HOOF BEATS

Justice Brooke, 2:09½, the king of 2-year-old trotters, is the first colt bred by George Moore of Dromore farm to appear in public.

Abe Johnson will be at the races next year with a pretty fair sort of a trotter. His name is Indian Hill and he is a brother to Uhlman.

Despite the fact Grace won the Kentucky futurity and defeated the wonderful Colorado B., she is still a very much underestimated trotter.

Gold Dollar, 2:09½, is now owned by George Estabrook of Denver. He showed 2:06 at Lexington on the trot and about a 1:30 gait on the run.

Independence Boy, 2:03½, could have taken the record for 5-year-old pacers had it been necessary. The mark, 2:02½ stands to the credit of Coney, 2:02.

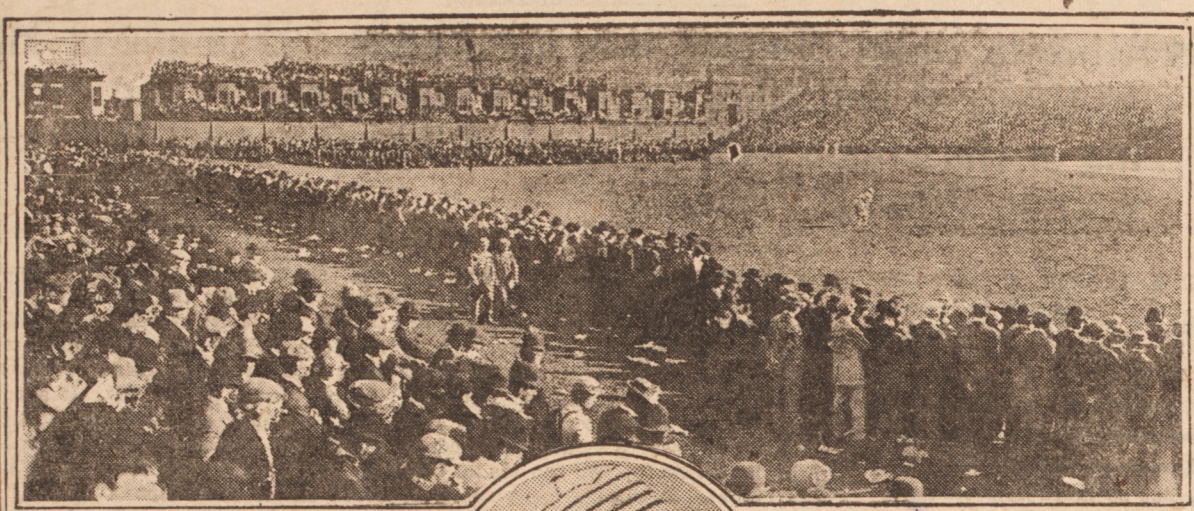

Baroness Evelyn, the sister of Baroness Virginia, 2:08½, who won considerable money in the pacing futurities this year, has been set to trotting.

Prosty, a trotter bred at Forest City farm, now the home of Cleveland grand circuit racing, cut the Russian record for a mile to 2:08 this past summer.

HILLSGROVE GOT TWO NEW TRACK RECORDS THURSDAY

Free-For-All Required Eight Heats to Finish—2:19 Trot Was Not Completed.

Hillsgrove, R. I., Oct. 27.—Twelve heats were raced here this afternoon and only one race was given a final decision, that being the free-for-all trot, brought forward from yesterday and it required eight heats and a change of drivers to develop a winner. Vanhouten and Gillies were fined $25 each in the third heat of the 2:19 trot for scoring ahead of the pole horses Baden, with Rodney up, was in the pole position and he made no apparent effort to bring his horse down with the field, which was well bunched. Starting Judge Pike was severely score by the crowd when the fine was announced, they claiming that no one but Rodney was to blame.

Two new track records were established in the free-for-all pace when Jennie W. 2:04½, the swift-going daughter of Alcanda, stepped the third and fourth heats in 2:08½ and 2:08½ respectively. Bowden drove this same mare over the course last Saturday in 2:09, making three new records in less than a week.

Major Mallow was the favorite but Major Brino took the first two heats with no perceptible effort. In the third heat Jennie W. cut loose and took the pole on the first turn, and was never headed. In the last heat she went away fast before the field could reach her and Bowden pulled up, finishing easy at the wire.

After the second heat in the free-for-all trot today, the judges decided that Direct Tone, owned by J. J. Kayre, Chester, Pa., was not being properly handled and they took down Ryan and put up Gillies. He lifted the gelding into the lead at the first turn in the third heat and was never headed. He repeated in the fourth, and what proved to be the final heat, and both heats he carried Derby Boy the favorite to a break. The judges awarded Gillies $50 for his drive.

Balen captured two heats in the 2:19 trot but went bad in the third heat when Emily Marion beat out the favorite, Junie Mace, who lost a toe weight and had to lay up. Gillies brought the mare to the front by a clever drive in the fourth heat and darkness prevented further racing.

FRED TAYLOR CLAIMS

HE IS FREE AGENT

O'awa, Oct. 27.—After hibernating in the Capital all summer Fred Taylor the cyclonic defence player, last year with the Renfrew team, comes out with a statement that he is a free agent and is under contract with no hockey club to play this season. During the stormy days of the early winter last year when Taylor was lauded by Renfrew, it was announced he had signed a contract for three years. This statement was wrong, according to Fred, and he can play where he wishes this winter. At that it is believed he will be back with Renfrew. He has been more or less in touch with the creamery town management all summer and that will most likely be his hang-out in 1910-11.

The hockey caldron has started to simmer hereabouts. As usual much interest centres in Renfrew. It is said unofficially the millionaires are after Frank Patrick again this season, but Fegan is not likely to come east unless accompanied by his brother Lister Now, Les's r, mighty good player that he was, s'ld back considerably last winter and could hardly keep pace with the o'er stars on the team.

Tommy Burns states that all arrangements have been made for him to meet Sam Langford in England the last week in December or the early part of January.

ARCHILLE THE GREAT MOST PROMISING COLT

The Halifax Echo has the following about Achille the Great, the speedy colt which has made a good showing during the past season:

Achille the Great was bred, broke and trained by Mr. W. H. Musgrave, who makes no pretensions to being a track trainer, but rather regards himself as an amateur. However, if he is an amateur he is a remarkably successful one. If Mr. Musgrave is strongly interested in the breeding of the harness horse and in addition to conducting a most successful bakery business he manages to find some time to devote to his stable which he regards as a pastime rather than a business. He it was who broke the speedy Archille colt and drove him to his mark of 2:30 unplaced at the Exhibition track a few weeks ago at a mark, which gave Achille the Great the two-year-old trotting record for the Maritime Provinces, displacing Parkland's record of 2:36 made at Moncton in 1893 by six seconds. In taking his mark, Achille the Great demonstrated that he was not at his speed limit even as a two-year-old, and the next day he started in the Maritime Bred 2:40 trot and stepped four heats, all of them won in better than 2:30. In the first heat he finished second and trotted the mile in 2:26½. Five heats were needed to finish the race and the colt was not behind the money, but was drawn by permission after the fourth as his owner thought the colt had already done as much racing in one day as could be wished of a two-year-old. Among those who admired the colt that day was a horseman who ventured the opinion that in fast company on one of the fast United States tracks and with an experienced crack Yankee driver behind him the colt could travel nearer 2:30 and on a mile track could do even better than that.

In the stable Achille the Great is good tempered, full of life and playful. Mr. Musgrave feels proud of the youngster, as he well may, and the fact that an offer of $2,000 for the two-year-old has been declined with thanks shows that he does not wish to part with him.

Achille the Great is a bay of fine formation, and carries himself in good style. "Speed begets speed" it is claimed, and this colt comes by his naturally through sire and dam, and can trace back to champions through both. His sire is Achille, the government's imported trotting stallion, half brother to Uhlman, 1:58½, the fastest trotting gelding the world has ever seen, a son of the great Bingen. The colt's dam is Karava, by Kremlin, 2:07½, a world's champion, by Lord Russell, a full brother of the former world's champion, Maud S., 2:08½, half sister of the world's champion brood mare sire, Nutwood, 2:18½. Achille's the Great's grand sire, being out of the famous Miss Russell, a mare, said The American Horse Breeder recently, whose progeny will be found figuring more numerous in the 2:10 list than that of any other great brood mare's. She was out of Sally Russell, by Boston, the champion four mile race horse of America.

HOW CONNIE MACK ROSE TO LEAD THE WORLD'S CHAMPIONS

Resident of Chicago Cubs Tells What He Knows About Athletics' Chief.

Chicago, Oct. 25.—J. A. Hart, former president of the Cubs writes:

The king is dead: long live the king. National League World Championships have passed for the day and American League champions now are possessed of the highest honor in professional baseball. Connie Mack's hands are worthy hands in which to repose the custody of this glory, for he is one of the safe men now connected with the game. He is strictly honest wise beyond his generation, and a pure sportsman. Certainly the goddess of fortune selected wisely when she chose this long bodied, long headed gentleman to become the recipient of the world's baseball championship emblem.

My sympathies are National League I am a Cub "booster" to the core and am for Chicago and Chicago institutions now, then, and all the time, but so long as the honor must go elsewhere than to Chicago and to the National League, I have no choice to place ahead of the modest Philadelphia who heads the world's champions, and who, as a player in the ranks, as director of play from the bench, as manager in the fierce and unceasing competition for players to constitute his team, and in the teaching and developing of players to a championship form, never has brought upon himself one word of suspicion as to his absolute honesty of action, purpose or method.

MACK'S PLAN IS BEST.

Mack's plan for developing young players into a championship team is, in my opinion, the proper one, for it makes the player realize more fully that he is really and truly a part of the team rather than if his release had been purchased from some other club whose manager had given him the proper schooling, and to whom he should feel obligated.

Do not for one moment permit yourself to believe that this unassuming down east Yankee does not know and use the tricks of the game, for he is wise and will turn any honest advantage that an umpire will allow when his team is to be benefited.

It was this same Connie Mack, nee Cornelius McGillicuddy, who as a catcher back of the bat in the old days, when a caught foul tip made an out, invented and perfected the fake foul tip, or in other words, could make a noise by snapping his finger against his mitt in a certain manner or by using his well trained lips could emit a sound so like the noise of a foul tip that the umpire, who as a general rule had faith in Mack's innocence, would, upon Connie's supplication, call out the batsman, firmly believing that the ball had been a foul tip.

ADVICE BIG HELP TO MEN.

Mack has by example and advice been much to the players under him, for he is a man of perfect personal habits, is of a most kindly disposition, and more than tolerant with the playing errors of his men.

He is of Scotch-Irish extraction, born and reared in New England. He made his first appearance in fast company in the Washington team when that club was a member of the National League. He and his favorite pitcher—they used to go in pairs in those days—Gilmore by name, came to Washington as a battery in the '80's.

Gilmore was, perhaps the poorest batsman who ever faced a pitcher in fast company—so bad that he invariably swung his bat along the same line, horizontally, regardless of where the ball was pitched. Mack expostulated with him and urged him to make a study of the direction of the ball and to swing accordingly. The Irish in Connie appreciated the humor of Gilmore's reply, which was "Not on your life will I change my

ACADIA LOOKS VERY STRONG ON PAPER

A Wolfville despatch sizes the Acadia team up as follows:

"The half line is, perhaps, the fastest in the Maritime Provinces. Porter, Kaiser and Andrews, of last year's team, with Richmond and McDonald, certainly make a rattling bunch of half backs, who can run with the best of them.

"Richmond is none other than the famous Gordon Richmond, champion five mile runner, of Cape Breton. He played great football for Glace Bay during the season of 1908-'09, and is making a good showing at Acadia.

"MacDonald, of Fredericton, was the star of the Horton Collegiate Academy team last year, and this fall he is even playing better than when he wore the "H." "Mac" is one of the fastest sprinters in Eastern Canada.

"The quarters are Webber, Patillo, and Gross, who are all showing good form.

"Spencer, Fitch, Robinson, Spurr, Brooks and Pineo are the forwards. They're a light bunch, but they're as hard as nails.

"Reid has been playing a great game at full back, and is undoubtedly one of the best men in the game today.

"Captain Robinson has his men out practising every day. "Bar" is wasting no time; he's determined to put up a terrific struggle for the coveted championship.

"Dr. Cutten, President of Acadia, who was, in his college days at Yale, one of the greatest football players in America, is very enthusiastic over the College's team, and has been out coaching the squad on a number of occasions."

TRIBUNE SAYS U. N. B. IS PICKED TO WIN

The Sackville Tribune of Thursday, says:

The Moncton footballists were unable to come to Sackville today to meet the Mt. A. boys. It is possible that the Railway City will be here on Saturday, but that is not likely. The first game of the season here will probably be played next Wednesday, when the U. N. B. boys will meet the local collegians in the opening game of the Intercollegiate League series. The Fredericton players are picked to win, but a hard game is almost certain.

The Tribune is evidently prepared to say, "I told you so," if Mount A. should lose, or cheer if the Red and Black goes down to defeat.

MOOSE HUNTING STORIES FROM THE TOBIQUE

(Victoria County News)

Word has reached Perth that D. McCalmont of London, England, lieutenant in the 7th Hussars regiment, and who crossed the Atlantic to hunt on the Tobique has been successful in securing a fine moose. The trophy was brought to earth on Wednesday Oct 19 on Clearwater, near the headwaters of the Miramichi. The moose possessed a spread of 48 inches with 26 points and a 15 inch web.

To a youth of seventeen years belongs the credit of capturing the largest moose shot on the Tobique this season and one of the largest taken in the province this year. The moose had a spread of 57 inches with 26 points and dressed 1200 pounds.

Collier W. Baird, son of William T. Baird, a rubber dealer of New York City, was the fortunate hunter. He secured the prize on Gulguc Lake on his first hunting trip. He was accompanied by his father and guide David Ogilvy.

Water-hunting for moose is about over, yet in this mid-season before the snow hunting begins, game is being produced in goodly quantities. One moose that was taken last week was shot after he had swam a dead-water breaking the ice ahead of him as he made his way across. Experienced hunters declare they never saw the hunting better between seasons than it is this year.

MARK TWAIN LEFT SNUG FORTUNE

Redding, Conn., Oct. 26.—The inventory of the estate of the late Samuel Clemens (Mark Twain) filed in the probate court here today, shows the valuation as made by the appraisers, Alfred Bigelow Paine, Mr. Clemens' literary secretary and Harry Louisbury, superintendent of the estate, $611,136.

Mr. Clemens' home, Stormfield, and the 230 acres surrounding it, are valued at $70,000. The approximate value of his stock holdings is given as $450,000, of which $200,000 is in stock of the Mark Twain Company.

style of batting, because some day there will come some fool pitcher who will put the ball just where my bat is in the habit of travelling, and I'll lose the ball."
