•Mr. R. W. Hobson, late deputy commissioner in the Chinese service, was the next speaker. He loved the missionary movement, he said, be cause he believed it was the work of God. The money side of the move-ment was not the most important. The movement was a great source of spiritual life. It benefited everything and everyone it touched. Altho 'gh he had lived the greater part of his life among heathen he had npt recognized the importance of missions until in fluenced by the Laymen's Missionary Movement.
