Give your servants GOLD DUST to clean with, treat them rightly and you will have few occasions to insert a "help wanted" ad

They say a good workman is known by his tools. You cannot expect your maid to keep everything ship-shape unless you give her every modern help.

To keep house without GOLD DUST is to do work by hard, old-fashioned methods. For cleaning everything and anything about the house—from cellar to attic—GOLD DUST is worth its weight in gold. It cuts grease and dirt like magic, does away with scouring and scrubbing, and saves time and tempers.

Your servant can do more and better work and keep sweet with the aid of GOLD DUST in all household cleaning.

Government Offers to Mediate Between G. T. And The Men

In Letter to President Hays Hon. Mr. King, Minister of Labor, Tenders His Department's Good Office--Pres. Hays For Arbitration; Men's Officers are Opposed.

THE GRAND TRUNK STRIKE.

STRIKE CALLED—Monday evening, July 18. 9.30 o'clock.

UNIONS INVOLVED—Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, Order Railway Conductors.

NUMBER OF STRIKE—3,850, including 250 on the Vermont Central.

WORKSHOPS CLOSED BY COMPANY AS STRATEGIC MOVE—Point St. Charles, Stratford, London, Port Huron, Battle Creek.

MEN THROWN OUT OF WORK BY CLOSING OF SHOPS—About 6,000.

CAUSE OF STRIKE—Demand of Trainmen and Conductors for rate of wages and conditions of employment that prevail on American railways from Chicago to seaboard. This demand was submitted to a Board of Conciliation under the Lemieux Act, which made a report granting the men 75 per cent of their demands. This award was refused by the unions, who sought a direct conference with President Hays. President Hays offered to accept the Conciliation Committee's award, and in the event of refusal by the men, to submit the points to a board of practical men to arbitrate. This the men refused. President Hays claimed his offer to accept the award guaranteed the men an average of 18 per cent. advance on their present wages. This the men deny.

RESULT—Train service on the Grand Trunk, except in the case of a few through passenger trains, badly demoralized. Company advertisements for men to take the strikers' places.

The locomotive engineers and the railroad telegraphers are not involved in the strike.

Ottawa, July 20.—"If the Grand Trunk Railway Company and the conductors and train and yard men now on strike can come to an agreement already made from both sides, that the matters in dispute be submitted to a board of arbitration, whose findings shall be binding on both sides, then the Government will bear the expense of that arbitration."

"The Department of Labor will assist in the prompt appointment and organization of the board and meanwhile the men might return to work."

Hon. MacKenzie King, Minister of Labor, made above statement today in suggesting what now looks like the most probable way out of the disastrous strike on the Grand Trunk.

BOTH MUST ACCEPT.

Unless, however, both parties agree to the arbitration proposed, the department has no authority to intervene by ordering a new investigation under the old Colonization and Labor Act, as suggested by President Hays in a letter sent to the Minister of Labor last week.

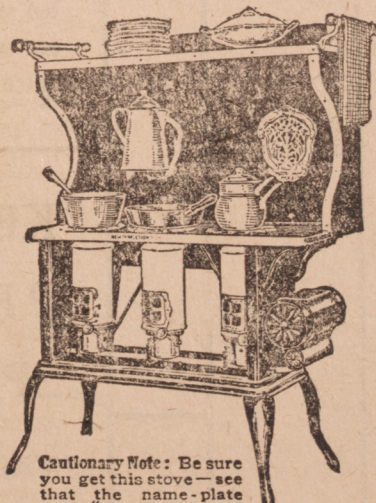

In reply to that letter, Hon. Mr. King wrote in part, as follows:

"Your letter has evidently been written under the impression that the power to refer a dispute to arbitration afforded the Minister by Section 15 of the Conciliation and Labor Act is a power to refer to arbitration in the commonly accepted use of that term, viz.: to a board which will have powers greater than those of investigation merely, and the findings of which will be binding upon the parties. Such a course is not contemplated, or authorized by the Act. Moreover, there is nothing in the Conciliation and Labor Act to ensure a continuance of operations either prior to or during any such reference to arbitration under its provisions. A decision on my part to refer the differences to arbitration under this provision would not therefore, necessarily bind the parties one way or the other, either to accept the finding of the board established, or to delay a strike either prior to or pending the enquiry. This being so, any decision to refer the present dispute under the provisions of the Conciliation and Labor Act would mean nothing more nor less than its reference to a board for the purposes of investigation, a step which has already been taken under the Industrial Disputes Investigation Act."

"But even this step, were it thought desirable, is, I take it, precluded by what was the intention of Parliament at the time of an enactment of the Industrial Disputes Investigation Act. A reference to the debates, not less than to the statute itself, will clearly show that for the purposes of investigation it was to be optional with the parties to industrial dispute to determine under which of the acts proceedings of inquiry were to be conducted—the method of proceeding under the one being different somewhat from that of the other—but it was never contemplated, and indeed, it would be contrary to the spirit of the enactment that one proceedings were taken under one act, similar proceedings should be forthwith taken under the other."

London papers scout the theory that Canada will ever ask annexation with the United States.

"For that reason, I regret that it does not seem to me that I have the requisite authority to take either of the courses suggested by you, nor under the circumstances, do I believe it would be in the public interest to do so. If, however, either the company or its employees can suggest any way in which the good offices of the Government can be further exercised towards mediating the present differences, I shall be pleased to do my utmost to see that they are immediately placed at the service of the parties."

"To Charles M. Hays, Esq., President Grand Trunk Railway System, Montreal."

AWAIT A REPLY.

So far the department has not received any further request for any mediation in the dispute on behalf either of the men or of the company. The men have suggested to Mr. Fitzhugh as a board of arbitrators the same commissioners who settled a similar dispute on the American lines. President Hays has suggested that the board of arbitration should consist of a board of expert railway men. With that the situation at present rests. In case it is agreed to leave the dispute to arbitration, the Department of Labor may be called upon to name the third member of the board.

If desired Hon. Mr. King would go to Montreal to confer with the representatives of the men and of the company.

G. T. P. WILL ACCEPT.

The offer of Hon. MacKenzie King was received with favor by the higher officials of the Grand Trunk this morning.

Confidence was expressed that the chief would accede to it when it was formally put before him. The acceptance of the principle of arbitration in the case of the telegraphers was pointed to as evidence of Mr. Hays willingness to have the matter settled in that manner.

ENOUGH ARBITRATION SAY MEN.

"We're the arbitrators now. There has been sufficient arbitration on the matter already, and I don't think there will be any now," said Vice-President Murdoch, of the Order of Railway Conductors this morning, returning after a conference with the C. P. R. Vice-President Berry, of the B. O. R. T., was of the same opinion. Mr. Murdoch was also of the opinion that there was nothing in the rumors of a sympathetic strike on the C. P. R. Regarding this morning's negotiations with the Canadian Pacific, he said they were in connection with supplementary schedule matters, and he anticipated a satisfactory settlement. The conference will be continued later. He did not look for a complete tie-up of trains on the Grand Trunk and regarding the outcome of the strike, expressed the belief that the railway would come to terms within a short time.

HOWE'S GREAT LONDON SHOWS

No Money Has Been Spared to Make This Show a Complete Success

This year the show has been enlarged so as to rank with any tented organization on the coast. Thousands of dollars have been spent in improving every department.

No one who is not in touch with the great show can form any idea of the immensity of it. It is a small city in itself, constantly on the move but with all kinds of mechanical provisions for its running.

With the monster show are its own minister, surgeon, barbers, blacksmiths, electricians and others.

In the culinary department are employed fifteen cooks and thirty-six waiters, besides assistant cooks, meat cutters and pastry cooks.

A circus is a splendid object lesson in system-perfect system.

This is seen in the unloading of the cars and in every detail of the work. Every man is held responsible for his particular duty.

When Howe's Great London Show exhibits here its well-known coterie of funny fellows, as well as the large number of features which are not allowed to be clowning will attract large crowds to the tents of this popular show.

The big show comes to Fredericton on Wednesday, July 27th. The performance will be given at Scully's Grove.
