U. S. CUSTOMS MEN WERE ON THE ALERT

Wealthy Venezulean and Pretty Wife Compelled to Disgorge Costly Jewels.

New York, April 15.—Senor F. M. Rangel, a rich Venezulean resident of Paris, and his handsome young wife, arrived yesterday on the steamship Alliance. They were central figures on the Panama line pier at the foot of West Twenty-seventh street, where their wrath was voiced loudly when their six trunks, containing gems to the value of more than $10,000 besides wearing apparel, were seized by the Customs men and taken to the Public Stores.

Not only that, but Senora Rangel was obliged to return to the ship and submit to a close search by a woman inspector. As a result a necklace containing six ropes of pearls, with three diamond clasps, a diamond studded bracelet and a gold brooch set with rubies were added to the collection discovered in the trunks.

RANGEL IN A RAGE.

"Caramba!" he yelled, pulling off his coat and vest and tossing them toward the inspector. "Search them, too! See if there is yet more for your greediness. Search me, to the skin! Why should I want to smuggle? I, who am worth $500,000 and own many acres of farms in South America and have abundance and a fine residence in Paris! I am no smuggler. I go to South America, yes; and I buy curios. I have made twelve trips and have bought curios and always to France have I taken them, not to this America."

Erie trainmen and conductors today expressed the belief that the settlement of the New York Central dispute by arbitration paves the way for a similar settlement of the differences between the Erie and its men on the wage question.

THE FOOL.

The Fool, which comes to the City Opera House, is a play strong and simple, with laughable sayings and situations, and direct in treatment. A fine company has been selected with great care to present this play which deserves the success it has met so far.

The Fool is a play that should be seen by all man and womankind, and one would not be amiss in calling it "A sermon in the drama."

The plot is plainly understood, and brings forth strange dramatic situations relieved by an abundance of comedy. No man or woman need have any scruples in bringing their family as there is not a line or situation that is not wholesome, pure and clean.

Besides a play of interest and learning, it furnishes many hearty laughs. The Fool will be seen at the City Opera House for one night only, Saturday, April 16.

Secure your seats in advance at Wilkes.

Major Von Parseval's invention is a monoplane with a four cylinder motor of 120 horsepower. It carried 170 pounds of benzine and was expected to remain in the air three hours. It was provided with torpedo-like floats for descending on water and with wheels for a descent on land.

The committee is also authorized "to examine into the dealing of any member of the exchange." While no amplification of the amendment was vouchsafed it is understood that its adoption will enable the authorities to deal more directly with offending members. The law committee consists of F. K. Sturgis, F. L. James, Rudolph Kopper, and H. K. Pomroy, all ex-presidents of the exchange and J. T. Atterbury.

THE SYRIAN FRAUD CASE EFFORT TO FREE CONVICT

Found Guilty and Sentenced upon a Charge Showing a Skinning Game to Tune of $15,000 Wherein Wholesale Merchants are Victims, he now Seeks Release--Case now on Trial Today.

Today before the full bench of the Supreme Court here, the famous Assyrian $15,000 fraud case is on for trial upon points reserved. The facts form about as interesting, not to say as novel, a story of cunning, as ever comes before our courts of justice, and they are worth recalling. Now that the respective counsel engaged, Mr. T. J. Carter for the crown and Mr. W. P. Jones for the defence, are each making the final encounter for victory.

It will be noted that the part of the accused, William Ayoup, who is now in Andover jail, was not that of a principal, but thereby hangs a tale. He was on the ground day in and day out at Grand Falls at his brother, M. J. Ayoup's, store. After the latter commenced business there last spring, and when M. J. absconded, his subsequent acts came into the limelight.

In September it was noticed that large quantities of goods coming to the store disappeared within three weeks; and their place on the shelves were lined with empty boxes. Five cases were taken away, three by the ostensible proprietor, and two by the accused. Similar goods were found to be consigned to M. Maroon at Canterbury, though none of the witnesses upon the trial knew of a man by this name. The goods were shipped from Grand Falls by a man giving the name of Wm. Aboud, said to be a brother of K. S. Aboud doing business at the falls.

It is thought that William Aboud was neither a peddler or store keeper. A man named English got the goods after their arrival at the station at Canterbury and took them to his place, four miles distant. The accused took them away from the latter's house later. These goods were worth probably $15,000, a heavy stock for a peddler.

Certain detectives went down to Canterbury and when accused saw them there he got excited and removed some of the goods from English's Canterbury, took some to Mrs. McNeilly's place and asked permission brought some to Jamieson's Hotel, to leave them there. The goods were then taken under an absconding debtor's warrant against M. J. Ayoup, and a considerable portion of them identified by Jacob Shane of Kaplin, Shane & Co., St. John, and by Mr. Nelson, representing J. & N. Murphy of Halifax, as goods sold to them by M. J. Ayoup and not paid for.

After M. J. Ayoup absconded a package of gloves came to his store at the Falls from M. Shorey & Co., of Acton, Ont. by express. They were received and receipted for by M. J.'s clerk, and left in the store. The invoice price was $184. Next afternoon the clerk missed them from the store. Meantime it is said the accused tried to sell them to a man named Hall, a pedlar, offering them first $100 and afterwards at $50. The gloves have not since been found.

The accused was sent up for trial by Police Magistrate Kelly of Grand Falls, and tried under the speedy trials act before Judge Carleton, who found him guilty and sentenced him to imprisonment for ten months in jail and a fine of $800. He is now serving out this sentence at the Andover jail.

Hon. W. P. Jones, who defended asked for and secured a reserve case from Judge Carleton, which is the one now being argued before the full court today.

PROSPECTS POOR.

Stream driving prospects on the Nashwaak and southwest Miramichi River are not as satisfactory as the log owners would wish. There is very little snow in the woods and the streams are low for the time of the year. Mr. R. L. Young, who operates on the Taxis River for the Miramichi Lumber Company, commenced during this week. On the southwest there has been very little work done so far.

CZAR ORDERS DEATH PENALTIES LIMITED

Premier States that Iron Hand is Still Necessary in Parts of Russian Empire.

St. Petersburg, April 14.—(Special) Premier Stolypin, in a speech in the Duma last night, announced that the Emperor had personally ordered that death penalty and administrative measures for the preservation of order should be limited as strictly as possible.

The exceptional measures that it was found necessary to enforce during the revolutionary days have now been relaxed in nearly all parts of the Empire.

The premier referred to the recent tack made by robbers on the treasury at Kizliar, in Ciscausia, when seventeen men were killed including several of the military guard and said that such occurrences as this showed that the iron hand still was necessary in some parts of the country and would be applied rigorously to protect their citizens from bombs and brigandage.

FOLLOWED UP PREMIER TO MURDER HIM

Saint Etienne, France, April 14.—A workman by the name of Duplanil, who was armed with a brace of revolvers and a knife, and declared that he wished to kill Premier Briand, was arrested today as he attempted to force his way into the hotel where the premier is stopping. Duplanil is believed to have been crazed by drinking.

The premier is continuing in this district, the electoral campaign which he opened at St. Chamond Sunday when he encountered unfriendly demonstrations by anarchists and revolutionary groups. Duplanil, it was learned, has been following M. Briand since Sunday when he mingled with the manifestations at St. Cahomd.

ASQUITH READY FOR TEST BELIEVED THERE IS TRUCE

London, April 14.—Premier Asquith's resolution to be proposed next Monday, locating the time for the consideration of the budget, provides that all stages of the legislation must be completed on April 27.

The fate of the government depends upon the attitude of the Irish members. The fact that the premier has decided to dispose of the budget measure before a decision by the Lords in the veto resolutions will have assumed a final form, indicates that a deal has been effected between the cabinet and the Redmondites and that the latter have determined to support the budget.

PLUCKY NEWSBOY'S FEAT BRINGS MOTHER OVERSEAS

Winnipeg, April 14.—(Special) A Roumanian lad of fourteen years, who applied to the superintendent of neglected children today for permission to sell papers told a remarkable story of thrift and perseverance. The boy came here two years ago unable to speak a word of English and since then has mastered the language to a certain extent. He attended school and supported himself, sent ten dollars a month to help support an old mother in Roumania, and has saved $100 required to pay his mother's passage to this country. All this was accomplished through selling newspapers.

ONLY AN "AD" FOR TEDDY RED HAT REPORT COOKED

Rome, April 14.—(Special) The report that the pope had eliminated the names of American candidates from the list of candidates for the cardinalate has been, upon investigation, found to be erroneous. It was authoritatively denied today and the idea that such a step had been taken because Theodore Roosevelt did not visit the Pope, was characterized as ridiculous.

PACIFIC STEAMER HAD CLOSE CALL

The Santa Clara went aground on Table Bluff--Passengers in Peril.

Eureka Calif., April 14.—(Special) Leaning badly, and with fire under two of her boilers extinguished owing to inrush of water, the steamer Santa Clara of the North Pacific line bound from Portland to San Francisco with 61 passengers and 21 sailors is lying a mile off Table Bluff about four miles South of Humboldt Bay. The tug Ranger sent in response to a wireless call stood by all last night with a line to the crippled steamer.

According to the wireless message, the Santa Clara struck heavily in crossing the bar when leaving Eureka.

A tremendous sea was running and the small craft were unable to go from Santa Clara to the Ranger. The Eureka life saving crew was unable to cross the bar. Another attempt was made early today to reach the ship and it is believed several seams opened after she got to sea.

Just before darkness an attempt was made to transfer the passengers. One man fell overboard.

Eureka, Cal., April 14.—Ninety-five persons were rescued from the North Pacific Steamship Company's steamer, Santa Clara, which foundered yesterday. They arrived here today on the tug Ranger. Everybody on the sinking ship was rescued. The Santa Clara sank about four miles down the coast.
