Give your servants GOLD DUST to clean with, treat them rightly and you will have few occasions to insert a "help wanted" ad

They say a good workman is known by his tools. You cannot expect your maid to keep everything ship-shape unless you give her every modern help.

To keep house without GOLD DUST is to do work by hard, old-fashioned methods. For cleaning everything and anything about the house—from cellar to attic—GOLD DUST is worth its weight in gold. It cuts grease and dirt like magic, does away with scouring and scrubbing, and saves time and tempers.

Your servant can do more and better work and keep sweet with the aid of GOLD DUST in all household cleaning.

Mrs. HOLLIDAY, Box No. 86 Wroster, Ont., writes:—"I must say that we have used Dr. Fowler's EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY for over seventeen years, and have found nothing to equal it for all Summer Complaints, Diarrhoea, Dysentery, etc. Our house is never without a bottle of the Extract and I can recommend it to be kept in every home, especially where there are children."

NOTICE—We wish to warn the public against being imposed on by unscrupulous dealers who substitute the so-called "Strawberry Compounds" for Dr. Fowler's.

If you want to be on the safe side ask for Dr. FOWLER'S EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY, and insist on getting what you ask for.

The original is manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont. Price 35 cents.

Mrs. HARRY GILLILAND, Cardinal, Ont., writes:—"Our baby, who was so very bad with Diarrhoea that it seemed her bowels were fairly raw. We tried everything we thought would help her but failed. A neighbor advised trying Dr. FOWLER'S EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY. We tried it and before the end of a week our baby was as well as ever. We always keep Dr. Fowler's in our home."

PLASTER ROCK

The readers of this may well understand that great caution must be used against fire and watchmen are on the alert night and day. Water pipes extend under ground for miles; hydrants and hose are there to cover every one hundred feet. On the western side too, the men with the hose is always ready to do battle with the fire fiend and protect the property of the eight hundred souls who dwell upon the banks of the river at this point.

A word or two more and I am done. On the eastern side of the river, the nature of the soil in spring and fall is such as to make travelling for man or beast most abominable but Mr. Donald Fraser, the junior partner of the concern, like a spirit of unrest, lays down thousands of feet of lattice side walk for the comfort of pedestrians and the numerous children attending school.

One item more before I cross the river. It was on the Sunday before I left for home that master Donald, his feet in slippers, coatless and head uncovered, went out upon the margin of his great farm and on the Sabbath day he plucked some stalks of corn, which beat anything I ever saw. They measured five feet six inches the number of piles in the ear was one hundred and they had jointed stems like a young sugar cane. Before crossing the covered bridge I look from an angle on the mill side and behold a panoramic view of enchantment which will be no easy task to sketch. As the elevation of the land from the bed of the stream varies in height from one hundred feet to one hundred and fifty as much as a mile and so thickly and irregularly stand out the well built homes of the dwellers that in the grey light of the evening the scene to my eye resembles a flock of sheep in pastures green.

I am standing at the junction of three roads—better cannot be found in the county of York—the one runs north, the other south.

It is in a large building here that the telephone exchange performs its wonders in communicating to parts far and near. Within the building are located two large stores—millinery and dressmaking, and may be other handicrafts, including Dr. Coffin, a rather gruesome name for a man of medicine.

You have to cast your eyes upwards to see three well built modern churches, with spires, bells and belfries, as well as the four cardinal points of the compass.

The most commanding building is the Roman Catholic Church, standing at an elevation of one hundred and fifty feet on a beautiful site which was donated by Mr. Donald Fraser Jr. It is within three miles of the new station of the G.T.P. and close to the new bridge with its concrete piers and steel superstructure. In a short time trains will be running over this new road all the way to Moncton.

We will now retrace our steps to the other two churches, Presbyterian and Methodist and also to the three halls and school. If time and space would allow me I should like to give a hasty description of our church, which I took special delight in attending during the two Sabbaths I spent in Plaster Rock. It is presided over by Rev. Mr. Campbell and a young divine, a Mr. Morrison, both Nova Scotians, well may the Presbyterians be proud of their churches. In a word it is perfection, even to the stained glass windows in the north and south wings.

My visit to the thriving town of Plaster Rock I shall always regard as one of the most pleasing incidents of my life time. The people are hospitable and deserve the prosperity which they are enjoying. They have my best wishes for future success.

Now Mr. Editor I will close by thanking you for your patience and forbearance, both to time and space.

Yours very truly

JAMES TENNANT.

The portly dame in the back seat of the hotel hack waxed impatient. "He's the slowest driver I ever saw!" she exclaimed.

"That only shows, ma'am," said the imperturbable Jehu, speaking in his own behalf, "that you've never seen a pile driver at work."

FATAL ACCIDENT AT ROXBURY BALL GAME

Grandstand Falls Boys One Killed, Another Seriously Injured

Boston, Sept. 7.—One boy was killed and another seriously injured when the grandstand on the Boston college grounds on Massachusetts Avenue, Roxbury, collapsed while a baseball game was in progress yesterday afternoon.

Both boys, it is said, were beneath the woodwork of the structure at the time it fell and it was also said that persons had been warned to keep off the stand.

Maurice Sweet, aged 7, was killed, while Walter T. Leary, 6 years old, was so badly injured that it is thought he will die.

Several other persons were more or less shaken up, but left the grounds before the police could obtain their names or the extent of their injuries.

A game between the Hawthorne and Mt. Pleasant clubs of Roxbury, was in progress at the time. There were about 150 persons present, but the majority of these were standing alongside the ropes on the sidelines.

What caused the stand to fall is unknown. It was located in a spot that is particularly damp. It is the supposition of those present that the supports of the stand, which were about eight feet high, had become decayed by the moisture from the ground. They were erected about six years ago. It is said that all the spectators were ordered away from the stand before the game began, but while it was in progress several boys ranging from 5 to 15 years, got beneath the woodwork to watch the game.

There were about 15 young men on the stand at the time of the accident and the remainder were standing about the field. Without warning, two of the supports gave way and the stand collapsed.

The Sweet boy and young Leary were beneath the stand at the time, supposedly watching to recover the balls that went behind the stand. When it fell, the timbers dropped down on both boys, burying them in the debris.

Immediately the game was stopped and ball players and spectators ran to the stand. The woodwork was quickly hauled out and the two boys lifted out. The Sweet boy was unconscious and breathing heavily. Sevlads across the field to Massachusetts Avenue.

An automobile, operated by Faber Hitchcock, of Marshfield, Mass., happened along Massachusetts Avenue, and the ball players hailed it. Both boys were placed in the tonneau and hurried to the city hospital. The Sweet boy was dead before the machine arrived at the hospital. It was seen that the Leary boy had been badly injured. He was placed on the operating table and an examination made.

The body of the Sweet boy was taken to the morgue and the medical examiner notified. It was said that he had sustained a fracture of the skull, besides numerous internal injuries. The Leary boy was injured internally.

FORGOT HIS LATCH KEY WAS SHOT FOR BURGULAR

New York, N. Y., Sept. 7.—Samuel Davis, thinking of his approaching marriage, forgot his night key when he went out last night to call on his fiancée and returning to his home in St. Mark's Place, Brooklyn, found himself locked out. He went to the roof intending to come down the fire escape to his room.

There have been many burglaries in the neighborhood recently and when John Guarreto saw Davis' form on the fire escape he blazed away with a revolver, killing Davis instantly. Guarreto was arrested.

Do not put eggs into rice puddings, as they are really wasted. All that is required in addition to the rice and milk is a small piece of butter. These puddings, to be good, must be cooked quite three hours very slowly.

CANADA'S SECOND CRUISER COMMISSIONED

Toronto Regiment making great popularity in England.

London, Sept. 7.—The cruiser Niobe for the Canadian navy was placed in commission yesterday. She will leave for Halifax early in October.

Col. Pellatt has decided to supply the Queen's Own Rifles with the latest web pattern combination for carrying equipment. Six officers of the regiment are suffering from influenza.

The City Corporation has decided to lunch the Queen's Own on Sept. 16. The resolution was carried with acclamation and the sum of £1200 allotted for the lunch, souvenirs etc. The route from Duke of York's school to Guildhall will be selected to give London the best opportunity of joining the corporation in making the welcome as cordial as possible.

When the second division marched out at Aldershot for interdivisional manoeuvres, the Queen's Own men were honored with the job of pace-making. The Buifs gave the Canadians a rousing send-off from Badajoz barracks. The friendship between the two regiments is likely to become permanent. A move has already been made to get permission for them to be linked like the 48th Canadians and Gordon Highlanders.

At the city corporation the speeches were of the warmest character. J. R. Pakeman said the occasion was unique. All must admire the devotion and patriotism of Col. Pellatt. Every officer and man was entitled to thanks for self-sacrifice involved by the visit. The reception of the Queen's Own would delight Canada.

Sir H. Knight spoke in similar terms referring to the value of the visit as it enabled Britons to give evidence that the feeling here towards closer union was greater than ever. A. E. Morton also spoke.

A distinguished gathering will be invited to the lord mayor's reception to the Queen's Own prior to the luncheon in Guildhall. The number includes members of the cabinet, the Duke of Argyll, Lords Lansdowne, and Strathecona and Hon. R. Le-mieux.

A tiny sore at the corner of the lips should be at once well powdered with boracic acid and powder, and kept covered with it till it disappears.

Several robberies have occurred in the past weeks, and the family was on the alert.

The Commission is not expected to finish its preliminary session before the end of this month. Sometime in October the final hearing will be held in Washington. It is hardly believed that the commission will be able to reach a decision by November 1st the date for the proposed rate advances to go into effect and this probably will result in further postponement of the date for the new rates to become operative.
