CHIEF JUSTICE BARKER'S FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY

Pleasant Incident at Opening of June Term of Supreme Court--Tribute to Late King.

The first regular term of the Supreme Court on appeal, since the Judicature Act came into force, was opened in the Supreme Court chamber at eleven o'clock this morning. All of the judges were present and there was a good attendance of barristers.

THE KING'S DEATH

Before taking up the regular business Chief Justice Barker made the following reference to the death of the late King:

"Since the court held its last sitting, another of Britain's Wings has been called away by the Great Ruler of all, by whom Kings reign and Princes decree justice. Only a few years have passed since we were called upon to place on the records of this court an expression of our deep regret at the death of Her late Majesty Queen Victoria. During her long reign she had won all hearts by her kind and Christian character, and by her queenly dignity. She passed away 'beloved at home, revered abroad.' But nine years have gone since, on her death, we took the oath of allegiance to her successor King Edward VII., and now we have to open the book again and write in it how deeply in common with all his subjects we mourn the loss of our late Sovereign, whose sudden death brought a feeling of deep sorrow to those who were his subjects and of genuine regret to the civilized world. He never failed as a ruler to observe with strictness the limitations set by the constitution to his authority. As the fountain of all justice, he gave his influence in favor of the settlement of all national disputes by pacific arbitration. He took an active and intelligent interest in all public questions involving the welfare of his own people, and his intimate knowledge as to the more complicated questions arising out of international relations enabled him to apply with effect his diplomatic skill in the interests of that love of peace which formed so prominent a trait in his character.

"The late King came especially near to many of his subjects by his love of manly sport, to many others by his practical interest in agricultural and industrial pursuits, but to all alike by the moral and material support which he cordially gave to every movement of a philanthropic character, and so it was that when on the 20th of May last the minute guns through the Kingdom and its dominions beyond the seas, told to a mourning people, that the remains of their late King were going to their resting place, they realized that the legend 'The King never dies,' was but a legal fiction.

"To his successor King George V. we give a willing and loyal allegiance. There is every reason for believing that he will in the discharge of the duties and responsibilities of his exalted position, maintain the best traditions of His Royal House. We can now and ever join in the time honored words:

"Send Him victorious,
Happy and glorious,
Long to reign over us
God Save the King."

Proceeding with the business before the court the following common motions were made:

Giberson vs. Toronto Company—T. J. Carter moved for rule nisi to set aside a notice of motion setting case down for appeal. Refused.

In re winding up proceedings of H. H. Drysdale, Guthrie moved to make order of Justice McLeod rule of court considers.

A PLEASING INCIDENT

At the conclusion of the regular business Mr. J. D. Phinney, K. C., addressing the court stated that he had learned during the forenoon that it was the fiftieth anniversary of the admission of the Chief Justice to the bar of the province. It was felt that the occasion should not be allowed to pass without some recognition and on behalf of the members of the Bar he had pleasure in extending hearty congratulations to His Honor. He spoke of the kindly relations which had ever characterized His Honor's relations with the bar, and complimented him on the successful way in which he had administered the court since his elevation to the high office of Chief Justice.

The Chief Justice in reply said that he greatly appreciated the kindly remarks of Mr. Phinney. Looking back over the long period of fifty years, which had elapsed since his admission to the bar, he was impressed with the fact that he had always received the greatest kindness from the members of the bar and he trusted the same pleasant relations would continue to exist. He wished through Mr. Phinney to convey his hearty thanks to the bar of the province for their congratulations and good wishes.

There being no further business the court adjourned until tomorrow morning.

Mr. J. A. Young, M. P. P., of Taymouth, is at the Queen.

GUY S. MILES OF ST. MARY'S KILLED BY FALLING TREE

Well-Known Young Man Son of Mr. George A. Miles Met Death at His Home Last Evening--Furious Gale Snapped Off Huge Maple Tree which Crushed Him.

Guy S. Miles son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Miles of St. Mary's met his death within a few yards of his parents' dwelling in last evening's storm. He was struck by a falling tree which the gale in its fury had snapped off ten feet from the ground. His left leg was broken in two places and his skull was crushed. Death ensued within an hour the unfortunate young man never regaining the power of speech and being unconscious from the time he was taken from under the tree.

ACCIDENT AT 8 P.M.

The fatal accident occurred, at about eight o'clock, Mr. George Miles and his son were in the garden a short distance from the house the younger man spading. When the storm came up from the west it was observed by the two. The elder drove the cattle to the barn and remained there. His son afterward stopped work and made his way toward the house. His relatives saw him coming through the orchard but as he neared the dwelling he was hidden from view consequently no one saw the accident.

At first it was thought he had taken refuge from the storm in some of the out buildings. His continued absence caused a search of the premises to be made.

Looking from one of the windows some saw that the big maple tree was down. The mother of the young man at once said, "Guy is under the tree." His sister Miss Belle Miles went out and was horrified to discover on approaching the tree that a hand was moving feebly beneath the branches. Putting her own hand beneath the branches she touched her brother and he convulsively grasped her arm. This was the last sign of consciousness which he gave.

NEIGHBORS ASSISTED

Miss Miles at once summoned the other members of the family who were at home, her mother and father Messrs. Charles Barker and Stanley Chase, neighbors came to the aid of the family. The tree was a large one and it is remarkable that so few persons were able to remove it.

Dr. VanWart was summoned at once but found that the young man was beyond all human aid. Death took place at about nine o'clock.

TREE WAS DECAYED.

It was found on examination that much decayed where the trunk had the tree which had fallen was very snapped off. There was no outward sign however that it was in this dangerous condition

POPULAR YOUNG MAN.

The deceased was thirty-three years of age and unmarried. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Miles of St. Mary's, two brothers, Mr. E. Jack Miles employed with R. Chestnut & Sons of this city and Mr. James A. Miles of the Transcontinental Railway, both of St. Mary's, and three sisters, Miss Belle Miles and Miss Pauline Miles, stenographer for R. Chestnut & Sons living at home, and Mrs. B. D. Branscombe of Wynyard, Sask. The deceased was a member of the Baptist church at Gibson. He had followed farming and dairying as an occupation.

The family which has been bereaved in a manner so sudden has the sympathy of the entire community. The young man who has been cut off in his prime was admired and respected by all and has a large circle of intimate friends. His father, Mr. George A. Miles is one of the best-known men of this section of the province and the blow which has fallen upon him will cause a feeling of sorrow on the part of all.

FUNERAL TOMORROW

The funeral will be held tomorrow, at 2.30 p.m. Interment will be made at the Miles family plot, Gibson.

Mr. J. P. Edwards, of Londonderry, N. S., is in the city.
