Mr. Charles M. Lawson, of St. John, at present principal of the Sussex High School, has been appointed classical instructor at the Fredericton High School. The appointment was made at a special meeting of the board of school trustees held last night.

Mr. Lawson will come to Fredericton with high recommendations. He was graduated from the University of New Brunswick in 1903 with honors in classics. He taught at the Rothery College for Boys and afterward went to Alberta where he taught for some time. On his return to New Brunswick he became principal of the Sussex High School and held the position for two years. Mr. Lawson is well known in Fredericton.

LAST NIGHT'S MEETING

The adjourned meeting of the School Board was held last evening with Mr. Sharkey presiding in the absence of Dr. Atherton. Among the other trustees present were Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Lynch, Mr. Sterling, Dr. Vanwart, Ald. Weddall, Mr. Spurdun and the secretary. The chief business under consideration was the appointment of a teacher for the classical department of the High School. Since the promotion of Mr. A. Stirling McFarlane to the Normal School staff this important department has been in charge of Miss Edith A. R. Davis. Several applicants were available including W. T. Dunham, of Sackville, W. H. Morrow of St. Andrews, W. J. Shea of St. John, Mr. John B. DeLong of the Hampton Consolidated school was also an applicant, but the Hampton school board increased his salary and thus retained his services. It was thought that Mr. Good of the science department might be transferred to the classic department, and in that event Mr. G. N. Belyea was ready to accept position of science instructor. However, after a careful study of the available teachers, Mr. Charles M. Lawson was chosen to fill the vacancy on the High School staff.

When completed it is expected the building will cost thirty thousand dollars.

B. GENEVIEVE BAIRD WELL RECEIVED LAST NIGHT

A fairly large audience saw Miss B. Genevieve Baird and her company in "A Romance in Bohemia" at the opera house last night. The company deserved better patronage than it received and it is likely that the attendance this evening when Miss Baird will be seen in three one-act plays, will be much larger.

Last evening in the part of Elsa Merton, the young artist. Miss Baird was given numerous opportunities to display her talents as an emotional actress. She received strong support from the others in the cast. As Ned Linton, a young business man, Mr. Gerald Rowan took his part in a way that left nothing to be desired. As the old artist, Daniel Scott, Mr. W. A. Trewayne gave a fine representation of the middle-aged man whose love killed in his youth is awakened in later years. Miss Anne Caird as Melia the maid-of-all-work supplied the necessary touch of comedy and Miss Anne Huber as Mildred Wharton, was the society butterfly to perfection.

The specialties between the acts by Miss Caird and Mr. Rowan were excellent and well received.

INSPECTED ROUTE OF PROPOSED RAILWAY

Surveyor General Grimmer and Others Back from Auto Trip—Meductic Falls Good Site for Pulp Mill.

A party composed of Surveyor General Grimmer, A. R. Slipp, M.P. P.; C. Fred Chestnut, F. B. Edgecombe, W. S. Tompkins, David Maxwell, C. E., and James M. Scott, have returned from an automobile trip to Woodstock and Houlton. They made the journey in motor cars driven by Charles H. Edgecombe and William Vaughan, and, although the roads were not conducive to speed and comfort, it proved a very pleasant and enjoyable outing.

On the way up river the party stopped and made an inspection of Meductic Falls, which is considered to be one of the finest water powers in the province, and an admirable location for a pulp and paper mill. They dined at Mr. Tompkins' home at Meductic, afterwards proceeding to Woodstock and thence to Houlton. At the latter place they had a conference with several American capitalists interested in the pulp and paper business, who promised to send a representative to Meductic to inspect the falls and investigate the pulpwood possibilities of the locality.

The return trip to Fredericton was made by way of the eastern side of the river, through the beautiful parishes of Northampton, Southampton and Queensbury. In the last named parish according to one member of the party, the finest roads seen on the trip, were encountered. At Lamt's Ferry, the autos were placed on the ferry boat and transported to the Kingsclear side of the river by which the party returned to the city.

All arrangements for the trip were made by Mr. W. S. Tompkins, of Meductic, who has done much, through the public press and in other ways, to stir up an interest in the Valley Railway project.

and others are expected. A class dinner tomorrow dinner tomorrow will probably be a feature of the re-union.

The inter-class track meet, to be held this afternoon, was postponed on account of the unfavorable weather. The weather, however, will not interfere with the Engineers' dance, to be given in the college gymnasium this evening. A programme of eighteen dances and three extras has been arranged, and it is expected that the dance, like those of other years, will prove an unqualified success.

Mr. O. E. Morehouse, of Upper Kewask, is in the city.
