OLD COUNTRY'S TRIBUTE TO LATE GOVERNOR FRASER

Rev. John Kerr, of Dirlerton, East Lothian, Scotland, writes to the Morning Chronicle of Halifax:

"The announcement of the death of the Hon. Duncan Cameron Fraser, the venerated Lieutenant Governor of Nova Scotia, caused much grief in this country and more especially among curlers who had the pleasure of meeting him when he captained the team from Canada which visited Scotland in the early part of last year.

"I shall esteem it a favor if you reproduce in your valued journal the paragraph here enclosed which was contributed to The Scotsman of Sept 30 by me on receipt of the news of his death, and which expresses what I know to be the general regret felt in the Mother Country at the unexpected demise of one who was beloved by all who knew him. Through the kindness of Mr. St. Clair Silver and Mr. Paterson, who were members of the Canadian Team, I have received copies of 'The Morning Chronicle' of Sept. 28, containing numerous tributes to the memory of the good governor and I should like this from the Home Country to be added to the number.

"During his visit the captain and several of his team, including also Miss Silver, spent a week-end at the Manse and I am sure my family will never forget him, for with all his gifts as a public man I believe that in the home circle he was seen at his best, and the tender way in which he spoke of his own wife and family makes one feel how bitter their bereavement must be."

THE LATE GOVERNOR FRASER, OF NOVA SCOTIA.

(From the Scotsman)

Curlers throughout Scotland will hear with much regret of the death of the Hon. Duncan Cameron Fraser, LL. D., Lieutenant-Governor of Nova Scotia, who acted as captain of the team of Canadian Curlers which visited Scotland in the early part of last year and met with so much success against the curlers of the home country. Colonel Stevenson, of Montreal, who was to act as captain, having been disabled by an accident just before the team started on its trip at the last moment, Governor Fraser, at the urgent request of the High Commissioner of Canada, Lord Strathcona, took his place. This was fortunate for the team, for, apart from the games played, the eloquence of the Canadian captain at the various social functions which the team attended, contributed much to the success of the tour. Beginning with the great national banquet in the Music Hall on January 20, 1909, at which Lord Strathcona, as president of the Royal Caledonian Club, was chairman onward to the entertainment of the Glasgow Corporation, at which Lord Provost McInnes Shaw presided, Governor Fraser, delivered a series of eloquent speeches, which charmed all who listened to them, and did much to bring about the closer fellowship of the great Dominion and the mother country, which was the chief object of the tour. At Inverness, when his foot was on his native heath for his forbears lived at Cullachy, near Bobbaine, in Kiltarlity, the captain's Celtic fervour reached a climax and set the whole Highland gathering aglow with enthusiasm. There and indeed, at every place he visited, Governor Fraser's manly form and eloquent oratory will long be remembered. The farewell words written in the name of the team by their captain as they were leaving Liverpool on February 26, and addressed to Mr. Davidson Smith, C. A., secretary of the Royal Club, have additional pathos now that their writer is dead:—"The Canadian Curlers on their departure for Canada desire to place on record their sense of gratitude for the kindness, hospitality, and liberality bestowed upon them by the Royal Caledonian Club during their visit to Scotland. The labor, the arrangements and the generosity shown have all made a deep impression on us. Nothing could have exceeded the perfect character of the tour laid down, and the manner of its execution. To yourself, Provost Gordon, the Rev. Mr. Kerr, and those associated with you in the work of arrangement, our united thanks are due. We trust the visit will not be without interest and profit to the Royal Caledonian Club and we can assure you that whenever you return our visit we shall do our best to imitate as far as we can your generous hospitality and unstinted liberality.—D. C. Fraser, captain Canadian team."

LIVELY DEBATE IN ALBERTA HOUSE

Former New Brunswickers Discuss
Address in Reply to Speech From Throne.

Edmonton, Alta., Nov. 18.—The greater part of this afternoon's session of the legislature was spent in the debate on the speech from the throne. Before the debate commenced Mr. R. B. Bennett gave notice of motion asking that all correspondence regarding the calling of Mr. Sifton to the Premiership to be placed on the table. Otherwise the session was without special feature.

The Alberta & Great Waterways Railway did not enter into the discussion in any way. Attorney-General Mitchell predicted that the session would last six weeks or even longer, and that there was plenty of time to announce the government's intentions later.

Mr. Stewart of Sedgewick moved the reply to the speech, Mr. McArthur of Gleichen seconding in a maiden speech.

Mr. E. M. Michener, the new leader of the Opposition, replied, followed by Mr. R. B. Bennett, the former leader of the Opposition.

Mr. Michener deplored the fact that the agricultural interests of the province were apparently being neglected and said there were four things the government should do: open up roads and bridges; regulate the stock and agricultural markets; help the needy incoming settlers by government loans, and institute at least five land titles registration districts.

Premier Sifton, in reply, stated it was strange to see a member elected as an Independent now leading the Opposition. His only reference to his policy was the statement, "What we will do will speak for itself when done."

Mr. Bennett followed with a bitter attack on the Premier. He said Mr. Sifton gave as a reason for accepting the Premiership that the Lieutenant-Governor had called upon him, but he (Mr. Bennett) could give better reasons. In fact, he said, there were twenty thousand of them, and every one worth one hundred cents on the dollar.

Attorney General Mitchell replied that there were no ulterior motives actuating the Premier in accepting, and that the policies of the government could not be made in a minute but would be announced in due time.

Mr. H. W. Woods, M. P. P., of Welsford, is among the visitors to the city today.

OLD PROSPECTOR TELLS HIS STORY

His Real Troubles Started When Rheumatism Got Him

Plasters, Ointments and Sulphur were Alike
Useless, but Dodd's Kidney Pills Made a
New Man of Him.

Princeton, B. C., Nov. 18.—(Special.)—All over Canada people are telling of the great work Dodd's Kidney Pills are doing, and even in the rocky mountain fastness where nature hides her mines men are telling of cures made and suffering relieved by the great Canadian Kidney remedy. Wm. Murray, sixty-six years old, who has tramped the frontier as lumber jack, rancher, prospector, miner, hunter and trapper, and who has friends all over the west, is one of these. Many a tale of hardship and danger he can tell, but his first real trouble came when Rheumatism claimed him.

"I slipped on the mountain side, and strained my kidneys and then my troubles all seemed to set in at once. I had nearly all the symptoms of Lumbago, Sciatica, Neuralgia, Diabetes, Dropsy and Bright's Disease," Mr. Murray states.

"Then I broke out in a terrible rash that spread all over my body and kept me in tortures. I tried all sorts of liniments and ointments and took sulphur enough to start a little haze of my own. But it was all of no use. Then I tried Dodd's Kidney Pills, and all I can say is they made a new man of me."

The decision of all medical experts at home or abroad, meaning thereby such as have especially made a study of the effects of alcohol on the human body in health or disease is that alcohol is a poison in any form, in any quantity, at any time, under any condition, in health or disease, either as a beverage or as a medicine. This view practically eliminates alcohol in any relation to the human economy. Sir Victor Horsley, F. R. C. S., the celebrated neurologist and surgeon of London, England, sums up the whole situation in a few words: "One conclusion emerges from the recent investigation of the whole alcohol question, namely, that it is quite impossible to state that any given minimum amount of the drug is harmless to our tissues," and we may add, this statement holds good either in health or disease.

Alcohol is a protoplasmic poison. "The organism is not an individual but a social mechanism, always bringing us at last to cells.—Virchow.

The most remarkable evidence of the increasing abuse of alcohol in disease is found in the "records of supplies" in the London Metropolitan Hospitals. In the comparative consumption of spirits, wines and malt liquors in a period of fifty years the liquor bill is three times less and the milk bill three times more. There has been a steady decrease and increase in these particulars and it is more marked every year along the lines of economy and medical practice. In Europe and this country there are special hospitals known as "temperance hospitals" in which alcohol is not used at all. In the London County Asylum the comparative consumption and decrease in the use of spirits, wine and beer is remarkable in a period dating from 1889 to 1905 and 1906. In 1889 the amount of spirits and wine consumed was 1,902 gallons; in 1905 and 1906, 205 gallons. Beer consumed in 1889, 255,486 gallons; in 1905 and 1906, 1,281 gallons. From these facts there can be no doubt as a universal, worldwide fact that the hospitals of the world (for the fact applies in a measure to all civilized countries) are eliminating alcohol as a remedy in medical practice; and hospital practice regulates as a rule, and determines general medical practice.

Whether we consider alcohol as a drug to be used in medicine or as a beverage in daily life, we can only say of it after a consideration of the highest scientific and medical expert testimony in all centres of civilization, that it has no place in the human economy as a drug or beverage in disease or health; that its action, "is evil and only evil and that continually."
