

Alberta's Capital Extends a Hearty Welcome to Sir Wilfrid

Clash of Interests, Farmers for Co-Operation, Retail Merchants Against it--Premier Suggests a General Law of Which all Might Take Advantage--A Cavalcade of Halfbreeds as an Escort--The Most Impressive Scene of the Tour.

Edmonton, Alta., Aug. 9.—It was the most impressive scene of the tour numerically and in the magnificence of midday, Alberta's Provincial welcome at the central corner of the main thoroughfare, where a temporary elevated stand was erected. The street was canopied with streamers, and the business blocks were ablaze with foliage and bunting. Probably fifteen thousand cheering people blocked the streets from every direction, waved greetings from the balconies, and shouted from the roof tops. The music of three bands and the brilliant scarlet uniforms of the Fusiliers and Mounted Police enlivened the mammoth function. Sir Wilfrid's appearance was greeted with a tumult of western enthusiasm. As he took his seat on the platform crowds in every direction cheered and cheered again. The Premier rose, doffing his hat. Suddenly he paused, and, gazing out over the seething mass of humanity, pointed to the upper window of a block diagonally opposite, where a tiny child was seated on the edge, swinging her feet over the thoroughfare below, and anxiously inquired: "Is that little one safe?" Amid all the display and acclaim the Premier's eyes were for the child in danger.

THE NEW EDMONTON

Again, at the close of the proceedings Mayor Lee stepped forward and enthusiastically called for three cheers for Sir Wilfrid Laurier. Hats were in the air when Sir Wilfrid rose, with his hands up, "Nay," he cried, "three cheers for our King." It is such intensely human touches in the busy life of the great Canadian that appeal to the westerner, that have brought him into contact with the heart of his Prime Minister. The Premier visited Edmonton on the occasion of the formation of the Province five years ago and saw a little scrappy town with unpaved streets and wooden buildings. Last night he saw a city of beautiful avenues and crowded metropolitan thoroughfares. Five years ago a modest five thousand people greeted him. Last night five thousand citizens welcomed him at the station and ten thousand more lined the route of the carriage which brought him through the streets.

A BELIEVER IN FREE TRADE.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier has also received a delegation of Indians from the Hobbema Reserve, near Wetaskiwin, introduced by Peter Gunn, M. P., and headed by Chief Sampson. The latter made a presentation of a handsome Indian-made leather purse hung with beads to the Premier, who thanked him graciously for the gift. "I believe in free trade as firmly as I ever did," said the Premier to the visiting farmers. "It is no fault of mine that free trade principles, in which I believe have not been carried into practice. I must ask you to believe that it is not an easy thing to carry into immediate effect, but nevertheless, we have followed the practice of gradually reducing the tariff."

CO-OPERATION

The clash of warring interests and the conflict of economic and social theories rooted in those interests was featured in miniature in the Board of Trade room when the farmers, groping their way to a Socialistic view of Government activity were opposed by the Retail Merchants' Association whose delegation coming immediately after Sir Wilfrid had addressed the farmers in endorsement of the principles of co-operation made a strong appeal for the suppression of co-operation, but in the form in which it was introduced in Parliament last session on the ground that it is, in principle, a subversion of individual initiative, class legislation, and a step in the direction of Socialism. Sir Wilfrid replied by a communication of industrial co-operation going on to state that he could see no reason why there should not be a general law of which all might take advantage and which would give no unfair advantage to any section of the community.

The Premier was accompanied by Premier Sifton, Alberta; Premier Scott, Saskatchewan and T. C. Norris, Liberal leader in Manitoba. At a mammoth night meeting Sir Wilfrid extended a welcome to the new settlers, and urged Edmonton, as the Provincial capital, to lead in the efforts to weld the population to high Canadian ideals.

GREETED BY OLD BOYS.

Sir Wilfrid who delivered ten addresses yesterday, rested at the apartments of E. C. Pardee Manager of the Bank of Montreal and brother of F. F. Pardee, M. P. Meantime the Ontario Old Boys and Edmonton seems full of them—banqueted Messrs. Graham and Pardee while the Maritime Province Old Boys conferred a similar honor on Mr. E. M. Macdonald. All spoke on Canadian unity.

"The Canadian horizon has gradually been passed back," said Mr. Graham "until Edmonton is now on what will become the main highway between Europe and the Orient." He referred to western Canada as the young man's country and spoke of the remarkable opportunities offered to people with brains and energy. With regard to the problem of assimilation of the diverse races that are finding their way to Canada, seeking land and employment Mr. Graham stated that in his opinion, the fact that the population of Canada is becoming a cosmopolitan one will be the strength of the nation.

"You ask," observed Mr. Pardee "for changes in the tariff, and for other things which we perceive to be necessities and all these things will come in time but in making changes the interests of all must be considered."

AN IMPERIAL NOTE

"Any notions that I have heretofore held as to the progress of the west" said Mr. Macdonald "have been totally shattered by this new experience." He added that one need of the western Provinces whose satisfaction should be the highest glory of the people of the Dominion should be the interests and ideals of ennobled Canadianism.

"Why should the east be antagonistic to the west and why should the west be antagonistic to the east?" he queried. There should be no conflict of interests. By guarding against sectionalism Canada might be built up four-square against the world. A strong Imperial note was struck by Mr. Macdonald in his reference to the Dominion's destiny. Canada, twenty-five years hence to be a nation of twenty-five million people, would become a dominating factor in the Empire's progress. The time was approaching when Canada, Australia, and South Africa should cast off their swaddling-clothes and should be called upon to take some part in the shaping of the world's policy. The time had arrived for the birth of a new Imperialism, the Imperialism of equal nations as equal partners in a world-State.

CAVALCADE OF HALF-BREEDS

A feature of the morning parade was a cavalcade of half-breeds who escorted the Premier. Four hundred footed from points as wide apart as Athabasca Landing and Wetaskiwin—from Wabamun and from Pagan—at Lac Ste. Anne, and marched in to greet and accompany Sir Wilfrid. They came on their own horses.

The Premier attended a civic luncheon where he was informed that Edmonton's beautiful new playground had been christened "Laurier Park" in his honor. "My friends and my foes—most my foes"—he said smiling, "have sometimes declared that I was born under a lucky star. I have never denied the soft impeachment. It is he true, I hope my name may bring luck to your park and to your city."

STILL TARIFF REDUCTION

Subsequently he met the United Farmers' Association, who renewed requests for tariff reduction and Pacific coast terminal elevators. Then he drove through wheat fields now beginning to turn yellow, to the French-Canadian settlement of St. Albert, where he spoke in French to his compatriots gathered from a district extending over seventy miles. On the civic drive he was accompanied by Lieutenant-Governor Bulyea, Premier Sifton, Hon. Frank Oliver ex-Premier Rutherford and Mayor Lee. During the afternoon the press correspondents were entertained and aided by the Board of Trade and the Press ad, ththth ththt thththththth Press Club.

KENT COUNTY HAS TO PAY LICENSE COMEDY

Commissioners Refuse to Make Change as Ordered by Provincial Secretary.

(Richibucto Review.)

The curtain has lifted on the second act of the Kent County liquor license comedy. When the three license commissioners, appointed by the late government, were dismissed for no other reason than that they were Liberals, and three good Tories appointed to the board, it was expected that everything in connection with the matter of liquor licenses would be arranged to the satisfaction of the provincial government party in this county. But: "The best laid schemes o' mice an' men gang aft agley."

When the question of cutting out one of the licenses in Rexton came before the board, the new commissioners, on the exercise of their good judgment, saw fit to sacrifice a publican of their own political complexion and then the trouble began. The provincial secretary was called into the county to settle the matter and incidentally to read the commissioners a lecture as to their duties in general and in regard to the Rexton licenses in particular. It was charged that the chairman of the board had been instrumental in having this particular license cancelled, and the reason given for his action was that the licensee had taken a prominent part against him in the late municipal election. To this charge the chairman pointed out that he had taken no part whatever in the matter; that the motion to cancel the license had been moved and seconded respectively by the two other members of the board. Thereupon it was suggested that the seconder of the motion had been misled through a similarity in the names of the applicants. The upshot of the inquiry was that the commissioners were ordered to meet again and rectify the mistake; they met, but refused to make any change, and as a consequence, the government has cancelled the Rexton license. The next move will be awaited with interest. Meanwhile, the applicant who was refused license by the board has been permitted to sell liquor without license.

An exchange says: "The United States is not the only country in which deaths from automobiles are very numerous. In Germany, during the year ending September 30, 1909, 194 persons were killed and 2,945 injured by being hit by automobiles. Carelessness, both on the part of the driver and the pedestrian, seems to be world-wide.

The most sunny bedroom of the house should have the windows opening easily at the top and bottom, a contrivance to stop the windows rattling, and the hinges and locks of doors oiled; then the sanatorium is always ready.
