps life that should go to the hair from the roots.

SALVIA is sold by A. J. Ryan under a positive guarantee to cure Dandruff, stop Falling Hair and Itching Scalp in ten days, or money back. A large bottle costs 50c. The word "SALVIA" (Latin for sage) is on every bottle.

TIT-BITS

At the death of the Duke of Wellington the whole diplomatic corps was invited to the funeral at St. Paul's. The French ambassador, on receiving his invitation, was very much upset. He hurried off to his colleague of Russia, Baron Brunnow and confided in him the difficulty in which he was placed. "The queen," he said, "expects us to go to St. Paul's to the funeral of the Duke of Wellington. How can I go, considering the injuries which the duke inflicted on my country? What shall I do?" Baron Brunnow listened gravely to his colleague's exposition and then replied: "As the duke is dead," he said, "I think you can safely go to the funeral. If you were asked to attend the resurrection, I should say refuse the invitation."

MANY NEWSPAPER MEN HERE

A large party of newspaper men arrived in town today from New York to "cover" the coming Eucharistic Congress. On the same train there pulled in several representatives of the French clergy. The press delegation comprises men as far distant as Minnesota and Wyoming while several Eastern papers have also sent reporters here. It is understood that each of the New York dailies will have representatives here.

In the group is Augustin McNally the dramatic critic who has been engaged by several periodicals to write articles on the subject and to represent the Associated Press. Mr. McNally will go direct to Rimouski to meet the Papal Legate on his arrival at that point Thursday. He bears letters to that prelate from His Eminence Cardinal Gibbons and the Arch bishop of Boston Mgr. W. H. O'Connell. Mr. McNally has succeeded in the effort to have the press especially the western section make known to the public that Montreal will be able to accommodate every visitor within its gates. "Montreal is a first class city and it has a first class government; its a foregone conclusion that pilgrims to its shores will get first class hospitality" has been the rallying moto sent over the wires.

CATHOLIC CLUB OF NEW YORK COMES.

There will be large delegations from the East. The Catholic Club of New York will send 250 members, representing the Catholic laity from every part of the country. In the delegations will be Justices of the Supreme Court, Congressmen, United States Senators, bankers, brokers, journalists.

Ex-Justice Morgan J. O'Brien is chairman. The Holy Name and St. Vincent de Paul Societies from New York, Chicago, Brooklyn, Newark, Trenton, Philadelphia will travel on special trains.

The Catholic Club's train will be decorated with the Canadian and Papal flags. One of the first acts of the Club will be to march from the train to the residence of the Archbishop of Montreal to pay their respects to that prelate and the Cardinal Legate.

CIVIC EMPLOYEES GRAND STAND

The Reception Committee this morning decided to erect a grand stand at the City Hall for the use of the employees and the windows will be reserved for the aldermen. On the night of the reception there will be choirs from St. Louis de France and St. Patrick's churches an orchestra under the direction of Boucher and Hardy's Band.

It was further decided that the Duke of York's Hussars shall act as escort from the wharf to the Archbishop's palace the committee voting $200 for the purpose.

ARE EXAMINING HOUSES.

The Detective Department is busy looking over the numerous houses which have been placed at the disposal of the Reception Committee in connection with the coming Congress. All persons who have notified the authorities of their willingness to rent rooms are called upon by members of the local detective body and a report on the latter's findings is sent to the members of the Reception Committee before the rooms offered are officially listed.
