PACKEY McFARLAND FAILED TO PUT FREDDIE WELSH OUT

Bout Was Draw After Twenty Fast Rounds—American Boxer Throws Some Hot Air About British Pugilists.

London, May 30.—Packey McFarland, of Chicago and Freddie Welsh, the British lightweight champion, fought a 20-round draw tonight before the National Sporting Club. The fight was for a purse of $6,500, and a side bet of $1,000.

McFarland had much the better of the bout. He led all the way, knocking his opponent against the ropes repeatedly and forcing the referee to intervene. The verdict of the referee was received with much hostility. Welsh was the favorite at the opening of the contest at 7 to 4, but before the fight was half over the sympathy of the crowd was wholly with the American.

McFarland before the fight expounded atheism which explained why the average English pugilist can't fight for cold beans.

"They don't get enough to eat, and they are slow thinkers," says the pride of the Chicago stockyard. "Take the little fellows in my class. They don't live; they just worry along. They come from the poorest class. A bit of fish is a feast for them, and asweet pudding is a luxury.

"The only good fighters in England aren't Englishmen at all, but Welshmen. Take Jem Driscoll, Freddie Welsh and Owen Moran. All good men over here wouldn't be permitted to fight in a battle royal in America. McFarland did his training at Jack Straw's castle inn, in Hampstead Heath. Jem Mace trained here when he was in his prime. Packey is a puzzle to the English. The presence of a lord or some other titled dignitary about the training quarters doesn't impress the little stockyard scrapper in the least.

Packey had Jimmy Britt and Sam Harris for training and sparring partners. He has met Welsh before getting the decision in ten rounds, and the second battle was a 25 round draw. The boys met before the National Sporting Club and every seat was sold for the fight.

JACK MUNROE DISCOVERS NEW DISTANCE RUNNER

Jack Munroe, miser, pugilist, wrestler, and now mayor of Elk Lake, declares he has unearthed a world beater in the way of a runner. The name of the new one is Silas Gibson and he can lick anything on two legs in the Silver country, now according to Munroe, and with a couple of years training will be able to beat anything on this sphere. Munroe claims that Gibson has run a mile on the sandy road at Gowganda better than the Canadian record and some of his long distance feats are more remarkable.

On one occasion he is said to have left Elk Lake for Gowganda early in the morning and at 11.30 telephoned Munroe from Gowganda, took a run of twelve miles further to Elk Horn Lake and was back to see the mayor after having supper and a bath at 7.30 p.m., covering during the day some eighty-two miles. He had nothing to eat during the day but two apples and some nuts.

Gibson intends to follow up the running game and will be heard from this season.

Judge Lee and Genteel H. are both winning over in Austria.

More than 60 mares have been booked to Audubon Boy, 1:59½.

Geers will ship north from Memphis about the middle of June.

El Volante, 2:13½, is dead. He was a son of Zombro, and $30,000 was recently refused for him.

MT. ALLISON 4, ST. JOSEPH'S 3

Sackville, May 31.—Yesterday afternoon for the first time in the history of the athletic relations between the colleges, the Mount Allison baseballists defeated St. Joseph's. The score was 4 to 3 and the game was won in the ninth inning, after two men had been retired.

BASEBALL NOTES

Jo-Jo Keenan is managing the Bloomington team of the Three I. League and has the outfit in second place.

Where will Newark land without McGinnity? The Iron Man has gone home to Newark to have a sore arm treated.

"Candy George" Lachance, formerly an Eastern League first baseman, has been given an umpire's job by the Connecticut State League.

These are off days for the paragraders. Rube Waddell is in the hospital, Larry McLean on the water wagon, and Bugs Raymond securely chained to the straight and narrow. Diamond performers who do nothing but play baseball afford little food for the jester.

Arlie Latham retains his speed, but his arm has never recovered its pristine force. His throwing reminds one of an old maid socking a stone at a White Leghorn. Lath's memory is very good. He can always remember how many are out.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Manager McGuire of the Cleveland Club, has signed Pitcher Ed. Dermott of the Lafayette College team. Dermott is a right-handed and a spit ball expert. He will not join the Clevelanders until fall, having promised to play for a club in the mountains this summer after he graduates.

Manager McGraw has unconditionally released Jack Weimer, who has been with the New York Club since August, 1908. Weimer only pitched part of one game for the Giants. McGraw wanted to send him to Montreal, but Weimer refused to do so, saying that he would quit the game rather than play in the Eastern League.

New York American:—Stallings has a mighty fine pair of backstops in Lou Criger and Ed. Sweeney. Old Lou pitched Block off second in the third and the eighth. As both were picked off when Chicago had second and first occupied and none out, this heady work doubtless saved the game.

New York American:—Blackburn played a very nifty game at short for the White Sox. The Chicago scribes declare that the youngster showed more confidence in his work than ever before this season. Duffy declares the Providence phenom is just rounding to form after a bad setback during spring training. The Beef Town writers are of the opinion that Blackburn has been suffering from the effects of extravagant advertising.

Archer is putting up a game that is making Chicago fans forget all about Johnny Kling. Jimmy is not only back-stopping well and throwing unerringly to bases, but his stick work is featuring many of the games in which the Cubs take part.

A three-year-old Gambetta Wilkes pacer has shown better than 2:15 at Lexington.

Armored, 2:07½, has a filly at foot by Aquilin, 2:19½, and has been bred to Toddestill.

SMALL BOY FOILS SAFE BLOWERS IN BROADWAY STORE

Lad Hears Blast in Afternoon at 37th Street and Quickly Fetches Police—Burglars Get Away Empty.

New York, May 30.—A small boy frustrated a daring attempt in daylight, the second within six months, to blow open and rob the safe of the Regal shoe store at the southwest corner of Broadway and Thirty-seventh street late yesterday afternoon. The safe held $5,000, largely the proceeds of Saturday's business. Whereas the robbers the other time got away with $4,000, not a cent was removed yesterday.

The boy ran up to Policemen Heap and Lynch as they stood at Thirty-eighth street and Broadway and told them he had heard a shot inside the Regal store and thought some one had committed suicide there.

Heap and Lynch hurried to the store and looked through the front windows. The place was full of smoke. Finding the front door locked, the two policemen went into Thirty-seventh street and tried the side door, which leads to offices on the upper floors of the Regal building and to the rear of the store. They found that way barred too.

POLICE ENTER BY REAR DOOR.

While one policeman kept watch, the other summoned Capt. O'Brien from the West Thirtieth street station. As they debated what to do, Lucius J. Lanier, assistant manager of the store, arrived to switch on the lights for the night advertising display. Finding he could not unlock the front door with his key he entered the side door, followed into the hallway by the captain and policeman.

The rear of the Regal store is protected by two doors, one of wood, the other of iron, opening into the Thirty-seventh street hallway. The former of these had been pried open with a jimmy and the other had been broken with a sledge hammer. Entering the store, Lanier and his companions found that a hole had been drilled in the safe and filled with nitro-glycerine, which had been set off with a five-minutes' time fuse. The safe was not open. Instead, the bolts had been bent and the door jammed in to such an extent by the explosion that only an expert can now open it.

The police believe the man or men who made the attempt to rob the safe lurked about in the vicinity of the store after setting off the explosive, expecting to return and get the money in the safe if nobody heard the blast. What strengthened this theory was the finding in the store of a sledge hammer, two jimmies, a can of nitro-glycerine and the time fuse. They also believe that somebody who had a key to the side door of the Regal building was concerned in the attempt, and the front door had not been opened, although its lock had been tampered with.

Inspector McClusky was busy on the case last night, assisted by Detectives Hynes and Hughes from the Central Office and others.

When the safe in the same store was robbed some months ago, the police found the scuttle of the Regal building open, but yesterday there was no sign that this scuttle had afforded an entrance.

N. S. FARM LANDS RISE IN VALUES

The Acquisition of the Dominion Atlantic Road by the C. P. R. Said to be Responsible for an Inflation in Prices.

(Montreal Herald.)

Farm lands in the beautiful Annapolis Valley, Nova Scotia, have increased twenty per cent. in value since the acquisition of the Dominion Atlantic Railway by the Canadian Pacific.

This statement is made on the authority of Mr. J. W. Bigelow, former president of the Nova Scotia Horticultural Association, who is regarded as one of the best authorities on the cultivation and marketing of apples in the province.

Under its old proprietary the Dominion Atlantic was unprogressive, and its methods of handling business retarded the development of the district, but Mr. Bigelow says the C. P. R. will change all that. This year's apple crop in the Annapolis Valley is estimated at a million bushels, and it is expected that in a few years' time it will reach two millions.

Some of the officials of the Dominion Atlantic who have been at Canadian headquarters this week conferring with the management say that already, in view of the changed policy, the auxiliary services are being improved. The steamers, for instance, running between Yarmouth and Boston, which last year carried 60,000 passengers, are increasing the berthing accommodation, and making other preparations for a greatly increased traffic.
