I. O. F. High Court Listens to Encouraging Report of H.C.R.

Pays Tribute to Late Dr. Alec. McRae, Recommends Biennial or Triennial Sessions--Financial Standing of the Order is Most Satisfactory, and the Investments are Bringing Very Substantial Revenue--Membership of Order Increasing Rapidly.

Chatham, N.B., Aug. 30--The meeting of the High Court I.O.F. opened this afternoon at the town hall with a business session. There are 225 delegates in attendance. H. C. Ranger G. W. Mersereau presided. After the opening ceremonies the usual committees were appointed.

W. S. Lewin high secretary of Maine was introduced and addressed the court.

Fifty new delegates received the high court degree. Past H. C. R. Lingley officiated at the secret work.

The chief ranger then read his address. He then announced that the Supreme C. R. Elliott G. Stevenson would not be able to be present and also that Supreme Vice C.R. J. W. Clarke, of Dayton, Ohio, would visit the court during the session.

TRIBUTE TO THE LATE DR. MACRAE

The chief ranger also referred to the death of the late A. W. MacRae. He referred to the late Mr. MacRae's high position in the order, his great services to the order, his ability and promising future. He referred to the sadness of his unexpected death, and of the ending of a promising career.

He also referred to the conferring of the honor of merit on D. G. Lingley, past H. C. R., which took place at Welsford a few days ago. The high chief ranger then made his report to the distribution committee. While this was going forward, a number of the members addressed the court, including Judge M. M. Cockburn, Dr. J. W. Daniel, M.P.; Rev. B. H. Thomas of Dorchester, and E. A. McKay of Fredericton.

At this stage the supreme vice-C. R. arrived and was received with full supreme court honors. The meeting then adjourned to convene at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning.

THE PROCEEDINGS

A public meeting was held at the Opera House tonight. The visiting delegates and the members of Court Brunswick met at the town hall to the number of 300 and paraded to the Opera House, led by High Messenger P.C. Johnson, on horseback, and headed by the Citizens' Band. The meeting was addressed by Supreme Vice-C. R. Clarke and others.

HIGH CHIEF RANGER'S REPORT.

The high chief ranger, George W. Mersereau in the course of his address after welcoming the delegates said:

"During the year, we, in common with other loyal subjects have been called to mourn the death of our late beloved sovereign The Peacemaker, King Edward VII. During his short reign of less than ten years he won the universal respect and esteem of his subjects by the undoubted ability he displayed and their devotion and love by his complete self-abnegation to the duties of his high position. We must all have felt a sense of heavy personal loss at his decease and that his sudden withdrawal from active participation in affairs of state at that particular time was the greatest calamity that could befall our Empire."

He referred briefly to the succession of King George V. to the throne of England and the good work that he had already done and had under contemplation. He then went on to some length to tell the state that the Foresters' order was in at present.

WELL INVESTED.

"It must be a matter of pride to every Forester that our accumulated funds on the first of this month reached the enormous sum of $15,746-105.76. This amount is so invested that every dollar of it is worth a dollar in gold and is bringing us a substantial revenue. Accumulation, however, has not been the only or chief aim of the members of our supreme executive. They have shown themselves awake to every opportunity for exercising benevolence, as instance, I need only mention the emergency hospital at Colalt for afflicted Foresters during the typhoid epidemic; the steps taken towards founding a tuberculosis sanatorium at Rainbow Lake in the Adirondacks; the giving aid to the support of the helpless orphans of our deceased brothers throughout the supreme court jurisdiction; providing temporary relief to our brothers ruined by the Campbellton fire; and many other charitable and fraternal acts which if recited in detail would meet with your warmest approbation and make your hearts glow with pride that you are identified with such an organization and are thus able to participate in its benefactions.

"The membership of the order has increased considerably during the past year. Take the month of June as a sample. The medical board reviewed 2,458 medical examination papers during that month, of these 262 were rejected and 2,196 accepted. This goes on from month to month throughout the year. Last year our order issued more policies than were issued by five of the leading Canadian insurance companies. This year we have done even better, and the outlook is most promising that we shall increase more and more rapidly as time goes on, and our order becomes better known among the masses."

"This order is not a money maker purely, but has become the greatest fraternal organization of this country."

He then went on to review the work of the order in the province of New Brunswick. He greatly praised the work of the officers.

"I am pleased to report that arrangements have been made with the supreme court whereby three additional deputies shall be employed in this province for the future if such can be engaged on a part salary-part commission basis. The cost to the high court will not be greatly increased and the extension work made much more effective. If the cost be increased it will be the result of a largely increased membership and thus to the advantage of this high court."

THE ORPHANS.

He stated that although no one enjoyed the annual meetings of the high court more than he, yet he thought the money could be spent to greater advantage by the institution of a series of biennial or even triennial meetings. In speaking of their orphans he mentioned the new method of caring for the same, by the use of the orphanage fund for their advantage and stated that they had now twenty orphans so cared for in addition to the nine at their home at Deseronto.

He then gave a brief summary of what had been done for the Campbellton fire sufferers, and concluded with a reference to the large number of members who had died during the past year.

"You will see by the reports of the high secretary and high treasurer that financially this high court has prospered during the year. All liabilities have been met and there still remains a large sum in the treasury to go towards paying the expenses of this meeting which is estimated as an unusually expensive one. I invite your closest scrutiny of these reports in the interest of the order."

Your high standing committee had fully intended to have a booth at the St. John exhibition but failed to get a satisfactory place allotted. All that could be given was space for a tent on the grounds, and according to Brother Todd, this was not in a desirable locality. We do not own a tent, and the supreme court's tents were in use elsewhere. We therefore decided to abandon this means of advertising our order.

VALEDICTORY.

And now, companions and brethren, it becomes my duty to give back to your hands the trust you honored me with nearly two years and a half ago, and renewed last year. No one knows better than I, or realizes more keenly, how far short I have fallen of being a good high chief ranger. I can only plead lack of time and want of ability. I yield to no member in my profound belief in the order and in my sincere desire to serve it in any capacity. These last two years have been difficult years and a time of stress and trial in our history. There has been a cleaning of the Augean Stables and other Herculean labors. After this time of preparation there should be on advance all along the line. I stand ready to help that advance by any means in my power. Let us all stand firmly together, shoulder to shoulder, under the guidance of my successor. Let us neglect no fair chance of advancing the claims of our beloved order, and we can double our membership in the next decade."

NEW CHILIAN SHIPS LIKELY BUILT IN BRITAIN

London, Aug. 31--American and continental ship builders who expected to compete for the construction of the new Chilean warships probably have been frozen out. The plans have been drawn up by Sir Phillip Watts, chief naval constructor of the British Navy and specify that the guns and certain machinery must be of English design and manufacture. It is believed that the terms of the recent Chilean loan which was floated by the Rothschilds stipulated the advantage to British builders.
