HEARD FROM AT LAST

The feeling of anxiety which was rapidly becoming acute in Conservative circles in York county, as to the safety and well being of the present member for this constituency was fortunately allayed last evening upon the publication of The Gleaner. For several weeks nothing had been heard of Mr. O. S. Crockett beyond the fact that he had left for the western coast and a certain undefinable dread had seized upon the hearts of some of the faithful as to whether or not some evil had befallen him at the instance of the marauding bands now swarming the country on every side under the aegis of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. Happily nothing of the kind has occurred; he is still in good health and his faculties for foretelling the future success of his party are apparently in no wise impaired.

In an interview with a British Columbia paper, Mr. Crockett expresses the opinion that "the outlook for Mr. Borden's party was never brighter during the past fourteen years," and moreover even in Sir Wilfrid Laurier's tour Mr. Crockett "reads an augury of success" for, says he "the Premier's tour is not bringing anything like the results which were expected from it." It is discouraging enough to the sympathizers of Sir Wilfrid to learn of this distressing condition of affairs from so eminently reliable an authority as the Moncton Times, but Mr. Crockett's statement to the same effect leaves no possible loophole for doubt in the matter. Sir Wilfrid will no doubt at once return home if his attention is called to it.

Mr Crockett looks to the next general election to result in the return to power of Mr. Borden and his followers, and as one reason for this he says the Conservatives were never in better fighting trim. They ought to be in trim if constant practice among themselves will bring about this condition of affairs. The spectacle of the party at the present time quarrelling together as to who shall be the chiefs and the leader himself looking quietly on whilst his followers malign each other, is but a poor augury for the future should this party ever be entrusted with the task of governing. It would be well for them to first learn to agree among themselves, and then find a policy which will commend itself to the country, before they can hope for success at the polls.

Mr. Crockett still seems to be harping on the famous idea that because the popular vote in the last election broke nearly even, although the Liberals secured the balance of power, therefore the chances are that Mr. Borden will carry the country next time. This is a very childish way of looking at things, and if Mr. Crockett has nothing more substantial upon which to base his hopes of success we fear he is doomed to further disappointment.

THE BOB CAT AS A POLITICAL FACTOR

Dr. A. J. Murray, a very worthy resident of the Parish of Gladstone, Sunbury County, contributes a letter to the Tory St. John Standard, in which he makes use of some very strong language in condemnation of those who have dared criticize the road policy of the Hazen Government. Here is a sample passage from the doctor's heated effusion:

"Among those who are on Mr. Hazen's trail as hot as a bob cat on the track of a deer, are the No Return fellows and those who are yearning for the return of the good old boodling days."

It seems that the doctor's views on the Highway Act were well known to the electors of the Parish of Gladstone in October last when he offered for re-election to the Sunbury County Council and was defeated by more than a two to one vote. Even the noble doctor will admit that "returns" were no ways slow about coming in on that occasion.

We would not like to say that the doctor's overwhelming defeat was due to the fact that the electors were on his trail "as hot as a bob cat on the trail of a deer" but there must have been something of that kind in the wind. The same delightful experience awaits Premier Hazen and his Government whenever they see fit to go before the people. Being one of the first victims of the iniquitous Highway Act of the Hazen Government, the tone of the doctor's letter would seem to indicate an anxiety on his part to see the other fellows get a dose of the same medicine.

Solicitor General McLeod, in an interview published in The St. John Standard, is reported to have said that "the worst roads hereabouts are right in this city." If the Solicitor General means the section of road from Morrison's Mills to the Sunbury county line, and the road leading to the Parish of New Maryland, his statement is based upon an indisputable fact. Both of these roads are under the control of the Hazen Government and if Hon. Mr. McLeod is worth his salt as a representative, he will have them repaired at once, now that he has publicly expressed himself in regard to their condition.

Moncton Times.—Notwithstanding the elaborate plans made for the tour of Sir Wilfrid Laurier in the west, for which no expense has been spared, it is quite evident that he is a disappointment to the people and that his meetings have failed to arouse any real enthusiasm.

This settles it; because if it's in The Times, it's so, of course.

SUDDEN DEATH OF PRESIDENT OF CHILE

Bremen, Aug. 17.—The death of President Pedro Montt of Chile in this city last midnight, was most unexpected. He was preparing for bed when he was seized with cramps of the heart and died almost instantly. His wife was with him at the time. Almost all the members of the presidential were still engaged in conversation with Senor Basta, secretary of the Chilean legation at Berlin and other attaches who had met the President and Mrs. Montt there on the arrival of the steamship Wilhelm der Grosse from New York. The President of Chile had a trying day. He arose at an early hour to be ready to land from the steamer at Bremer-Haven at half past nine. About an hour after his embarking he received the visit of the members of the Chilean legation and a number of officers of the North German line. He conversed with animation until he took the train for Bremen. Here he was welcomed by a deputation from the senate. He was entertained as a guest of the city at lunch, where he responded to a toast of welcome. He was driven around Bremen in the afternoon. It was his intention to take the four o'clock express for Berlin, but perceiving that he would not have time to do this he decided to spend the night at a local hotel. Senor Montt felt so well in the evening that shortly before he was ready to retire he took a brief walk through the streets in the immediate neighborhood of his hotel. It was the intention of the President of Chile to go to Bad Nauheim, passing through Berlin on his way. It was planned that Senor M. Matte, the Chilean minister to Berlin, should meet him at the railroad station this morning. Senor Matte, however, was awakened early this morning by a telegram, announcing the death of Senor Montt. The President of Chile had been invited to be the guest of Emperor William at the autumn review of the German army at which he was to have had luncheon with His Majesty. Senor Matte called at the foreign office this morning and gave official notification of the death. After the formality, the minister accompanied by his military attaché, left Berlin for this city. The body of Senor Montt has been embalmed and probably will be taken to the Catholic Church of St. Joannes, where it will rest until its disposition has been decided upon. The members of the late President's suite are of the opinion that the Chilean government will send a warship here to convey the remains back to Chile.

BIJOU TODAY

A large number of people attended the Bijou last night and saw what should be called an excellent feature film entitled "Uncle Tom's Cabin." Today is the last opportunity to see this feature film. It is worth your while to see it.

A GOOD MARKET FOR TOMATOES IN BRITAIN

Where They Would Command a Higher Price Than is Paid Here--Canadian Fruit is More Luscious Than That From Continent--Tomatoes From Canary Islands Shipped to Liverpool Worth a Million Dollars--Eleven Hundred Acres Under Glass in England.

Toronto, Aug. 17.—The time to look for markets is before the crop is ready, said Mr. J. Lockie Wilson, Superintendent of Agricultural Societies, yesterday morning, in speaking of the prospects of developing Canadian trade with Britain in tomatoes.

Three boxes of the fruit, packed in peat and sawdust, are to be shipped to Covent Garden Market on Thursday by the Royal Edward and it is expected that they will keep well and find a ready market. Mr. Wilson remarked that the northwest is now a good customer for Ontario fruit, but supposing any falling off in demand from there should come, it would be well to have the English market cultivated, and, in any case a brisk trade could, he thought, be developed with the old country.

WOULD BE PROFITABLE TRADE.
That this would be to the advantage of Ontario growers is evident from the fact that whereas the Prince Edward county farmers get 25 to 30 cents per bushel (60 pounds), the price in London is from five to ten cents a pound.

CANADIAN FRUIT JUICER.
The demand in England for Canadian fruit generally he says, is good. The peaches, for example, coming to Covent Garden from the continent are yellow, thick-skinned and juiceless, being grown in hot, dry countries like the southern California apples which are punky and juiceless, especially those grown on irrigated land. The juicy, well-flavored Canadian fruits should, therefore, command a ready sale at good prices.

That our tomatoes would reach the British market in good condition Mr. Wilson thinks is certain, as there were shipped last year nearly a million dollars' worth of tomatoes from one of the Canary Islands. It takes seven days by steamship, for their fruit to reach Liverpool, while a box of Kent county tomatoes came from London to Toronto last week in six and three-quarter days. He expects the Canadian product to do fully as well as the Canary Island shipments.

MILES OF HOTBEDS.
The extent to which intensive farming is developed in Britain is seen in the fact mentioned by Mr. Wilson that there are more than 25,000,000 square feet of glass insured by vegetable and fruit growers which is probably only half of the actual amount used, so that there would be about 60,000,000 square feet covering 1,100 acres. In other words, the hothouses would extend 600 miles if fifteen feet wide. The value of the agricultural industry is indicated by the statement that the total product last year in five crops—wheat, oats, barley, potatoes and hay—was $374,000,000.
